NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

CLERK JARVIS of the New York Court of Common Pleas, who was implicated in the Flack scandal, has resigned his office. Flack has neither resigned nor been removed.

THE Pennsylvania Prohibitionists nominated a state ticket yesterday. Notwithstanding the rather discouraging vote last June, these little mutual admiration parties will continue to be held.

SHEEHAN has begun the vindication of his partner, Attorney General Tabor. In a little while Tabor will begin to vindicate Sheehan. It is not known which of the two will have the harder job, but it is feared that neither will survive the effort.

ABE BUZZARD, the outlaw who is "doing time" in the Eastern penitentiary of Pennsylvania, has sent to Judge Livingston of Lancaster a handsome gavel as a token of gratitude for his sentence, by which he has been enabled to learn a valuable trade.

THE Montreal Herald, owned by Hon. Peter Mitchell, late Minister of Marine and Fisheries, advocated a declaration of independence by Canada in a strong editorial yesterday. English indifference to the fishery questions has provoked the outburst. The Herald wishes Canada to be made no longer "the catspaw of imperial politicians."

THE army of London strikers was swelled to 150,000 yesterday. The dock laborers alone formed a procession 100,000 strong. Two hundred and fifty steamers are lying idle in the docks, because there is no help to load their cargoes, and factories employing thousands of hands are closing for lack of coal. Who can conjecture the poverty and misery behind such a movement?

AN agent of the Memphis and Charleston railroad has succeeded in running 3,000 colored people out of the Carolinas to Arkansas, and has now made arrangements to take 8,000 from those states and Georgia into the Yazoo delta and 400 white families to Arkansas. This shifting of the negroes from point to point in the Bourbon South is profitless, as it brings them no nearer independence. They seem to lack the organizing faculty.

S. MASON SMITH of Lee Centre, member of the Democratic State Committee for the twenty-third district, was found in a dying condition yesterday morning near his residence, having fallen or been thrown from his carriage. The horse was standing near. Mr. Smith died about 4 o'clock P. M. There were wounds and bruises on his head and face which created the suspicion of foul play. Mr. Smith had been Supervisor of his town.

BURKE, Coughlin, O'Sullivan and Kunz, four of the Cronin suspects, swore yesterday in their applications for separate trials that they knew absolutely nothing about the murder. This shuts them off from turning state's evidence or becoming witnesses for the prosecution. Beggs and Woodruff avoided this oath, and are therefore in position to turn informers. But Woodruff has lied so continuously that no jury would consent to hang a man on his testimony.

Two negroes were seen hanging to trees near Meridian, Miss., Monday night by trainmen who have arrived at Birmingham over the Great Southern railroad. The men learned that the bodies were those of the editors of the Selma Independent, whose editorial last week advising the whites to leave the South to the blacks was expected to precipitate a "war of races." These wars of races always take a single form. They occur when a black man, running for his life, is overtaken by a party of white men.

HARRY LAWLIN, a printer at Ansonia, Conn., promises to out-champion Steve Brodie as the great American jumper. Yesterday he leaped from the roof of a hotel in that city to the roof of a cigar shop 40 feet below, and then, turning a hand-spring, leaped to the pavement 25 feet farther down. Both times he landed on his feet and suffered no injury. He has apparently discovered the secret of the cat's immunity from harm in leaping great heights, and thinks jumping into the water, where there is nothing to break the fall, is child's play.

NEWBURGH has a new park, not a large one, but beautiful and located on an elevated and sightly spot, to be a breathing place for centuries to come. The Common Council has appropriately given it the name of Downing Park, in honor of Andrew J. and Charles Downing, the former famous as a landscape gardener and the latter as a horticulturist, and both former residents of Newburgh. The noted landscape artists, Messrs. Vaux and Olmstead of New York, have volunteered to furnish plans and designs for the park free of charge. When will the city of Kingston awake to the necessity of a similar provision? Our city is not as compact as Newburgh and there are still a good many open spaces, but all of the eligible lands are being rapidly dotted with residences. Twenty years hence, at our present rate of growth, the necessity for a park here will be as urgent as in Albany or Rochester, where ample provision has been made.

IT was indeed Hon. Robert Ray Hamilton, Member of Assembly, whose wife stabbed her nurse at Atlantic City last Tuesday. The wounded woman was still alive yesterday, but the physicians look for death at any hour. The stabbing occurred in the midst of a raging quarrel, in which it is admitted on both sides that the nurse accused Mrs. Hamilton of unfaithfulness to her husband and called her foul names. The revelations indicate that Mr. Hamilton's domestic arrangements have been rather "off color." His wife had lived with another man without a marriage ceremony before he found her, and is accused of continuing her intimacy with him in Hamilton's absence. Mr. Hamilton refused in court yesterday to give the date of his marriage, though he swore with great positiveness that the prisoner was his lawful wife. Hamilton has shown deep infatuation for the woman, and his honored father, Gen. Schuyler Hamilton, had given her a parent's recognition in the course of his efforts to induce his son to return to New York and settle down. Mrs. Hamilton was committed yesterday without bail to await the result of the wounds. If the nurse dies she is likely to get a sample of Jersey justice.

THE G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

The Address of Commander-In-Chief Warner To-Day.

EDITORIAL CONVENTION.

Speeches Made by Well Known Newspaper Men.

BEAT ITS OWN TIME.

AT THE GRAND ENCAMPMENT TO-DAY.

The Address of Commander-in-Chief Warner—Gain in Membership.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 28.—National Encampment was called to order by Commander-in-Chief Warner at 10:15. After prayer by Chaplain Wharton of the Wisconsin Department. Commander-in-Chief Warner said: "The greatest honor ever conferred upon me was my election as Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic. In taking the obligation of the office I fully realized the importance of the trust you had confided to me, and then highly resolved neither by word nor act to do anything that should drive a deserving comrade from our ranks, and to do all that in me lay to strengthen the silver cords of comradeship that I trust shall ever bind the surviving soldiers and sailors of the Union Army and Navy one to the other as brothers tried. If at the end of my term I am enabled to place in the hands of my successor the banner of our order illuminated with the three great virtues: Fraternity, Charity and Loyalty, my highest ambition will have been gratified. The growth of our organization has been steady and healthy. Strong as it is it has never been and I trust never will be used for partisan purposes, or to gratify the personal ambitions of any man or set of men. The greatest gain during the year has been in the Department of Missouri. Eight departments show a gain in membership in good standing of 15,824, distributed as follows: Illinois, 1,283; Iowa, 1,413; Nebraska, 1,709; Pennsylvania, 1,746; New-York, 1,995; Ohio, 2,003; Wisconsin, 2,023; Missouri, 3,652." He referred briefly to the reports of his staff officers, the decisions of the Judge Advocate General, the completion of a history of the G. A. R., the census of soldiers and sailors, and took up the subject of the Flag and the public schools. He said: "I commend to each Department the patriotic practice of the posts in the Department of New-York of presenting on February 22, the birthday of the Father of his Country, the American Flag to such public schools as are not yet in possession of one. Let the children receive the Stars and Stripes from the men who placed their bodies as a lining wall between it and those who would tear it down. The future citizens of the Republic are being educated in the public schools, the Flag of their Country should ever be before them as an object lesson. From its stars and stripes let them learn the story of liberty as exemplified in the lives of Washington, Lincoln, Grant and the patriotic sons of the Republic who by their valor, suffering and death rendered the imperishable fame of this illustrious trio possible."

In his further remarks the Commander-in-Chief alluded to topics of interest to the Grand Army of the Republic.

NATIONAL EDITORIAL CONVENTION.

Speeches Made by President Bettis and Col. Elliot of "Mail and Express."

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

DETROIT, Aug. 28.—There were 162 delegates at the National Editorial Convention yesterday. At last evening's session President J. R. Bettis delivered the annual address. Mr. Bettis dwelt on the growth of the Association, its objects and the power of the press. His remarks in reference to the annexation of Canada, which he favors as beneficial to all concerned, were received with much applause. He touched upon the present libel law as injurious to the press, and said the influence of the Association would be used to improve matters in that direction. Mr. Bettis suggested that the next annual Convention be held at some Atlantic Coast city. Colonel Elliot F. Shephard, of the New-York Mail and Express, delivered an address of some length upon "Editorial Philosophy." His remarks were received with frequent applause. He spoke of the great power of the press and how kindly, ably, independently and patriotically it ought to be used. Mr. Shephard mentioned the Southern question, saying that intelligent and timely discussion of the Negro question by the free press of this country will prepare the way for a peaceable settlement of that an equitable [illegible] there been such a discussion question. Had [illegible] save been no war, in 1860 there would [illegible]

Important Industrial Resumption.

By Telegraph to The Freeman

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 28.—This morning, after being shut down for 16 years, the Ironton Pig Iron Works, with a capacity of 120 tons of iron per day, located a few miles north of this place, on the Niagara River, was started up by Cincinnati parties, who have leased the plant for five years, with the privilege of purchase. The furnace was started by Marjorie Brown, the two-year-old daughter of the Vice-President. The plant originally cost $500,000 and has been put in thorough working order.

No Foul Play in S. M. Smith's Case.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

UTICA, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Investigations made to-day do not indicate that there was any foul play connected with the death of of Democratic State Committeeman S. Mason Smith, who was found in the road near Rome in an insensible condition yesterday morning and died last evening. He evidently suffered from an apoplectic fit and the bruise on his face was caused by his fall from the carriage

Prize Fighters Arraigned in Court.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

TROY, N. Y., Aug. 28.—The prize-fighter Joseph Murray, of New-York, knocked out at Cohoes yesterday morning by Kennard, the "St. Paul Kid," was arraigned this morning with his trainer, John Toohey, in Recorder McElwain's Court, at Cohoes. The defendants waived examination, and the case was held for the action of the Grand Jury.

The four-oared barge crews of the Active and Atlantic Boat Clubs, of Hoboken, will probably have a match race over the Guttenburg course before the boating season is at an end.

At Newport, R. I., to-day H. W. Slocum, Jr., beat Q. A. Shaw, Jr., 6—3, 6—1, 4—6, 6—2, and won the amateur championship of America for 1889.

GENERAL WHEELING NOTES.

W. D. Banker, the Pittsburg bicyclist, has accepted the challenge of Hal Greenwood, of St. Louis, for a hill-climbing contest for the championship of the world, the conditions to be as follows: The loser to pay all railroad fare and hotel expenses of winner to and from the place of contest, and to purchase a $50 gold medal, properly inscribed. Contests to take place, one in St. Louis, one in Pittsburg and one on some neutral ground mutually satisfactory, and contests to take place in the latter part of September.

A. B. Willmott and A. B. Wells of Cincinnati, wheeled through St. Catharine's, Ontario, yesterday morning bound for Toronto. They wheeled from Cincinnati by easy stages, having left home about a week ago.

DOINGS OF THE OHIO DEMOCRATS.

Hon. James T. Campbell Nominated as Candidate for Governor To-Day.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

DAYTON, Ohio, Aug. 28.—The Democratic Convention was called to order at 10 o'clock. After prayer Dr. Norton made a brief address outlining the purposes of the convention. He made his speech the vehicle for a caustic criticism of the Republican party, and especially of Governor Foraker, the candidate of that party for re-election. This was followed by a eulogy of the Democratic party and its principles. His allusion to Grover Cleveland "as the noblest and greatest of living Democrats" was marked by long, continued applause. The Committee on Credentials reported no contest but that Lucas County was represented by a mass delegation in accordance with the action of the Executive Committee whose vote in convention should be an aggregate of 17 votes. Hon. M. D. Harter, of Richland County, was elected Permanent President and Lewis G. Bernard, of Hamilton County, Secretary. Mr. Harter made a very lengthy speech, covering nearly all the points at issue between the parties. The Hon. John A. McMahon made the report of the Committee on Resolutions, prefacing it with the statement that it was not a compromise, but was unanimously adopted, and that the Committee was fully agreed that there should be no backward step in the matter of tariff reform.

The platform adopted approves of the principles laid down by the National Democracy in St. Louis, in 1888, as regards the tariff, taxes, etc.

On the second ballot the total vote cast was 789½, of which Campbell received 397½, Neal 299, Kline 93. This nominated Campbell.

RAGING FOREST FIRES IN MONTANA.

Saw-Mills and the Homes of Ranchmen Being Wiped Out; Narrow Escapes.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

HELENA, Mont., Aug. 28.—Colorado Gulch, which extends into Helena and is heavily timbered, is on fire 12 miles from here and the flames are progressing in this direction. The fire started about noon yesterday. In the gulch were a number of saw-mills, the most extensive being that of Sturrick & Brown. These were quickly wiped out as well as the homes of several ranchers. Ten men started to fell the timber in the hope of arresting the fire. They were soon surrounded by flames and barely escaped, all having their hair singed and their clothing burned so that it fell off. The fire is traveling toward Chinatown, swept by a strong wind. The air is full of cinders, and the heavens south and east of the City present a lurid appearance.

Novelties in Jewelry.

Twisted silver wire tops, fashioned into small diamonds, are noticed on tortoise shell side combs.

A favorite side-comb ornamentation consists of small gold loops, each enclosing a diamond.

As quaint a conceit as is imaginable is a silver plume curved round gracefully as a buckle.

A cluster of small diamonds in a sapphire triangle is a rich and artistic ring-setting.

Oxidized silver rose-jars, gotten up to simulate the antique, are much affected.

Frosted gold circular cuff-buttons, with diamond centres, are seen again.

Opaque amber figures prominently in hair-pin decorations.

Latest indications point toward a boom in garnet jewelry.

London Strike May be Arbitrated.

TROY, Aug. 28.—Officer Patrick Connors was arrested this afternoon on a charge of murder in the first degree. He is accused of killing Michael Manton, July 27, by striking him on the head with his club.

THE AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION.

Twelfth Annual Meeting Now Being Held in Chicago—Speeches Made.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—The American Bar Association began its first annual session on this side of the Alleghenies at 10 o'clock this morning, in this City, with a large attendance. The meeting was called to order by Hon. Lyman Trumbull, who said: "The American Bar Association, which is about to hold its twelfth annual meeting in this hall, is composed of members from all the states of the Union, among whom are many of the most eminent of the legal profession. The Association has for its object the maintenance of the honor of the profession, the promotion of social intercourse among its members, the advancement of justice and uniformity of legislation throughout the United States upon certain subjects of a general character, which are common to all the states. The meetings of the Association have hitherto been held at Saratoga, the seat of fashion and social intercourse, and at this the first annual meeting of the Association elsewhere, it has been thought proper by the Bar Association of this City and the Illinois State Bar Association to tender the members of the American Association a cordial welcome to this great center of commerce and business activity. In pursuance of this understanding I now have the honor to present to the Presidents of the Chicago and State Bar Associations the President of the State Bar Association, my youthful friend, the Hon. David Dudley Field, of New-York." Following this formal introduction addresses of welcome to the American Bar Association were delivered by Francis Lockner, on behalf of the Illinois State Bar Association, and by Ethelbert Callahan, on behalf of the Chicago Bar Association. To these the Hon. David Dudley Field responded in behalf of the American Bar Association. Mr. Field then delivered an address to the National Association as its President.

QUICK TRIP OF THE CITY OF PARIS.

Steamer Came From Queenstown in 5 Days, 19 Hours and 18 Minutes.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Aug. 28.—The steamship City of Paris has broken the record again, beating its own best time from Queenstown by three hours and 49 minutes. Its actual time [reckoning by Greenwich time] from Queenstown to Sandy Hook light ship was five days, 19 hours and 18 minutes. It left Queenstown at 2:09 [Greenwich time] on Friday. There was a fresh breeze, but the weather was cloudy. Its run for the first day was 432 miles. Saturday there was a fresh breeze, with a head swell, and 493 miles were covered. The breeze was moderate on Sunday, with light winds, and 502 miles were covered. The same kind of weather was encountered Monday but the steamer increased its speed to 506 miles. Tuesday the breeze freshened and 509 miles were covered. The run from 2:09 [Greenwich time] yesterday afternoon to 9:27 A. M. [same time to Sandy Hook lightship] was 346 miles. The total distance traveled was 2,788 miles. Among the passengers were Russell B. Harrison, Andrew Carnegie and John A. Kasson. Captain Frederick Watkins was in charge of the vessel.

A number of distinguished gentlemen boarded the steamer Laura M. Starin at the foot of West Twenty first street early this morning, but upon extending a welcome to Russell B. Harrison. It was the intention of the excursionists to meet Mr. Harrison down the Bay, but the City of Paris stole a march on them and they had to be satisfied with meeting Mr. Harrison at the dock. W. J. Arkell welcomed Mr. Harrison on behalf of the party. Mr. Harrison then entered a carriage with Mr. Arkell and drove to the Judge building.

In the World of Art.

A pack of cards is noticed in the Pall Mall Gazette which belongs to minor works of art. For each card a scene in the reign of Queen Anne was engraved, such as the victories of Marlborough, the naval battles of Admiral Benbow, treaties, and remarkable events of the period. Anne's portrait figures for the Queen of Hearts; that of Anna Sophia of Denmark for the Queen of Diamonds. "The Knaves were the leading politicians of the day." No other specimen of this pack is supposed to exist, and at a sale in Birmingham recently it brought $185.

In the Catholic World for September is a paper by W. Nemos on "Clues to Ancient American Architecture," which is chiefly valuable as one more protest against the sweeping generalizations made by students of certain parts of the ancient American field who apply their conclusions to the entire Indian race before they have learned all there is to know. The writer handles English like a foreigner, and some of his theories on decorative designs found in Yucatan will be difficult of proof.

In their "Histoire de la Ceramique Grecque" Messrs. Rayet and Collignon mention a vase on which Pallas Athene is depicted entering the workshop and offering a crown to a painter, while her attendant follows with a wreath. One female and two male artists are seen painting vases diligently, holding their pencils daggerwise, as the Japanese do.

THE STOCK AND MONEY MARKET.

Financial Doings on Wall-Street To-Day—The Closing Quotations.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Aug. 28.—The stock market this morning opened with more animation than on any day for a long time, but the usual dullness followed. Rock Island, Atchison, Burlington & Quincy, St. Paul and a few others monopolized the business done while the general list was dull and uninteresting. Rock Island crossed par and Jersey Central reached 116. New-England later developed marked strength and moved up nearly 1 point to 51½, but seemed to have no effect upon the remainder of the list, though at 11 o'clock the market was quiet and firm.

THE CEILING CONSPIRACY.

What Attorney General Says In Reference to Prosecution.

ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE

A. Klahre, the Tinsmith Who Identified Martin Burke.

MORE ABOUT BOULANGER.

NEW CAPITOL CEILING CONSPIRACY.

What Attorney General Tabor Has to Say in Regard to Prosecutions.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Attorney General Tabor to-day, when asked as to the truth of the report that he intended to begin legal proceedings against Contractors Snaith and Sullivan and ex-Superintendent of Public Buildings Charles B. Andrews, for conspiracy in connection with the New Assembly Ceiling, and that the evidence in his possession would be laid before the Albany Grand Jury, said the Special Investigating Committee last winter called "the Fish Committee" recommended that the District Attorney of Albany County lay the evidence taken by the Committee before the Grand Jury, that proper indictments might be found against the parties who defrauded the State. In such a proceeding the District Attorney will have full power to call witnesses and examine and to compel the production of books, papers and telegrams; no question of jurisdiction can be raised, as was done, as to the power of the Committee, before Justice Mayham. "I have no doubt that District Attorney Riley intends to comply with the request of the Committee," the Attorney General said. If sufficient evidence can be obtained to procure indictments, civil proceedings will be commenced at once by the Attorney General. There is no doubt there will be additional evidence to that of last winter, the nature of which cannot of course now be disclosed. The Attorney-General will, if requested, give any assistance he may be able to to the District Attorney. Mr. Tabor declined to say whether any civil action will be commenced before the Grand Jury meets. The Grand Jury meets for the Court of Sessions September 11, and for the Oyer and Terminer October 7.

ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE KLAHRE.

The Tinsmith who Identified One of the Alleged Cronin Murderers.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—A desperate attempt was made last night to assassinate Augustus Klahre, the tinsmith who last week identified Martin Burke as the man for whom he soldered together a tin box May 6, which it is supposed contained the clothing of Dr. Cronin. At 9 o'clock he was walking eastward to his home on Ohio street. When within a block of his home he was assaulted by 10 or 12 young men. They knocked him down, beat him about the head with some blunt instrument and threw him over a low fence to the ground below, a distance of 12 feet. He struggled to his feet, calling for help and ran toward home. His brother and the servant girl heard his screams and ran toward him. His assailants sprang over the fence after him and pursued him almost to his door. His mother heard one of the pursuers shout with an Irish brogue: "Give it to him." That remark is the only clue to the identity of the assailants. Klahre fell as he entered the door, and became unconscious before anything could be learned from him as to the assault, and up to a late hour he was still unable to speak or recognize any one.

This is an article that we have sold ever since we have been in business and is quite an important part of our stock. We sell only two grades—the very best grade of live geese feathers and a common mixed grade. Our best grade is the very best made in this country and we charge 5 cents per pound more for these goods than other dealers for the reason that we pay more for them, and feel satisfied that most people would prefer to pay a trifle more when they know they are getting the best that can be had.

NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

CLERK JARVIS of the New York Court of Common Pleas, who was implicated in the Flack scandal, has resigned his office. Flack has neither resigned nor been removed.

THE Pennsylvania Prohibitionists nominated a state ticket yesterday. Notwithstanding the rather discouraging vote last June, these little mutual admiration parties will continue to be held.

SHEEHAN has begun the vindication of his partner, Attorney General Tabor. In a little while Tabor will begin to vindicate Sheehan. It is not known which of the two will have the harder job, but it is feared that neither will survive the effort.

ABE BUZZARD, the outlaw who is "doing time" in the Eastern penitentiary of Pennsylvania, has sent to Judge Livingston of Lancaster a handsome gavel as a token of gratitude for his sentence, by which he has been enabled to learn a valuable trade.

THE Montreal Herald, owned by Hon. Peter Mitchell, late Minister of Marine and Fisheries, advocated a declaration of independence by Canada in a strong editorial yesterday. English indifference to the fishery questions has provoked the outburst. The Herald wishes Canada to be made no longer "the catspaw of imperial politicians."

THE army of London strikers was swelled to 150,000 yesterday. The dock laborers alone formed a procession 100,000 strong. Two hundred and fifty steamers are lying idle in the docks, because there is no help to load their cargoes, and factories employing thousands of hands are closing for lack of coal. Who can conjecture the poverty and misery behind such a movement?

AN agent of the Memphis and Charleston railroad has succeeded in running 3,000 colored people out of the Carolinas to Arkansas, and has now made arrangements to take 8,000 from those states and Georgia into the Yazoo delta and 400 white families to Arkansas. This shifting of the negroes from point to point in the Bourbon South is profitless, as it brings them no nearer independence. They seem to lack the organizing faculty.

S. MASON SMITH of Lee Centre, member of the Democratic State Committee for the twenty-third district, was found in a dying condition yesterday morning near his residence, having fallen or been thrown from his carriage. The horse was standing near. Mr. Smith died about 4 o'clock P. M. There were wounds and bruises on his head and face which created the suspicion of foul play. Mr. Smith had been Supervisor of his town.

BURKE, Coughlin, O'Sullivan and Kunz, four of the Cronin suspects, swore yesterday in their applications for separate trials that they knew absolutely nothing about the murder. This shuts them off from turning state's evidence or becoming witnesses for the prosecution. Beggs and Woodruff avoided this oath, and are therefore in position to turn informers. But Woodruff has lied so continuously that no jury would consent to hang a man on his testimony.

Two negroes were seen hanging to trees near Meridian, Miss., Monday night by trainmen who have arrived at Birmingham over the Great Southern railroad. The men learned that the bodies were those of the editors of the Selma Independent, whose editorial last week advising the whites to leave the South to the blacks was expected to precipitate a "war of races." These wars of races always take a single form. They occur when a black man, running for his life, is overtaken by a party of white men.

HARRY LAWLIN, a printer at Ansonia, Conn., promises to out-champion Steve Brodie as the great American jumper. Yesterday he leaped from the roof of a hotel in that city to the roof of a cigar shop 40 feet below, and then, turning a hand-spring, leaped to the pavement 25 feet farther down. Both times he landed on his feet and suffered no injury. He has apparently discovered the secret of the cat's immunity from harm in leaping great heights, and thinks jumping into the water, where there is nothing to break the fall, is child's play.

NEWBURGH has a new park, not a large one, but beautiful and located on an elevated and sightly spot, to be a breathing place for centuries to come. The Common Council has appropriately given it the name of Downing Park, in honor of Andrew J. and Charles Downing, the former famous as a landscape gardener and the latter as a horticulturist, and both former residents of Newburgh. The noted landscape artists, Messrs. Vaux and Olmstead of New York, have volunteered to furnish plans and designs for the park free of charge. When will the city of Kingston awake to the necessity of a similar provision? Our city is not as compact as Newburgh and there are still a good many open spaces, but all of the eligible lands are being rapidly dotted with residences. Twenty years hence, at our present rate of growth, the necessity for a park here will be as urgent as in Albany or Rochester, where ample provision has been made.

IT was indeed Hon. Robert Ray Hamilton, Member of Assembly, whose wife stabbed her nurse at Atlantic City last Tuesday. The wounded woman was still alive yesterday, but the physicians look for death at any hour. The stabbing occurred in the midst of a raging quarrel, in which it is admitted on both sides that the nurse accused Mrs. Hamilton of unfaithfulness to her husband and called her foul names. The revelations indicate that Mr. Hamilton's domestic arrangements have been rather "off color." His wife had lived with another man without a marriage ceremony before he found her, and is accused of continuing her intimacy with him in Hamilton's absence. Mr. Hamilton refused in court yesterday to give the date of his marriage, though he swore with great positiveness that the prisoner was his lawful wife. Hamilton has shown deep infatuation for the woman, and his honored father, Gen. Schuyler Hamilton, had given her a parent's recognition in the course of his efforts to induce his son to return to New York and settle down. Mrs. Hamilton was committed yesterday without bail to await the result of the wounds. If the nurse dies she is likely to get a sample of Jersey justice.

THE G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

The Address of Commander-In-Chief Warner To-Day.

EDITORIAL CONVENTION.

Speeches Made by Well Known Newspaper Men.

BEAT ITS OWN TIME.

AT THE GRAND ENCAMPMENT TO-DAY.

The Address of Commander-in-Chief Warner—Gain in Membership.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 28.—National Encampment was called to order by Commander-in-Chief Warner at 10:15. After prayer by Chaplain Wharton of the Wisconsin Department. Commander-in-Chief Warner said: "The greatest honor ever conferred upon me was my election as Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic. In taking the obligation of the office I fully realized the importance of the trust you had confided to me, and then highly resolved neither by word nor act to do anything that should drive a deserving comrade from our ranks, and to do all that in me lay to strengthen the silver cords of comradeship that I trust shall ever bind the surviving soldiers and sailors of the Union Army and Navy one to the other as brothers tried. If at the end of my term I am enabled to place in the hands of my successor the banner of our order illuminated with the three great virtues: Fraternity, Charity and Loyalty, my highest ambition will have been gratified. The growth of our organization has been steady and healthy. Strong as it is it has never been and I trust never will be used for partisan purposes, or to gratify the personal ambitions of any man or set of men. The greatest gain during the year has been in the Department of Missouri. Eight departments show a gain in membership in good standing of 15,824, distributed as follows: Illinois, 1,283; Iowa, 1,413; Nebraska, 1,709; Pennsylvania, 1,746; New-York, 1,995; Ohio, 2,003; Wisconsin, 2,023; Missouri, 3,652." He referred briefly to the reports of his staff officers, the decisions of the Judge Advocate General, the completion of a history of the G. A. R., the census of soldiers and sailors, and took up the subject of the Flag and the public schools. He said: "I commend to each Department the patriotic practice of the posts in the Department of New-York of presenting on February 22, the birthday of the Father of his Country, the American Flag to such public schools as are not yet in possession of one. Let the children receive the Stars and Stripes from the men who placed their bodies as a lining wall between it and those who would tear it down. The future citizens of the Republic are being educated in the public schools, the Flag of their Country should ever be before them as an object lesson. From its stars and stripes let them learn the story of liberty as exemplified in the lives of Washington, Lincoln, Grant and the patriotic sons of the Republic who by their valor, suffering and death rendered the imperishable fame of this illustrious trio possible."

In his further remarks the Commander-in-Chief alluded to topics of interest to the Grand Army of the Republic.

NATIONAL EDITORIAL CONVENTION.

Speeches Made by President Bettis and Col. Elliot of "Mail and Express."

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

DETROIT, Aug. 28.—There were 162 delegates at the National Editorial Convention yesterday. At last evening's session President J. R. Bettis delivered the annual address. Mr. Bettis dwelt on the growth of the Association, its objects and the power of the press. His remarks in reference to the annexation of Canada, which he favors as beneficial to all concerned, were received with much applause. He touched upon the present libel law as injurious to the press, and said the influence of the Association would be used to improve matters in that direction. Mr. Bettis suggested that the next annual Convention be held at some Atlantic Coast city. Colonel Elliot F. Shephard, of the New-York Mail and Express, delivered an address of some length upon "Editorial Philosophy." His remarks were received with frequent applause. He spoke of the great power of the press and how kindly, ably, independently and patriotically it ought to be used. Mr. Shephard mentioned the Southern question, saying that intelligent and timely discussion of the Negro question by the free [illegible] this country will prepare the way for [illegible] and peaceable settlement of that an equitable [illegible] been such a discussion question. Had [illegible] have been no war, in 1860 there would [illegible]

Important Industrial Resumption.

By Telegraph to The Freeman

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 28.—This morning, after being shut down for 16 years, the Ironton Pig Iron Works, with a capacity of 120 tons of iron per day, located a few miles north of this place, on the Niagara River, was started up by Cincinnati parties, who have leased the plant for five years, with the privilege of purchase. The furnace was started by Marjorie Brown, the two-year-old daughter of the Vice-President. The plant originally cost $500,000 and has been put in thorough working order.

No Foul Play in S. M. Smith's Case.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

UTICA, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Investigations made to-day do not indicate that there was any foul play connected with the death of of Democratic State Committeeman S. Mason Smith, who was found in the road near Rome in an insensible condition yesterday morning and died last evening. He evidently suffered from an apoplectic fit and the bruise on his face was caused by his fall from the carriage

Prize Fighters Arraigned in Court.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

TROY, N. Y., Aug. 28.—The prize-fighter Joseph Murray, of New-York, knocked out at Cohoes yesterday morning by Kennard, the "St. Paul Kid," was arraigned this morning with his trainer, John Toohey, in Recorder McElwain's Court, at Cohoes. The defendants waived examination, and the case was held for the action of the Grand Jury.

The four oared barge crews of the Active and Atlantic Boat Clubs, of Hoboken, will probably have a match race over the Gutteburg course before the boating season is at an end.

At Newport, R. I., to-day H. W. Slocum, Jr., beat Q. A. Shaw, Jr., 6—3, 6—1, 4—6, 6—2, and won the amateur championship of America for 1889.

GENERAL WHEELING NOTES.

W. D. Banker, the Pittsburg bicyclist, has accepted the challenge of Hal Greenwood, of St. Louis, for a hill-climbing contest for the championship of the world, the conditions to be as follows: The loser to pay all railroad fare and hotel expenses of winner to and from the place of contest, and to purchase a $50 gold medal, properly inscribed. Contests to take place, one in St. Louis, one in Pittsburg and one on some neutral ground mutually satisfactory, and contests to take place in the latter part of September.

A. B. Willmott and A. B. Wells of Cincinnati, wheeled through St. Catharine's, Ontario, yesterday morning bound for Toronto. They wheeled from Cincinnati by easy stages, having left home about a week ago.

DOINGS OF THE OHIO DEMOCRATS.

Hon. James T. Campbell Nominated as Candidate for Governor To-Day.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

DAYTON, Ohio, Aug. 28.—The Democratic Convention was called to order at 10 o'clock. After prayer Dr. Norton made a brief address outlining the purposes of the convention. He made his speech the vehicle for a caustic criticism of the Republican party, and especially of Governor Foraker, the candidate of that party for re-election. This was followed by a eulogy of the Democratic party and its principles. His allusion to Grover Cleveland "as the noblest and greatest of living Democrats" was marked by long, continued applause. The Committee on Credentials reported no contest but that Lucas County was represented by a mass delegation in accordance with the action of the Executive Committee whose vote in convention should be an aggregate of 17 votes. Hon. M. D. Harter, of Richland County, was elected Permanent President and Lewis G. Bernard, of Hamilton County, Secretary.

Mr. Harter made a very lengthy speech, covering nearly all the points at issue between the parties. The Hon. John A. McMahon made the report of the Committee on Resolutions, prefacing it with the statement that it was not a compromise, but was unanimously adopted, and that the Committee was fully agreed that there should be no backward step in the matter of tariff reform.

The platform adopted approves of the principles laid down by the National Democracy in St. Louis, in 1888, as regards the tariff, taxes, etc.

On the second ballot the total vote cast was 789½, of which Campbell received 397½, Neal 299, Kline 93. This nominated Campbell.

RAGING FOREST FIRES IN MONTANA.

Saw-Mills and the Homes of Ranchmen Being Wiped Out; Narrow Escapes.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

HELENA, Mont., Aug. 28.—Colorado Gulch, which extends into Helena and is heavily timbered, is on fire 12 miles from here and the flames are progressing in this direction. The fire started about noon yesterday. In the gulch were a number of sawmills, the most extensive being that of Sturrick & Brown. These were quickly wiped out [illegible] as well as the homes of several ranchers. Ten men started to fell the timber in the hope of arresting the fire. They were soon surrounded by flames and barely escaped, all having their hair singed and their clothing burned so that it fell o[illegible]. The fire is traveling toward Chinatown, sweeping by a strong wind. The air is full of cinders, and the heavens south and east of the City present a lurid appearance.

Novelties in Jewelry.

Twisted silver wire tops, fashioned into small diamonds, are noticed on tortoise shell side combs.

A favorite side-comb ornamentation consists of small gold loops, each enclosing a diamond.

As quaint a conceit as is imaginable is a silver plume curved round gracefully as a buckle.

A cluster of small diamonds in a sapphire triangle is a rich and artistic ring-setting.

Oxidized silver rose-jars, gotten up to simulate the antique, are much affected.

Frosted gold circular cuff-buttons, with diamond centres, are seen again.

Opaque amber figures prominently in hair-pin decorations.

Latest indications point toward a boom in garnet jewelry.

TROY, Aug. 28.—Officer Patrick Connors was arrested this afternoon on a charge of murder in the first degree. He is accused of killing Michael Manton, July 27, by striking him on the head with his club.

THE AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION.

Twelfth Annual Meeting Now Being Held in Chicago—Speeches Made.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—The American Bar Association began its first annual session on this side of the Alleghenies at 10 o'clock this morning in this City, with a large attendance. The meeting was called to order by Hon. Lyman Trumbull, who said: "The American Bar Association, which is about to hold its twelfth annual meeting in this hall, is composed of members from all the states of the Union, among whom are many of the most eminent of the legal profession. The Association has for its object the maintenance of the honor of the profession, the promotion of social intercourse among its members, the advancement of justice and uniformity of legislation throughout the United States upon certain subjects of a general character, which are common to all the states. The meetings of the Association have hitherto been held at Saratoga, the seat of fashion and social intercourse, and at this the first annual meeting of the Association elsewhere, it has been thought proper by the Bar Association of this City and the Illinois State Bar Association to tender the members of the American Association a cordial welcome to this great center of commerce and business activity. In pursuance of this understanding I now have the honor to present to the Presidents of the Chicago and State Bar Associations the President of the State Bar Association, my youthful friend, the Hon. David Dudley Field, of New-York." Following this formal introduction addresses of welcome to the American Bar Association were delivered by Francis Lockner, on behalf of the Illinois State Bar Association, and by Ethelbert Callahan, on behalf of the Chicago Bar Association. To these the Hon. David Dudley Field responded in behalf of the American Bar Association. Mr. Field then delivered an address to the National Association as its President.

QUICK TRIP OF THE CITY OF PARIS.

Steamer Came From Queenstown in 5 Days, 19 Hours and 18 Minutes.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Aug. 28.—The steamship City of Paris has broken the record again, beating its own best time from Queenstown by three hours and 49 minutes. Its actual time [reckoning by Greenwich time] from Queenstown to Sandy Hook light ship was five days, 19 hours and 18 minutes. It left Queenstown at 2:09 [Greenwich time] on Friday. There was a fresh breeze, but the weather was cloudy. Its run for the first day was 432 miles. Saturday there was a fresh breeze, with a head swell, and 493 miles were covered. The breeze was moderate on Sunday, with light winds, and 502 miles were covered. The same kind of weather was encountered Monday but the steamer increased its speed to 506 miles. Tuesday the breeze freshened and 509 miles were covered. The run from 2:09 [Greenwich time] yesterday afternoon to 9:27 A. M. [same time to Sandy Hook lightship] was 346 miles. The total distance traveled was 2,788 miles. Among the passengers were Russell B. Harrison, Andrew Carnegie and John A. Kasson. Captain Frederick Watkins was in charge of the vessel.

A number of distinguished gentlemen boarded the steamer Laura M. Starin at the foot of West Twenty-first street early this morning, bent upon extending a welcome to Russell B. Harrison. It was the intention of the excursionists to meet Mr. Harrison down the Bay, but the City of Paris stole a march on them and they had to be satisfied with meeting Mr. Harrison at the dock. W. J. Arkell welcomed Mr. Harrison on behalf of the party. Mr. Harrison then entered a carriage with Mr. Arkell and drove to the Judge building.

In the World of Art.

A pack of cards is noticed in the Pall Mall Gazette which belongs to minor works of art. For each card a scene in the reign of Queen Anne was engraved, such as the victories of Marlborough, the naval battles of Admiral Benbow, treaties, and remarkable events of the period. Anne's portrait figures for the Queen of Hearts; that of Anna Sophia of Denmark for the Queen of Diamonds. "The Knaves were the leading politicians of the day." No other specimen of this pack is supposed to exist, and at a sale in Birmingham recently it brought $185.

In the Catholic World for September is a paper by W. Nemos on "Clues to Ancient American Architecture," which is chiefly valuable as one more protest against the sweeping generalizations made by students of certain parts of the ancient American field who apply their conclusions to the entire Indian race before they have learned all there is to know. The writer handles English like a foreigner, and some of his theories on decorative designs found in Yucatan will be difficult of proof.

In their "Histoire de la Ceramique Grecque" Messrs. Rayet and Collignon mention a vase on which Pallas Athene is depicted entering the workshop and offering a crown to a painter, while her attendant follows with a wreath. One female and two male artists are seen painting vases diligently, holding their pencils daggerwise, as the Japanese do.

THE STOCK AND MONEY MARKET.

Financial Doings on Wall-Street To-Day—The Closing Quotations.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Aug. 28.—The stock market this morning opened with more animation than on any day for a long time, but the usual dullness followed. Rock Island, Atchison, Burlington & Quincy, St. Paul and a few others monopolized the business done while the general list was dull and uninteresting. Rock Island crossed par and Jersey Central reached 116. New-England later developed marked strength and moved up nearly 1 point to 51½, but seemed to have no effect upon the remainder of the list, though at 11 o'clock the market was quiet and firm.

THE CEILING CONSPIRACY.

What Attorney General Says In Reference to Prosecution.

ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE

A. Klahre, the Tinsmith Who Identified Martin Burke.

MORE ABOUT BOULANGER.

NEW CAPITOL CEILING CONSPIRACY.

What Attorney General Tabor Has to Say in Regard to Prosecutions.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Attorney General Tabor to-day, when asked as to the truth of the report that he intended to begin legal proceedings against Contractors Snaith and Sullivan and ex-Superintendent of Public Buildings Charles B. Andrews, for conspiracy in connection with the New Assembly Ceiling, and that the evidence in his possession would be laid before the Albany Grand Jury, said the Special Investigating Committee last winter called "the Fish Committee" recommended that the District Attorney of Albany County lay the evidence taken by the Committee before the Grand Jury, that proper indictments might be found against the parties who defrauded the State. In such a proceeding the District Attorney will have full power to call witnesses and examine and to compel the production of books, papers and telegrams; no question of jurisdiction can be raised, as was done, as to the power of the Committee, before Justice Mayham. "I have no doubt that District Attorney Riley intends to comply with the request of the Committee," the Attorney General said. If sufficient evidence can be obtained to procure indictments, civil proceedings will be commenced at once by the Attorney General. There is no doubt there will be additional evidence to that of last winter, the nature of which cannot of course now be disclosed. The Attorney-General will, if requested, give any assistance he may be able to to the District Attorney. Mr. Tabor declined to say whether any civil action will be commenced before the Grand Jury meets. The Grand Jury meets for the Court of Sessions September 11, and for the Oyer and Terminer October 7.

ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE KLAHRE.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—A desperate attempt was made last night to assassinate Augustus Klahre, the tinsmith who last week identified Martin Burke as the man for whom he soldered together a tin box May 6, which it is supposed contained the clothing of Dr. Cronin. At 9 o'clock he was walking eastward to his home on Ohio street. When within a block of his home he was assaulted by 10 or 12 young men. They knocked him down, beat him about the head with some blunt instrument and threw him over a low fence to the ground below, a distance of 12 feet. He struggled to his feet, calling for help and ran toward home. His brother and the servant girl heard his screams and ran toward him. His assailants sprang over the fence after him and pursued him almost to his door. His mother heard one of the pursuers shout with an Irish brogue: "Give it to him." That remark is the only clue to the identity of the assailants. Klahre fell as he entered the door, and became unconscious before anything could be learned from him as to the assault, and up to a late hour he was still unable to speak or recognize any one.

This is an article that we have sold ever since we have been in business and is quite an important part of our stock. We sell only two grades—the very best grade of live geese feathers and a common mixed grade. Our best grade is the very best made in this country and we charge 5 cents per pound more for these goods than other dealers for the reason that we pay more for them, and feel satisfied that most people would prefer to pay a trifle more when they know they are getting the best that can be had.

NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

CLERK JARVIS of the New York Court of Common Pleas, who was implicated in the Flack scandal, has resigned his office. Flack has neither resigned nor been removed.

THE Pennsylvania Prohibitionists nominated a state ticket yesterday. Notwithstanding the rather discouraging vote last June, these little mutual admiration parties will continue to be held.

SHEEHAN has begun the vindication of his partner, Attorney General Tabor. In a little while Tabor will begin to vindicate Sheehan. It is not known which of the two will have the harder job, but it is feared that neither will survive the effort.

ABE BUZZARD, the outlaw who is "doing time" in the Eastern penitentiary of Pennsylvania, has sent to Judge Livingston of Lancaster a handsome gavel as a token of gratitude for his sentence, by which he has been enabled to learn a valuable trade.

THE Montreal Herald, owned by Hon. Peter Mitchell, late Minister of Marine and Fisheries, advocated a declaration of independence by Canada in a strong editorial yesterday. English indifference to the fishery questions has provoked the outburst. The Herald wishes Canada to be made no longer "the catspaw of imperial politicians."

THE army of London strikers was swelled to 150,000 yesterday. The dock laborers alone formed a procession 100,000 strong. Two hundred and fifty steamers are lying idle in the docks, because there is no help to load their cargoes, and factories employing thousands of hands are closing for lack of coal. Who can conjecture the poverty and misery behind such a movement?

AN agent of the Memphis and Charleston railroad has succeeded in running 3,000 colored people out of the Carolinas to Arkansas, and has now made arrangements to take 8,000 from those states and Georgia into the Yazoo delta and 400 white families to Arkansas. This shifting of the negroes from point to point in the Bourbon South is profitless, as it brings them no nearer independence. They seem to lack the organizing faculty.

S. MASON SMITH of Lee Centre, member of the Democratic State Committee for the twenty-third district, was found in a dying condition yesterday morning near his residence, having fallen or been thrown from his carriage. The horse was standing near. Mr. Smith died about 4 o'clock P. M. There were wounds and bruises on his head and face which created the suspicion of foul play. Mr. Smith had been Supervisor of his town.

BURKE, Coughlin, O'Sullivan and Kunz, four of the Cronin suspects, swore yesterday in their applications for separate trials that they knew absolutely nothing about the murder. This shuts them off from turning state's evidence or becoming witnesses for the prosecution. Beggs and Woodruff avoided this oath, and are therefore in position to turn informers. But Woodruff has lied so continuously that no jury would consent to hang a man on his testimony.

Two negroes were seen hanging to trees near Meridian, Miss., Monday night by trainmen who have arrived at Birmingham over the Great Southern railroad. The men learned that the bodies were those of the editors of the Selma Independent, whose editorial last week advising the whites to leave the South to the blacks was expected to precipitate a "war of races." These wars of races always take a single form. They occur when a black man, running for his life, is overtaken by a party of white men.

HARRY LAWLIN, a printer at Ansonia, Conn., promises to out-champion Steve Brodie as the great American jumper. Yesterday he leaped from the roof of a hotel in that city to the roof of a cigar shop 40 feet below, and then, turning a hand-spring, leaped to the pavement 25 feet farther down. Both times he landed on his feet and suffered no injury. He has apparently discovered the secret of the cat's immunity from harm in leaping great heights, and thinks jumping into the water, where there is nothing to break the fall, is child's play.

NEWBURGH has a new park, not a large one, but beautiful and located on an elevated and sightly spot, to be a breathing place for centuries to come. The Common Council has appropriately given it the name of Downing Park, in honor of Andrew J. and Charles Downing, the former famous as a landscape gardener and the latter as a horticulturist, and both former residents of Newburgh. The noted landscape artists, Messrs. Vaux and Olmstead of New York, have volunteered to furnish plans and designs for the park free of charge. When will the city of Kingston awake to the necessity of a similar provision? Our city is not as compact as Newburgh and there are still a good many open spaces, but all of the eligible lands are being rapidly dotted with residences. Twenty years hence, at our present rate of growth, the necessity for a park here will be as urgent as in Albany or Rochester, where ample provision has been made.

IT was indeed Hon. Robert Ray Hamilton, Member of Assembly, whose wife stabbed her nurse at Atlantic City last Tuesday. The wounded woman was still alive yesterday, but the physicians look for death at any hour. The stabbing occurred in the midst of a raging quarrel, in which it is admitted on both sides that the nurse accused Mrs. Hamilton of unfaithfulness to her husband and called her foul names. The revelations indicate that Mr. Hamilton's domestic arrangements have been rather "off color." His wife had lived with another man without a marriage ceremony before he found her, and is accused of continuing her intimacy with him in Hamilton's absence. Mr. Hamilton refused in court yesterday to give the date of his marriage, though he swore with great positiveness that the prisoner was his lawful wife. Hamilton has shown deep infatuation for the woman, and his honored father, Gen. Schuyler Hamilton, had given her a parent's recognition in the course of his efforts to induce his son to return to New York and settle down. Mrs. Hamilton was committed yesterday without bail to await the result of the wounds. If the nurse dies she is likely to get a sample of Jersey justice.

THE G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

The Address of Commander-In-Chief Warner To-Day.

EDITORIAL CONVENTION.

Speeches Made by Well Known Newspaper Men.

BEAT ITS OWN TIME.

AT THE GRAND ENCAMPMENT TO-DAY.

The Address of Commander-in-Chief Warner—Gain in Membership.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 28.—National Encampment was called to order by Commander-in-Chief Warner at 10:15. After prayer by Chaplain Wharton of the Wisconsin Department. Commander-in-Chief Warner said: "The greatest honor ever conferred upon me was my election as Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic. In taking the obligation of the office I fully realized the importance of the trust you had confided to me, and then highly resolved neither by word nor act to do anything that should drive a deserving comrade from our ranks, and to do all that in me lay to strengthen the silver cords of comradeship that I trust shall ever bind the surviving soldiers and sailors of the Union Army and Navy one to the other as brothers tried. If at the end of my term I am enabled to place in the hands of my successor the banner of our order illuminated with the three great virtues: Fraternity, Charity and Loyalty, my highest ambition will have been gratified. The growth of our organization has been steady and healthy. Strong as it is it has never been and I trust never will be used for partisan purposes, or to gratify the personal ambitions of any man or set of men. The greatest gain during the year has been in the Department of Missouri. Eight departments show a gain in membership in good standing of 15,824, distributed as follows: Illinois, 1,283; Iowa, 1,413; Nebraska, 1,709; Pennsylvania, 1,746; New-York, 1,995; Ohio, 2,003; Wisconsin, 2,023; Missouri, 3,652." He referred briefly to the reports of his staff officers, the decisions of the Judge Advocate General, the completion of a history of the G. A. R., the census of soldiers and sailors, and took up the subject of the Flag and the public schools. He said: "I commend to each Department the patriotic practice of the posts in the Department of New-York of presenting on February 22, the birthday of the Father of his Country, the American Flag to such public schools as are not yet in possession of one. Let the children receive the Stars and Stripes from the men who placed their bodies as a lining wall between it and those who would tear it down. The future citizens of the Republic are being educated in the public schools, the Flag of their Country should ever be before them as an object lesson. From its stars and stripes let them learn the story of liberty as exemplified in the lives of Washington, Lincoln, Grant and the patriotic sons of the Republic who by their valor, suffering and death rendered the imperishable fame of this illustrious trio possible."

In his further remarks the Commander-in-Chief alluded to topics of interest to the Grand Army of the Republic.

NATIONAL EDITORIAL CONVENTION.

Speeches Made by President Bettis and Col. Elliot of "Mail and Express."

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

DETROIT, Aug. 28.—There were 162 delegates at the National Editorial Convention yesterday. At last evening's session President J. R. Bettis delivered the annual address. Mr. Bettis dwelt on the growth of the Association, its objects and the power of the press. His remarks in reference to the annexation of Canada, which he favors as beneficial to all concerned, were received with much applause. He touched upon the present libel law as injurious to the press, and said the influence of the Association would be used to improve matters in that direction. Mr. Bettis suggested that the next annual Convention be held at some Atlantic Coast city. Colonel Elliot F. Shephard, of the New-York Mail and Express, delivered an address of some length upon "Editorial Philosophy." His remarks were received with frequent applause. He spoke of the great power of the press and how kindly, ably, independently and patriotically it ought to be used. Mr. Shephard mentioned the Southern question, saying that intelligent and timely discussion of the Negro question by the free press of this country will prepare the way for an equitable and peaceable settlement of that question. Had there been such a discussion in 1860 there would have been no war.

Important Industrial Resumption.

By Telegraph to The Freeman

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 28.—This morning, after being shut down for 16 years, the Ironton Pig Iron Works, with a capacity of 120 tons of iron per day, located a few miles north of this place, on the Niagara River, was started up by Cincinnati parties, who have leased the plant for five years, with the privilege of purchase. The furnace was started by Marjorie Brown, the two-year-old daughter of the Vice-President. The plant originally cost $500,000 and has been put in thorough working order.

No Foul Play in S. M. Smith's Case.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

UTICA, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Investigations made to-day do not indicate that there was any foul play connected with the death of Democratic State Committeeman S. Mason Smith, who was found in the road near Rome in an insensible condition yesterday morning and died last evening. He evidently suffered from an apoplectic fit and the bruise on his face was caused by his fall from the carriage

Prize Fighters Arraigned in Court.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

TROY, N. Y., Aug. 28.—The prize-fighter Joseph Murray, of New-York, knocked out at Cohoes yesterday morning by Kennard, the "St. Paul Kid," was arraigned this morning with his trainer, John Toohey, in Recorder McElwain's Court, at Cohoes. The defendants waived examination, and the case was held for the action of the Grand Jury.

Two Brutes Fight.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—The fight last night between Dempsey and La Blanche for the middle-weight championship was witnessed by 2,000 people. It was for a purse of $5,000. The police did not interfere. Dempsey was knocked out by La Blanche in the thirty-second round.

Postmaster Arrested for Forgery.

Hon. James T. Campbell Nominated as Candidate for Governor To-Day.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

DAYTON, Ohio, Aug. 28.—The Democratic Convention was called to order at 10 o'clock. After prayer Dr. Norton made a brief address outlining the purposes of the convention. He made his speech the vehicle for a caustic criticism of the Republican party, and especially of Governor Foraker, the candidate of that party for re-election. This was followed by a eulogy of the Democratic party and its principles. His allusion to Grover Cleveland "as the noblest and greatest of living Democrats" was marked by long, continued applause. The Committee on Credentials reported no contest but that Lucas County was represented by a mass delegation in accordance with the action of the Executive Committee whose vote in convention should be an aggregate of 17 votes. Hon. M. D. Harter, of Richland County, was elected Permanent President and Lewis G. Bernard, of Hamilton County, Secretary.

Mr. Harter made a very lengthy speech, covering nearly all the points at issue between the parties. The Hon. John A. McMahon made the report of the Committee on Resolutions, prefacing it with the statement that it was not a compromise, but was unanimously adopted, and that the Committee was fully agreed that there should be no backward step in the matter of tariff reform.

The platform adopted approves of the principles laid down by the National Democracy in St. Louis, in 1888, as regards the tariff, taxes, etc.

On the second ballot the total vote cast was 789½, of which Campbell received 397½, Neal 299, Kline 93. This nominated Campbell.

RAGING FOREST FIRES IN MONTANA.

Saw-Mills and the Homes of Ranchmen Being Wiped Out; Narrow Escapes.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

HELENA, Mont., Aug. 28.—Colorado Gulch, which extends into Helena and is heavily timbered, is on fire 12 miles from here and the flames are progressing in this direction. The fire started about noon yesterday. In the gulch were a number of sawmills, the most extensive being that of Sturrick & Brown. These were quickly wiped out as well as the homes of several ranchers. Ten men started to fell the timber in the hope of arresting the fire. They were soon surrounded by flames and barely escaped, all having their hair singed and their clothing burned so that it fell off. The fire is traveling toward Chinatown, swept by a strong wind. The air is full of cinders, and the heavens south and east of the City present a lurid appearance.

Novelties in Jewelry.

Twisted silver wire tops, fashioned into small diamonds, are noticed on tortoise shell side combs.

A favorite side-comb ornamentation consists of small gold loops, each enclosing a diamond.

As quaint a conceit as is imaginable is a silver plume curved round gracefully as a buckle.

A cluster of small diamonds in a sapphire triangle is a rich and artistic ring-setting.

Oxidized silver rose-jars, gotten up to simulate the antique, are much affected.

Frosted gold circular cuff-buttons, with diamond centres, are seen again.

Opaque amber figures prominently in hair-pin decorations.

Latest indications point toward a boom in garnet jewelry.

London Strike May be Arbitrated.

TROY, Aug. 28.—Officer Patrick Connors was arrested this afternoon on a charge of murder in the first degree. He is accused of killing Michael Manton, July 27, by striking him on the head with his club.

THE AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION.

Twelfth Annual Meeting Now Being Held in Chicago—Speeches Made.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—The American Bar Association began its first annual session on this side of the Alleghenies at 10 o'clock this morning in this City, with a large attendance. The meeting was called to order by Hon. Lyman Trumbull, who said: "The American Bar Association, which is about to hold its twelfth annual meeting in this hall, is composed of members from all the states of the Union, among whom are many of the most eminent of the legal profession. The Association has for its object the maintenance of the honor of the profession, the promotion of social intercourse among its members, the advancement of justice and uniformity of legislation throughout the United States upon certain subjects of a general character, which are common to all the states. The meetings of the Association have hitherto been held at Saratoga, the seat of fashion and social intercourse, and at this the first annual meeting of the Association elsewhere, it has been thought proper by the Bar Association of this City and the Illinois State Bar Association to tender the members of the American Association a cordial welcome to this great center of commerce and business activity. In pursuance of this understanding I now have the honor to present to the Presidents of the Chicago and State Bar Associations the President of the State Bar Association, my youthful friend, the Hon. David Dudley Field, of New-York." Following this formal introduction addresses of welcome to the American Bar Association were delivered by Francis Lockner, on behalf of the Illinois State Bar Association, and by Ethelbert Callahan, on behalf of the Chicago Bar Association. To these the Hon. David Dudley Field responded in behalf of the American Bar Association. Mr. Field then delivered an address to the National Association as its President.

QUICK TRIP OF THE CITY OF PARIS.

Steamer Came From Queenstown in 5 Days, 19 Hours and 18 Minutes.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Aug. 28.—The steamship City of Paris has broken the record again, beating its own best time from Queenstown by three hours and 49 minutes. Its actual time [reckoning by Greenwich time] from Queenstown to Sandy Hook light ship was five days, 19 hours and 18 minutes. It left Queenstown at 2:09 [Greenwich time] on Friday. There was a fresh breeze, but the weather was cloudy. Its run for the first day was 432 miles. Saturday there was a fresh breeze, with a head swell, and 493 miles were covered. The breeze was moderate on Sunday, with light winds, and 502 miles were covered. The same kind of weather was encountered Monday but the steamer increased its speed to 506 miles. Tuesday the breeze freshened and 509 miles were covered. The run from 2:09 [Greenwich time] yesterday afternoon to 9:27 A. M. [same time to Sandy Hook lightship] was 346 miles. The total distance traveled was 2,788 miles. Among the passengers were Russell B. Harrison, Andrew Carnegie and John A. Kasson. Captain Frederick Watkins was in charge of the vessel.

A number of distinguished gentlemen boarded the steamer Laura M. Starin at the foot of West Twenty-first-street early this morning, bent upon extending a welcome to Russell B. Harrison. It was the intention of the excursionists to meet Mr. Harrison down the Bay, but the City of Paris stole a march on them and they had to be satisfied with meeting Mr. Harrison at the dock. W. J. Arkell welcomed Mr. Harrison on behalf of the party. Mr. Harrison then entered a carriage with Mr. Arkell and drove to the Judge building.

In the World of Art.

A pack of cards is noticed in the Pall Mall Gazette which belongs to minor works of art. For each card a scene in the reign of Queen Anne was engraved, such as the victories of Marlborough, the naval battles of Admiral Benbow, treaties, and remarkable events of the period. Anne's portrait figures for the Queen of Hearts; that of Anna Sophia of Denmark for the Queen of Diamonds. "The Knaves were the leading politicians of the day." No other specimen of this pack is supposed to exist, and at a sale in Birmingham recently it brought $185.

In the Catholic World for September is a paper by W. Nemos on "Clues to Ancient American Architecture," which is chiefly valuable as one more protest against the sweeping generalizations made by students of certain parts of the ancient American field who apply their conclusions to the entire Indian race before they have learned all there is to know. The writer handles English like a foreigner, and some of his theories on decorative designs found in Yucatan will be dilicult of proof.

In their "Histoire de la Ceramique Grecque" Messrs. Ravet and Collignon mention a vase on which Pallas Athene is depicted entering the workshop and offering a crown to a painter, while her attendant follows with a wreath. One female and two male artists are seen painting vases diligently, holding their pencils daggerwise, as the Japanese do.

THE STOCK AND MONEY MARKET.

Financial Doings on Wall-Street To-Day—The Closing Quotations.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Aug. 28.—The stock market this morning opened with more animation than on any day for a long time, but the usual dullness followed. Rock Island, Atchison, Burlington & Quincy, St. Paul and a few others monopolized the business done while the general list was dull and uninteresting. Rock Island crossed par and Jersey Central reached 116. New-England later developed marked strength and moved up nearly 1 point to 51½, but seemed to have no effect upon the remainder of the list, though at 11 o'clock the market was quiet and firm.

THE CEILING CONSPIRACY.

What Attorney General Says In Reference to Prosecution.

ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE

A. Klahre, the Tinsmith Who Identified Martin Burke.

MORE ABOUT BOULANGER.

NEW CAPITOL CEILING CONSPIRACY.

What Attorney General Tabor Has to Say in Regard to Prosecutions.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Attorney General Tabor to-day, when asked as to the truth of the report that he intended to begin legal proceedings against Contractors Snaith and Sullivan and ex-Superintendent of Public Buildings Charles B. Andrews, for conspiracy in connection with the New Assembly Ceiling, and that the evidence in his possession would be laid before the Albany Grand Jury, said the Special Investigating Committee last winter called "the Fish Committee" recommended that the District Attorney of Albany County lay the evidence taken by the Committee before the Grand Jury, that proper indictments might be found against the parties who defrauded the State. In such a proceeding the District Attorney will have full power to call witnesses and examine and to compel the production of books, papers and telegrams; no question of jurisdiction can be raised, as was done, as to the power of the Committee, before Justice Mayham. "I have no doubt that District Attorney Riley intends to comply with the request of the Committee," the Attorney General said. If sufficient evidence can be obtained to procure indictments, civil proceedings will be commenced at once by the Attorney General. There is no doubt there will be additional evidence to that of last winter, the nature of which cannot of course now be disclosed. The Attorney-General will, if requested, give any assistance he may be able to to the District Attorney. Mr. Tabor declined to say whether any civil action will be commenced before the Grand Jury meets. The Grand Jury meets for the Court of Sessions September 11, and for the Oyer and Terminer October 7.

ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE KLAHRE.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—A desperate attempt was made last night to assassinate Augustus Klahre, the tinsmith who last week identified Martin Burke as the man for whom he soldered together a tin box May 6, which it is supposed contained the clothing of Dr. Cronin. At 9 o'clock he was walking eastward to his home on Ohio street. When within a block of his home he was assaulted by 10 or 12 young men. They knocked him down, beat him about the head with some blunt instrument and threw him over a low fence to the ground below, a distance of 12 feet. He struggled to his feet, calling for help and ran toward home. His brother and the servant girl heard his screams and ran toward him. His assailants sprang over the fence after him and pursued him almost to his door. His mother heard one of the pursuers shout with an Irish brogue: "Give it to him." That remark is the only clue to the identity of the assailants. Klahre fell as he entered the door, and became unconscious before anything could be learned from him as to the assault, and up to a late hour he was still unable to speak or recognize any one.

THE CALL FOR A WHISKY CONVENTION.

The Democratic electors of the state of New York and all other citizens who favor the principles of taxation, economy and retrenchment advocated by the Democratic party, AND WHO ARE OPPOSED TO INEQUITABLE AND OPPRESSIVE SUMPTUARY LEGISLATION, are invited to elect three delegates and three alternates from each Assembly district to attend a State Convention to be held at Syracuse on Tuesday, the first day of October, 1889, at 12 o'clock noon, for the purpose of nominating candidates for state offices, to be voted for at the coming election, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the convention.

(Signed.) EDWARD MURPHY, JR., Chairman.

CORD METER, Secretary.

DEMOCRATIC REPRESENTATION AND VOTES

Why are not the Democrats of New York allowed to have their proper representation at Albany, and their just opportunity of electing a Senator in Congress?—New York Sun.

The Democratic papers have tried for years to magnify this apportionment question into an issue. It is a false pretense. That party is not unjustly represented in the Legislature. Last fall it elected 49 members of Assembly and the Republicans 79. We have taken pains to tabulate the majorities on Assembly, taking our figures from the World Almanac, a Democratic publication. The result will surprise those who suppose that the Democrats were not as well represented as the Republicans, in proportion to their strength at the polls. We give the majority for each member, placing the Republican members first:

Total Democratic majorities	62,348
Net Rep. majority	56,962

The Republican majorities amount to 119,310, an average majority of 1,510 per member. The Democratic majorities are 62,348, an average of 1,272 per member. The Democrats actually secured larger representation in proportion to their majorities than the Republicans.

But this is not all. There were elected in this state last fall 34 members of Congress. The apportionment of the Congressional districts was made by a Democratic Legislature, and though the census on which it was based was taken five years later than that used in the Legislative apportionment, it shows more glaring inequalities than exist in any of the Senate or Assembly districts. The Democrats in that apportionment did the very best thing possible for themselves by making small Democratic and big Republican districts and the use of all the arts of gerymander. And yet the Republicans not only elected five-ninths of the delegation, but secured a majority of the popular vote on Congress almost equal to that on the Assembly. Here is the statement of majorities, for which we are again indebted to the World Almanac:

Net Republican majority		54,961

The Republican majorities are 128,350, an average of 6,755 per member. The Democratic majorities are 73,389, an average of 4,883 per member. The Republicans ran no candidate in the 6th district, while the Democrats ran two candidates in the 6th and 8th, casting 19,611 votes for the defeated candidates. The Republican vote for President in the 6th district was 9,156. Giving both parties credit for the votes in those districts that do not appear in the compilation of the majorities, the net Republican majority is still 44,506.

The Presidential election brings out the full vote. Here is the result on Assembly and Congress. How much did the Democrats gain by their Congressional apportionment in 1883 over that made by the Republicans in 1879?

APPEALING TO THE FARMERS.

Gov. Hill is again appealing to the farmers of the state to come out and help save the Democratic party. He points to the $1,800,000 that he claims to have saved by cutting it out of the appropriation bill after he had signed the bill fixing the tax rate for the year, and calls himself the "Farmers' Friend." Last fall the Democratic party sent a gang of ex-rebel orators through the state to preach free trade and tell the farmers how protection was taxing them to death. After the election was over the organs and orators of the party turned upon them and called them ignoramuses and knaves because they had not been persuaded by the apostles of the great "campaign of intellect." It is not probable that the farmers have forgotten this. And it is quite likely that they will see through Mr. Hill's sham pretenses of economy just as clearly as they saw through the humbug of free trade last fall.

We have already shown that out of the $1,800,000 cut out of the appropriation bill all except about $300,000 is honestly owed by the state and must be paid sooner or later with accumulating interest. As for the Normal schools and the armories, the people will ultimately have them if for no other reason than that it is inequitable to grant them to certain counties and deny them to others that have equal claims. The Capitol appropriation of $372,000 which Hill is now exhibiting to the farmers as proof of his interest in their welfare, he vetoed because the sum was not large enough, and said so very plainly in his message. The veto of the item for continuing the work on the Otsego normal school building suspends proceedings for the year but saves nothing, for the edifice must be built. The item for the enlargement and improvement of the Rochester house of refuge was badly needed, and its veto has called down the wrath of the Democrats of Monroe county. All of these items and indeed the whole of the vetoed $1,800,000 will be collected and placed in the treasury, to create a surplus for Democratic uses during the year. Whether it will be found there by the next Legislature is a question to cause disquieting doubts among those tax-payers who remember how the Governor obtained the money for the furnishing of the executive mansion.

What the farmers are going to feel very seriously is the loss of the high license tax which the Legislature has tried to enact into a law at every session for the last three years, and which would now be in successful operation except for the Governor's vetoes. Several Boards of Supervisors actually predicated their tax estimates upon the confident expectation that the Governor would approve the Vedder tax bill, a very mild measure, so drawn as to meet every objection that he had raised in his messages. This bill would have raised nearly $3,000,000 from the traffic. The high license bill passed last winter would have raised as much more, or the two bills about $5,000,000 altogether. This is equal to almost one-half of the state tax levy, and yet it is only one-third of the amount that the liquor trade pays to the federal government without feeling it, and with such advantage to itself that it raises a howl all over the country whenever a proposition is made in Congress to repeal the tax. The attitude of the Democratic party is this: It refuses to repeal the tax law which takes $15,000,000 from the liquor trade of New York and puts it into the United States Treasury now groaning with surplus, and refuses to place the tax where every dollar will count directly and to the utmost cent in the pockets of the people. Are the farmers enamored of such a party?

Then again, Gov. Hill is now permitting it to be proclaimed that he is opposed to the proposition to submit a prohibitory amendment to the people. Is there any unfairness or danger in allowing the people to vote upon the most vital question that will come up in the state canvass? We believe the farmers do not generally believe in free rum. In many towns they vote it down under the local option provision of the present law, and they do this in every town where they are in a positive majority over the rum elements in the villages. Whether prohibition or high license is to be preferred, they have the right to insist on taking a vote. Prohibition may not bring as much money into the town treasury as high license, but a majority of the farmers in this state know that where there is no sale of liquor there are very few expenses that call for tax-money.

We predict that Gov. Hill's appeal to the farmers will result very much like the appeals of Roger Mills, the Breckinridges, Taulbee and other free traders to the same people last year. They know a humbug when they see it. They want neither free wool nor free whisky.

CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS.

Why the World Honors Him—What He Did for Civilization.

[From the Binghamton Republican.]

Was the discovery of America a benefit to the Old World? Certainly it was. Besides furnishing almost indispensable geographical and scientific knowledge to Europeans, it furnished an outlet for surplus population. Europe was already driven to the wall for room when the Americas were discovered. Western Asia was worn out; Greece was "living Greece no more;" Rome was dead; the Empire of Charlemagne was broken to pieces and the fragments were engaged in a death struggle. Russia was in Scythian savagery; and the Northmen were in the semi-civilized age of piracy. The Dark Ages of feudalism, robbery and persecution overhung the most civilized portions of Europe. The discovery of America, by affording an outlet and a breadth of space, stimulated a breadth of views. Freedom and free thought took root in the new continent, and reflected back an influence of progress and civilization upon the old world. Some old royal family difficulties involving the possession of provinces and kingdoms dragged along in lingering wars for centuries; the cut-throat "revolution" in France brought Napoleon into the saddle and changed his dreams of an Alexandrian career in the East to shifting the Holy Roman Empire to a French basis; the Slavs and Turks have kept up their periodical wars; but Europe is steadily progressing toward a peaceable sisterhood of nations under the influence of the example set by the United States. The continent is still an armed camp, but industrial peace must eventually conquer through a growing intelligence of the masses. The "conduct" of Columbus, if he is to be credited with the discovery of America, has had very much to do with the growing intelligence and progress of Europe.

PUBLIC OPINION.

The broadening of the call for the Democratic State Convention so as to include all "who are opposed to inequitable and oppressive sumptuary legislation" was doubtless intended to secure the support of the liquor interests irrespective of party. A sumptuary law is "an act passed by a government to restrain the expenditure of its subjects or citizens either for apparel, food, drink or any other subject." Such legislation is justly held to be impertinent and oppressive. But a just license law, framed to regulate and restrict the liquor traffic in the interest of public revenue and public order, is not "sumptuary legislation." It is an economic and police measure. The Democratic convention will make a serious mistake if it shall even seem to array the party against such a law.—New York World, Dem.

Gov. Hill will probably regret before election day that he made such an open bid for the whisky vote in his call for a State Convention as to invite those opposed to "sumptuary legislation" to join in sending delegates to that convention. The indications are that the effect of his subserviency to the liquor traffic will be to precipitate a contest in which national issues will be almost entirely neglected and lost sight of. In every square fight on the temperance question the liquor traffic is bound to go the wall, and that is the kind of a fight Hill's course has practically ensured.—Cleveland Leader.

The saloon keepers have always been a powerful element in the politics of New York, and their rights should be respected. They must, however, laugh in their sleeves when they see the Governor on his knees promising that he will help them to favorable legislation if they will give him another half-million with which to buy votes for himself. The chief characters in this Holy Alliance would make a very suggestive cartoon.—New York Herald.

Further Great Cures of Skin Diseases by Cuticura Remedies.

Boy one year and a half old. Face and body in a terrible condition, being covered with sores. Sulphur springs fail. Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

I have used your Cuticura Remedies in two cases where it proved to be successful. The first was in the case of a boy a year and a half old. His face and body were in a terrible condition, the former being completely covered with sores. I took him to the Massena Sulphur Springs, but he did not improve any. I was then advised to try the Cuticura Remedies, which I did. He took one and one half bottles of Cuticura Resolvant, when his skin was as smooth as could be, and is to-day. I used the Cuticura on his sores and the Cuticura Soap in washing him. He is now five years of age and all right. The other case was a disease of the scalp, which was cured by washing with the Cuticura Soap and rubbing in the Cuticura, one bottle of Cuticura Resolvent being used. They have proved successful in every case where I have advised the use of them. It is surprising how rapidly a child will improve under their treatment. I recommend them for any disease of the skin as being the best in the world. This is my experience, and I am ready to stand by my statement.

An Unbearable Skin Disease Cured.

I have been afflicted since last March with a skin disease the doctors called Eczema. My face was covered with scabs and sores, and the itching and burning were almost unbearable. Seeing your Cuticura Remedies so highly recommended, concluded to give them a trial, using the Cuticura and Cuticura Soap externally, and Resolvent internally four months. I call myself cured, in gratitude for which I make this public statement.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH.

Cure Begins from First Application, and is Rapid, Radical And Permanent.

It is the mucous membrane, that wonderful semi-fluid envelope surrounding the delicate tissues of the air and food passages, that Catarrah makes its stronghold. Once established, it eats into the very vitals, and renders life but a long-drawn breath of misery and disease, dulling the sense of hearing, trammeling the power of speech, destroying the faculty of smell, tainting the breath, and killing the refined pleasures of taste. Insidiously, by creeping on from a simple cold in the head, it assaults the membranous lining and envelopes the bones, eating through the delicate coats and causing inflammation, sloughing and other dangerous symptoms. Nothing short of total eradication will secure health to the patient, and all alleviatives are simply procrastinated sufferings. Sanford's Radical Cure, by Inhalation and by Internal administration, rarely fails; even when the disease has made frightful inroads on delicate constitutions, hearing, smell, and taste have been recovered, and the disease throughly driven out

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

To the Republican Electors of the State of New York:

The Republican Electors of the state of New York and all others who may desire to unite with them in upholding the principles of the Republican party, as declared in the platform adopted by the last National Convention, are hereby requested to send delegates to a State Convention to be held at Saratoga Springs on September 25, 1889, at 12 o'clock, noon, for the purpose of nominating candidates for Secretary of State, Comptroller, State Treasurer, Attorney-General, State Engineer and Surveyor, and a Judge of the Court of Appeals; also for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the convention.

Each Assembly District in the state will be entitled to representation in accordance with the basis established by the State Convention of 1885, and upon which subsequent conventions have been held.

J. N. KNAPP, Chairman.

FRANK S. SMITH,
JOHN W. VROOMAN, Secretaries.

Delegates are apportioned among the counties of this section of the state as follows:

Ulster, 1st district	5
" 2d "	5
" 3d "	4
Greene	5
Delaware	5
Schoharie	5
Dutchess, 1st district	6
" 2d "	6
Orange, 1st district	7
" 2d "	6
Columbia	7
Sullivan	5

THE CALL FOR A WHISKY CONVENTION.

The Democratic electors of the state of New York and all other citizens who favor the principles of taxation, economy and retrenchment advocated by the Democratic party, AND WHO ARE OPPOSED TO INEQUITABLE AND OPPRESSIVE SUMPTUARY LEGISLATION, are invited to elect three delegates and three alternates from each Assembly district to attend a State Convention to be held at Syracuse on Tuesday, the first day of October, 1889, at 12 o'clock noon, for the purpose of nominating candidates for state offices, to be voted for at the coming election, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the convention.

(Signed.) EDWARD MURPHY, JR., Chairman.

CORD MEYER, Secretary.

DEMOCRATIC REPRESENTATION AND VOTES

Why are not the Democrats of New York allowed to have their proper representation at Albany, and their just opportunity of electing a Senator in Congress?—New York Sun.

The Democratic papers have tried for years to magnify this apportionment question into an issue. It is a false pretense. That party is not unjustly represented in the Legislature. Last fall it elected 49 members of Assembly and the Republicans 79. We have taken pains to tabulate the majorities on Assembly, taking our figures from the World Almanac, a Democratic publication. The result will surprise those who suppose that the Democrats were not as well represented as the Republicans, in proportion to their strength at the polls. We give the majority for each member, placing the Republican members first:

Total Democratic majorities	62,348
Net Rep. majority	56,962

The Republican majorities amount to 119,310, an average majority of 1,510 per member. The Democratic majorities are 62,348, an average of 1,272 per member. The Democrats actually secured larger representation in proportion to their majorities than the Republicans.

But this is not all. There were elected in this state last fall 34 members of Congress. The apportionment of the Congressional districts was made by a Democratic Legislature, and though the census on which it was based was taken five years later than that used in the Legislative apportionment, it shows more glaring inequalities than exist in any of the Senate or Assembly districts. The Democrats in that apportionment did the very best thing possible for themselves by making small Democratic and big Republican districts and the use of all the arts of gerymander. And yet the Republicans not only elected five-ninths of the delegation, but secured a majority of the popular vote on Congress almost equal to that on the Assembly. Here is the statement of majorities, for which we are again indebted to the World Almanac:

Net Republican majority		54,961

The Republican majorities are 128,350, an average of 6,755 per member. The Democratic majorities are 73,389, an average of 4,883 per member. The Republicans ran no candidate in the 6th district, while the Democrats ran two candidates in the 6th and 8th, casting 19,611 votes for the defeated candidates. The Republican vote for President in the 6th district was 9,156. Giving both parties credit for the votes in those districts that do not appear in the compilation of the majorities, the net Republican majority is still 44,506.

The Presidential election brings out the full vote. Here is the result on Assembly and Congress. How much did the Democrats gain by their Congressional apportionment in 1883 over that made by the Republicans in 1879?

APPEALING TO THE FARMERS.

Gov. Hill is again appealing to the farmers of the state to come out and help save the Democratic party. He points to the $1,800,000 that he claims to have saved by cutting it out of the appropriation bill after he had signed the bill fixing the tax rate for the year, and calls himself the "Farmers' Friend." Last fall the Democratic party sent a gang of ex-rebel orators through the state to preach free trade and tell the farmers how protection was taxing them to death. After the election was over the organs and orators of the party turned upon them and called them ignoramuses and knaves because they had not been persuaded by the apostles of the great "campaign of intellect." It is not probable that the farmers have forgotten this. And it is quite likely that they will see through Mr. Hill's sham pretenses of economy just as clearly as they saw through the humbug of free trade last fall.

We have already shown that out of the $1,800,000 cut out of the appropriation bill all except about $300,000 is honestly owed by the state and must be paid sooner or later with accumulating interest. As for the Normal schools and the armories, the people will ultimately have them if for no other reason than that it is inequitable to grant them to certain counties and deny them to others that have equal claims. The Capitol appropriation of $372,000 which Hill is now exhibiting to the farmers as proof of his interest in their welfare, he vetoed because the sum was not large enough, and said so very plainly in his message. The veto of the item for continuing the work on the Otsego normal school building suspends proceedings for the year but saves nothing, for the edifice must be built. The item for the enlargement and improvement of the Rochester house of refuge was badly needed, and its veto has called down the wrath of the Democrats of Monroe county. All of these items and indeed the whole of the vetoed $1,800,000 will be collected and placed in the treasury, to create a surplus for Democratic uses during the year. Whether it will be found there by the next Legislature is a question to cause disquieting doubts among those tax-payers who remember how the Governor obtained the money for the furnishing of the executive mansion.

What the farmers are going to feel very seriously is the loss of the high license tax which the Legislature has tried to enact into a law at every session for the last three years, and which would now be in successful operation except for the Governor's vetoes. Several Boards of Supervisors actually predicated their tax estimates upon the confident expectation that the Governor would approve the Vedder tax bill, a very mild measure, so drawn as to meet every objection that he had raised in his messages. This bill would have raised nearly $3,000,000 from the traffic. The high license bill passed last winter would have raised as much more, or the two bills about $5,000,000 altogether. This is equal to almost one-half of the state tax levy, and yet it is only one-third of the amount that the liquor trade pays to the federal government without feeling it, and with such advantage to itself that it raises a howl all over the country whenever a proposition is made in Congress to repeal the tax. The attitude of the Democratic party is this: It refuses to repeal the tax law, which takes $15,000,000 from the liquor trade of New York and puts it into the United States Treasury now groaning with surplus, and refuses to place the tax where every dollar will count directly and to the utmost cent in the pockets of the people. Are the farmers enamored of such a party?

Then again, Gov. Hill is now permitting it to be proclaimed that he is opposed to the proposition to submit a prohibitory amendment to the people. Is there any unfairness or danger in allowing the people to vote upon the most vital question that will come up in the state canvass? We believe the farmers do not generally believe in free rum. In many towns they vote it down under the local option provision of the present law, and they do this in every town where they are in a positive majority over the rum elements in the villages. Whether prohibition or high license is to be preferred, they have the right to insist on taking a vote. Prohibition may not bring as much money into the town treasury as high license, but a majority of the farmers in this state know that where there is no sale of liquor there are very few expenses that call for tax-money.

We predict that Gov. Hill's appeal to the farmers will result very much like the appeals of Roger Mills, the Breckinridges, Taulbee and other free traders to the same people last year. They know a humbug when they see it. They want neither free wool nor free whisky.

CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS.

Why the World Honors Him—What He Did for Civilization.

[From the Binghamton Republican.]

Was the discovery of America a benefit to the Old World? Certainly it was. Besides furnishing almost indispensable geographical and scientific knowledge to Europeans, it furnished an outlet for surplus population. Europe was already driven to the wall for room when the Americas were discovered. Western Asia was worn out; Greece was "living Greece no more;" Rome was dead; the Empire of Charlemagne was broken to pieces and the fragments were engaged in a death struggle. Russia was in Scythian savagery; and the Northmen were in the semi-civilized age of piracy. The Dark Ages of feudalism, robbery and persecution overhung the most civilized portions of Europe. The discovery of America, by affording an outlet and a breadth of space, stimulated a breadth of views. Freedom and free thought took root in the new continent, and reflected back an influence of progress and civilization upon the old world. Some old royal family difficulties involving the possession of provinces and kingdoms dragged along in lingering wars for centuries; the cut-throat "revolution" in France brought Napoleon into the saddle and changed his dreams of an Alexandrian career in the East to shifting the Holy Roman Empire to a French basis; the Slavs and Turks have kept up their periodical wars; but Europe is steadily progressing toward a peaceable sisterhood of nations under the influence of the example set by the United States. The continent is still an armed camp, but industrial peace must eventually conquer through a growing intelligence of the masses. The "conduct" of Columbus, if he is to be credited with the discovery of America, has had very much to do with the growing intelligence and progress of Europe.

PUBLIC OPINION.

The broadening of the call for the Democratic State Convention so as to include all "who are opposed to inequitable and oppressive sumptuary legislation" was doubtless intended to secure the support of the liquor interests irrespective of party. A sumptuary law is "an act passed by a government to restrain the expenditure of its subjects or citizens either for apparel, food, drink or any other subject." Such legislation is justly held to be impertinent and oppressive. But a just license law, framed to regulate and restrict the liquor traffic in the interest of public revenue and public order, is not "sumptuary legislation." It is an economic and police measure. The Democratic convention will make a serious mistake if it shall even seem to array the party against such a law.—New York World, Dem.

Gov. Hill will probably regret before election day that he made such an open bid for the whisky vote in his call for a State Convention as to invite those opposed to "sumptuary legislation" to join in sending delegates to that convention. The indications are that the effect of his subserviency to the liquor traffic will be to precipitate a contest in which national issues will be almost entirely neglected and lost sight of. In every square fight on the temperance question the liquor traffic is bound to go the wall, and that is the kind of a fight Hill's course has practically ensured.—Cleveland Leader.

The saloon keepers have always been a powerful element in the politics of New York, and their rights should be respected. They must, however, laugh in their sleeves when they see the Governor on his knees promising that he will help them to favorable legislation if they will give him another half-million with which to buy votes for himself. The chief characters in this Holy Alliance would make a very suggestive cartoon.—New York Herald.

Further Great Cures of Skin Diseases by Cuticura Remedies.

Boy one year and a half old. Face and body in a terrible condition, being covered with sores. Sulphur springs fail. Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

I have used your Cuticura Remedies in two cases where it proved to be successful. The first was in the case of a boy a year and a half old. His face and body were in a terrible condition, the former being completely covered with sores. I took him to the Massena Sulphur Springs, but he did not improve any. I was then advised to try the Cuticura Remedies, which I did. He took one and one half bottles of Cuticura Resolvant, when his skin was as smooth as could be, and is to-day. I used the Cuticura on his sores and the Cuticura Soap in washing him. He is now five years of age and all right. The other case was a disease of the scalp, which was cured by washing with the Cuticura Soap and rubbing in the Cuticura, one bottle of Cuticura Resolvent being used. They have proved successful in every case where I have advised the use of them. It is surprising how rapidly a child will improve under their treatment. I recommend them for any disease of the skin as being the best in the world. This is my statement, and I am ready to stand by my statement.

An Unbearable Skin Disease Cured.

I have been afflicted since last March with a skin disease the doctors called Eczema. My face was covered with scabs and sores, and the itching and burning were almost unbearable. Seeing your Cuticura Remedies so highly recommended, concluded to give them a trial, using the Cuticura and Cuticura Soap externally, and Resolvent internally four months. I call myself cured, in gratitude for which I make this public statement.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH.

Cure Begins from First Application, and is Rapid, Radical And Permanent.

It is the mucous membrane, that wonderful semi-fluid envelope surrounding the delicate tissues of the air and food passages, that Catarrh makes its stronghold. Once established, it eats into the very vitals, and renders life but a long-drawn breath of misery and disease, dulling the sense of hearing, trammeling the power of speech, destroying the faculty of smell, tainting the breath, and killing the refined pleasures of taste. Insidiously, by creeping on from a simple cold in the head, it assaults the membranous lining and envelopes the bones, eating through the delicate coats and causing inflammation, sloughing and other dangerous symptoms. Nothing short of total eradication will secure health to the patient, and all alleviatives are simply procrastinated sufferings. Sanford's Radical Cure, by Inhalation and by Internal administration, rarely fails; even when the disease has made frightful inroads on delicate constitutions, hearing, smell, and taste have been recovered, and the disease throughly driven out.

Sanford's Radical Cure for Catarrh

Consists of one bottle of the Radical Cure, one box Catarrhal Solvent, and Improved Inhaler, all in one package; price $1. Ask for Sanford's Radical Cure. Sold everywhere.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

To the Republican Electors of the State of New York:

The Republican Electors of the state of New York and all others who may desire to unite with them in upholding the principles of the Republican party, as declared in the platform adopted by the last National Convention, are hereby requested to send delegates to a State Convention to be held at Saratoga Springs on September 25, 1889, at 12 o'clock, noon, for the purpose of nominating candidates for Secretary of State, Comptroller, State Treasurer, Attorney-General, State Engineer and Surveyor, and a Judge of the Court of Appeals; also for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the convention.

Each Assembly District in the state will be entitled to representation in accordance with the basis established by the State Convention of 1885, and upon which subsequent conventions have been held.

J. N. KNAPP, Chairman.

FRANK S. SMITH,
JOHN W. VROOMAN, Secretaries.

Delegates are apportioned among the counties of this section of the state as follows:

Ulster, 1st district	5
" 2d "	5
" 3d "	4
Greene	5
Delaware	5
Schoharie	5
Dutchess, 1st district	6
" 2d "	6
Orange, 1st district	7
" 2d "	6
Columbia	6
Sullivan	5

THE CALL FOR A WHISKY CONVENTION.

The Democratic electors of the state of New-York and all other citizens who favor the principles of taxation, economy and retrenchment advocated by the Democratic party, AND WHO ARE OPPOSED TO INEQUITABLE AND OPPRESSIVE SUMPTUARY LEGISLATION, are invited to elect three delegates and three alternates from each Assembly district to attend a State Convention to be held at Syracuse on Tuesday, the first day of October, 1889, at 12 o'clock noon, for the purpose of nominating candidates for state offices, to be voted for at the coming election, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the convention.

(Signed.) EDWARD MURPHY, JR., Chairman.

CORD MEYER, Secretary.

DEMOCRATIC REPRESENTATION AND VOTES

Why are not the Democrats of New York allowed to have their proper representation at Albany, and their just opportunity of electing a Senator in Congress?—New York Sun.

The Democratic papers have tried for years to magnify this apportionment question into an issue. It is a false pretense. That party is not unjustly represented in the Legislature. Last fall it elected 49 members of Assembly and the Republicans 79. We have taken pains to tabulate the majorities on Assembly, taking our figures from the World Almanac, a Democratic publication. The result will surprise those who suppose that the Democrats were not as well represented as the Republicans, in proportion to their strength at the polls. We give the majority for each member, placing the Republican members first:

Total Democratic majorities	62,348
Net Rep. majority	56,962

The Republican majorities amount to 119,310, an average majority of 1,510 per member. The Democratic majorities are 62,348, an average of 1,272 per member. The Democrats actually secured larger representation in proportion to their majorities than the Republicans.

But this is not all. There were elected in this state last fall 34 members of Congress. The apportionment of the Congressional districts was made by a Democratic Legislature, and though the census on which it was based was taken five years later than that used in the Legislative apportionment, it shows more glaring inequalities than exist in any of the Senate or Assembly districts. The Democrats in that apportionment did the very best thing possible for themselves by making small Democratic and big Republican districts and the use of all the arts of gerrymander. And yet the Republicans not only elected five-ninths of the delegation, but secured a majority of the popular vote on Congress almost equal to that on the Assembly. Here is the statement of majorities, for which we are again indebted to the World Almanac:

Net Republican majority	54,961

The Republican majorities are 128,350, an average of 6,755 per member. The Democratic majorities are 73,389, an average of 4,883 per member. The Republicans ran no candidate in the 6th district, while the Democrats ran two candidates in the 6th and 8th, casting 19,611 votes for the defeated candidates. The Republican vote for President in the 6th district was 9,156. Giving both parties credit for the votes in those districts that do not appear in the compilation of the majorities, the net Republican majority is still 44,506.

The Presidential election brings out the full vote. Here is the result on Assembly and Congress. How much did the Democrats gain by their Congressional apportionment in 1883 over that made by the Republicans in 1879?

APPEALING TO THE FARMERS.

Gov. Hill is again appealing to the farmers of the state to come out and help save the Democratic party. He points to the $1,800,000 that he claims to have saved by cutting it out of the appropriation bill after he had signed the bill fixing the tax rate for the year, and calls himself the "Farmers' Friend." Last fall the Democratic party sent a gang of ex-rebel orators through the state to preach free trade and tell the farmers how protection was taxing them to death. After the election was over the organs and orators of the party turned upon them and called them ignoramuses and knaves because they had not been persuaded by the apostles of the great "campaign of intellect." It is not probable that the farmers have forgotten this. And it is quite likely that they will see through Mr. Hill's sham pretenses of economy just as clearly as they saw through the humbug of free trade last fall.

We have already shown that out of the $1,800,000 cut out of the appropriation bill all except about $300,000 is honestly owed by the state and must be paid sooner or later with accumulating interest. As for the Normal schools and the armories, the people will ultimately have them if for no other reason than that it is inequitable to grant them to certain counties and deny them to others that have equal claims. The Capitol appropriation of $372,000 which Hill is now exhibiting to the farmers as proof of his interest in their welfare, he vetoed because the sum was not large enough, and said so very plainly in his message. The veto of the item for continuing the work on the Otsego normal school building suspends proceedings for the year but saves nothing, for the edifice must be built. The item for the enlargement and improvement of the Rochester house of refuge was badly needed, and its veto has called down the wrath of the Democrats of Monroe county. All of these items and indeed the whole of the vetoed $1,800,000 will be collected and placed in the treasury, to create a surplus for Democratic uses during the year. Whether it will be found there by the next Legislature is a question to cause disquieting doubts among those tax-payers who remember how the Governor obtained the money for the furnishing of the executive mansion.

What the farmers are going to feel very seriously is the loss of the high license tax which the Legislature has tried to enact into a law at every session for the last three years, and which would now be in successful operation except for the Governor's vetoes. Several Boards of Supervisors actually predicated their tax estimates upon the confident expectation that the Governor would approve the Vedder tax bill, a very mild measure, so drawn as to meet every objection that he had raised in his messages. This bill would have raised nearly $3,000,000 from the traffic. The high license bill passed last winter would have raised as much more, or the two bills about $5,000,000 altogether. This is equal to almost one-half of the state tax levy, and yet it is only one-third of the amount that the liquor trade pays to the federal government without feeling it, and with such advantage to itself that it raises a howl all over the country whenever a proposition is made in Congress to repeal the tax. The attitude of the Democratic party is this: It refuses to repeal the tax law which takes $15,000,000 from the liquor trade of New York and puts it into the United States Treasury now groaning with surplus, and refuses to place the tax where every dollar will count directly and to the utmost cent in the pockets of the people. Are the farmers enamored of such a party?

Then again, Gov. Hill is now permitting it to be proclaimed that he is opposed to the proposition to submit a prohibitory amendment to the people. Is there any unfairness or danger in allowing the people to vote upon the most vital question that will come up in the state canvass? We believe the farmers do not generally believe in free rum. In many towns they vote it down under the local option provision of the present law, and they do this in every town where they are in a positive majority over the rum elements in the villages. Whether prohibition or high license is to be preferred, they have the right to insist on taking a vote. Prohibition may not bring as much money into the town treasury as high license, but a majority of the farmers in this state know that where there is no sale of liquor there are very few expenses that call for tax-money.

We predict that Gov. Hill's appeal to the farmers will result very much like the appeals of Roger Mills, the Breckinridges, Taulbee and other free traders to the same people last year. They know a humbug when they see it. They want neither free wool nor free whisky.

CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS.

Why the World Honors Him—What He Did for Civilization.

[From the Binghamton Republican.]

Was the discovery of America a benefit to the Old World? Certainly it was. Besides furnishing almost indispensable geographical and scientific knowledge to Europeans, it furnished an outlet for surplus population. Europe was already driven to the wall for room when the Americas were discovered. Western Asia was worn out; Greece was "living Greece no more;" Rome was dead; the Empire of Charlemagne was broken to pieces and the fragments were engaged in a death struggle. Russia was in Scythian savagery; and the Northmen were in the semi-civilized age of piracy. The Dark Ages of feudalism, robbery and persecution overhung the most civilized portions of Europe. The discovery of America, by affording an outlet and a breadth of space, stimulated a breadth of views. Freedom and free thought took root in the new continent, and reflected back an influence of progress and civilization upon the old world. Some old royal family difficulties involving the possession of provinces and kingdoms dragged along in lingering wars for centuries; the cut-throat "revolution" in France brought Napoleon into the saddle and changed his dreams of an Alexandrian career in the East to shifting the Holy Roman Empire to a French basis; the Slavs and Turks have kept up their periodical wars; but Europe is steadily progressing toward a peaceable sisterhood of nations under the influence of the example set by the United States. The continent is still an armed camp, but industrial peace must eventually conquer through a growing intelligence of the masses. The "conduct" of Columbus, if he is to be credited with the discovery of America, has had very much to do with the growing intelligence and progress of Europe.

PUBLIC OPINION.

The broadening of the call for the Democratic State Convention so as to include all "who are opposed to inequitable and oppressive sumptuary legislation" was doubtless intended to secure the support of the liquor interests irrespective of party. A sumptuary law is "an act passed by a government to restrain the expenditure of its subjects or citizens either for apparel, food, drink or any other subject." Such legislation is justly held to be impertinent and oppressive. But a just license law, framed to regulate and restrict the liquor traffic in the interest of public revenue and public order, is not "sumptuary legislation." It is an economic and police measure. The Democratic convention will make a serious mistake if it shall even seem to array the party against such a law.—New York World, Dem.

Gov. Hill will probably regret before election day that he made such an open bid for the whisky vote in his call for a State Convention as to invite those opposed to "sumptuary legislation" to join in sending delegates to that convention. The indications are that the effect of his subserviency to the liquor traffic will be to precipitate a contest in which national issues will be almost entirely neglected and lost sight of. In every square fight on the temperance question the liquor traffic is bound to go the wall, and that is the kind of a fight Hill's course has practically ensured.—Cleveland Leader.

The saloon keepers have always been a powerful element in the politics of New York, and their rights should be respected. They must, however, laugh in their sleeves when they see the Governor on his knees promising that he will help them to favorable legislation if they will give him another half-million with which to buy votes for himself. The chief characters in this Holy Alliance would make a very suggestive cartoon.—New York Herald.

Further Great Cures of Skin Diseases by Cuticura Remedies.

Boy one year and a half old. Face and body in a terrible condition, being covered with sores. Sulphur springs fail. Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

I have used your Cuticura Remedies in two cases where it proved to be successful. The first was in the case of a boy a year and a half old. His face and body were in a terrible condition, the former being completely covered with sores. I took him to the Massena Sulphur Springs, but he did not improve any. I was then advised to try the Cuticura Remedies, which I did. He took one and one half bottles of Cuticura Resolvant, when his skin was as smooth as could be, and is to-day. I used the Cuticura on his sores and the Cuticura Soap in washing him. He is now five years of age and all right. The other case was a disease of the scalp, which was cured by washing with the Cuticura Soap and rubbing in the Cuticura, one bottle of Cuticura Resolvent being used. They have proved successful in every case where I have advised the use of them. It is surprising how rapidly a child will improve under their treatment. I recommend them for any disease of the skin as being the best in the world. This is my experience, and I am ready to stand by my statement.

An Unbearable Skin Disease Cured.

I have been afflicted since last March with a skin disease the doctors called Eczema. My face was covered with scabs and sores, and the itching and burning were almost unbearable. Seeing your Cuticura Remedies so highly recommended, concluded to give them a trial, using the Cuticura and Cuticura Soap externally, and Resolvent internally four months. I call myself cured, in gratitude for which I make this public statement.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH.

Cure Begins from First Application, and is Rapid, Radical And Permanent.

It is the mucous membrame, that wonderful semi-fluid envelope surrounding the delicate tissues of the air and food passages, that Catarrh makes its stronghold. Once established, it eats into the very vitals, and renders life but a long-drawn breath of misery and disease, dulling the sense of hearing, trammeling the power of speech, destroying the faculty of smell, tainting the breath, and killing the refined pleasures of taste. Insidiously, by creeping on from a simple cold in the head, it assaults the membranous lining and envelopes the bones, eating through the delicate coats and causing inflammation, sloughing and other dangerous symptoms. Nothing short of total eradication will secure health to the patient, and all alleviatives are simply procrastinated sufferings. Sanford's Radical Cure, by Inhalation and by Internal administration, rarely fails; even when the disease has made frightful inroads on delicate constitutions, hearing, smell, and taste have been recovered, and the disease thoroughly driven out.

Sanford's Radical Cure for Catarrh

Consists of one bottle of the Radical Cure, one box Catarrhal Solvent, and Improved Inhaler, all in one package; price $1. Ask for Sanford's Radical Cure. Sold everywhere.

A Very Tall Tower Erected in Switzerland—The Terry Shooting Case—A Famine at Khartum—Report of the Commissioners of Lunacy of Great Britain—Personals, Etc.

A Paris newspaper reports the opening of a second Eiffel Tower, 100 feet high, on the Eschenberg, a small elevation in the neighborhood of Winterthur, in Switzerland. The view from the summit of this structure ranges over a vast Alpine panorama. In fine weather part of the Lake of Constance may be seen. The staircase has 146 steps. The tower is constructed of iron. "The height of the Eschenberg above the sea being 595 metres," adds the journal, "and that of the tower being 30 metres, it follows that the top of the 'Little Eiffel' really has a greater elevation than that of its big brother in Paris, which only attains to 562 metres above the level of the sea. France is therefore 63 metres behind Switzerland."

The forty-third annual report of the Commissioners on Lunacy for Great Britain contains interesting figures. On New-Year's Day last there were in the kingdom 84,340 insane persons. Various causes of insanity are set forth in a table covering 136,478 cases. Of these 9,569 persons lost their reason from domestic trouble, 8,060 from "adverse circumstances," 8,278 from overwork and worry, 3,769 from religious excitement, and 18,290 from intemperance. The influence of heredity was ascertained in 28,063 cases, and congenial defect in 5,881.

There is a man in Biddeford, Me., who has whittled so industriously and skillfully for 11 years as to bring himself into notice. Among the products of his jack-knife are a violin-case made of 2,937 pieces of wood of 106 different kinds; a yoke of oxen and a cart, put together in a glass jar with a small neck, and a great number of really well-made animals that would sell readily as toys. But this Maine genius will not part with any of his creations for love or money, and as he does nothing but whittle he is getting together a large and interesting collection.

In the latter part of July the wife of Ong Wo, a rich Chinaman, of Los Angeles, was abducted. Her husband offered $400 for the capture of her abductor, and the town supervisors offered $200 for the capture of each accomplice. Eighteen days afterward the woman was found in an old well 10 miles from the town. It was covered with boards and brush, and in it with the woman was a man, and another man was keeping watch outside. She said that she had been kept in the well ever since her abduction.

A sharp shock of earthquake occurred at Los Angeles, Cal., at 6 o'clock last evening. It began with a slight tremor, which lasted a few seconds; then the vibrations grew stronger and ended with two heavy shakes. The entire duration of the disturbance was about 10 seconds. Clocks stopped and the ceilings cracked. So fas as known no other damage was done. The shock was the most severe experienced in many years.

During the last "cereal year" there were loaded and cleared from San Francisco 281 sailing vessels with flour and grain, 93 more than last year. Most of these were laden with wheat for Europe. Three cargoes of barley came to New-York; four of wheat went to Rio Janeiro, three to Callao, and one to Valparaiso; six of wheat, one of barley, and one of wheat, barley and oats went to Australia; and one cargo of flour was sent to Hong Kong.

Three petty burglaries were committed at Meriden on Monday night. One of the places broken into was St. Rose's Roman Catholic Church. A window pane was cut out and entrance effected. The poor-boxes were broken open, but there was nothing in them. The thieves then broke a lot of candles and committed other acts of destruction in the church.

Captain C. T. Rogers, of Boston, the daring skipper who braved the storms of the Atlantic for 39 days in his little sloop-rigged dory Nickleodeon, says that he will renew the attempt to reach Europe next summer, when he will probably use the same boat, and expects to make the trip in 75 days.

The Silesian Gazette publishes statistics showing an uninterrupted growth of Socialism. Berlin in 1882 contained 24 Socialist societies; now it contains over 100. Bavaria in 1886 had 1,021 societies, with 68,000 members. It now has 2,200 societies, with 122,000 members.

HOW TO MANAGE FAIRLY WELL.

Some Useful Rules for Heads of Departments to Follow.

[From Engineering and Building Record.]

Colonel George Findlay, General Manager of the London and Northwestern Railway and Lieutenant Colonel in the Engineer and Railway Staff Corps, has written a book on "The Working and Management of an English Railway," in which, among other things, he gives, from the results of his own experience, some rules as to the way in which the head of a department should transact his business. Their sound, practical sense will commend itself to every intelligent reader who has had experience in such a position, and those in authority who have the wisdom and "grit," for it takes both, to adopt such rules and stick to them will be well repaid. Rule 3 is especially important, and to secure its full benefit no duty should ever be put off beyond the time when it should be performed, for a duty postponed always weighs on the mind and prevents undivided attention being given to anything else.

The rules are:

First—Choose your subordinates carefully and well, and let them be men you can thoroughly rely on. Do not concern yourself too much with points of detail, with which you must be fully conversant, but with which they are just as well able to deal as you are, and reserve yourself for such matters of moment as they are not competent to decide without your authority and experience.

Second—Before any question is submitted to you for decision insist upon having all the details filled in and all the facts before you, so that you may not have to apply your mind to it a second time, but may decide it once and for all, with a full knowledge of all its bearings.

Third—Always decline steadily to attempt to do two things at once. If you are giving an audience to one person, be it a head of a department or any other, let your door be rigidly closed to every one else for the time being. Let "one at a time" be always your maxim, and act upon it strictly. The man in authority who is seen continually surrounded by a throng of subordinates and striving to meet all their demands at once, is the man who, by reason of wear and tear, is most likely to break down in mid-career, and fail either in health or intellect; but the man who steadily concentrates his brain power upon one thing at a time, never wasting a moment, but never flurried or hurried, is the man who gets through with the greatest amount of work with the least toil and harassment to himself and in the shortest possible time.

Fourth.—Always make a point of refusing [except, of course, in special circumstances] to see chance callers, who will otherwise occupy the best part of your time with trivial matters which could just as well be attended to by your subordinates. It is a good plan to make it a rule to see no one without an appointment made beforehand, either in writing or through your Secretary, or else without previously knowing their name and the nature of their business. It is very amusing, at times, to see the pertinacious attempts which are made to break through this rule, and it can only be maintained inviolate by the agency of a wily and imperturbable Secretary, and an office which can only be approached through his.

In the Theatrical World.

Henry Irving cables to a friend in New-York City an emphatic denial of the report that he has ever complained of unfair treatment by the American press. He says: "I feel almost ashamed to contradict it, feeling that there is little need of my doing so, but would not like a shadow of doubt in the minds of my friends."

Joseph Haworth will open his third season in "Paul Kauvar" at the Grand Opera House, New-York City, on September 16. Almost all the time of the company is booked for this season and next.

"King Cole II." has been given in Chicago for some time to large audiences at the Columbia Theatre. Richard Stahl, composer of "Said Pasha," is musical director.

Arrangements for a London, England, visit of E. H. Sothern in "Lord Chumley" were completed last week by Franklin H. Sargent on behalf of Daniel Frohman.

Catherine Putnam's Australian tour will close September 28, and she will at once sail for San Francisco, where she is to play early in November.

Henrietta Crosman is said to have secured a release from her engagement with F. B. Warde, and signed with Augustin Daly for three years.

Marie Wainwright's season began on Tuesday night at McVicker's Theatre, Chicago, with "Twelfth Night."

In the World of Art.

The Scottish Art Review, of Glasgow, Scotland, which has reached its first volume, has some slashing criticism from Professor Caird, in which he denies the vital spirit of art to much of the work of Messrs. Luke Fildes and Hubert Herkomer, calls that of Poynter and Linton "learned inability," accuses Faed and Philip Morris of cheap sentimentality, Brett of hideously unreal realism, and MacWhirter and Murray of meretricious prettiness. Professor Caird had better make up his mind to stay in Scotland, though even there he has said enough to have a feud sworn against him.

The grave of a rich Goth has been found at Apahida, in Transylvania, the ancient Dacia. His name appears to have been Ombarus, as that is found on a large gold seal ring bearing a head surmounted by a cross. Supposing the cross Christian, the date is probably between A. D. 245 and 325. Four vases in silver, with dancing fawns in relief, a gold cross, a massive gold armlet, golden clasps and pins were found with the bones. There were traces of a wooden coffin.

The Australian correspondent of a Boston weekly devoted to architecture says there is a building boom at Sydney just now, but complains of the monotony of color occasioned by the use of cement. "Cemented fronts lend a depressing grayness to our streets, and cemented whitewashed houses spread like a white leprosy over City and suburbs and struggle far on into the country."

Rumblings From the Rails.

The following is a statement of the operation of the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad for the month of July, 1889, compared with the same month of 1888: Gross receipts, July, 1889, $1,804,311.10; 1888, $1,743,552.87; increase, $60,758.23; Gross expenses, excluding rent and interest, July, 1889, $902,984.37; 1888, $880,989.80; increase, $21,994.57. Profit in operating, July, 1889, $901,326.73; 1888, $862,563.07; increase, $38,763.66. Profit from December 1 to date, $4,563,368.67; same period last year, $5,158,664.71; decrease, $595,296.04.

The statement of the New-York, Lake Erie & Western Railroad for July shows net earnings of $5,832,185.06, against $5,584,792.51 in July of last year, a decrease of $247,392.55.

Farm Notes.

The Senate Investigation Committee claims that irrigation by artesian wells is practicable in Dakota.

Blight has damaged the hop crop in Oneida County, N. Y.

Reports of potato rot are general.

Some Fish Notes.

According to the report of the United States Fish Commission 100,000 yearling fish of the indigenous species of the Mississippi Valley consisting of catfish, buffalo, crappie, white and black bass, sunfish, pickerel, white perch, pike and native carp, have been distributed during the last fiscal year in the Illinois rivers, Missouri waters, in Geneva Lake, Wis., and in the waters of Nebraska.

A plant of 12,000 one-year-old brook trout was made in the waters of Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio and Michigan.

SOME FASHION NOTES.

WHAT TO WEAR AND HOW TO WEAR IT STYLISHLY.

Features of Imported Costumes—Beaver To be the Fashionable Fur—Bridal Gowns And Toilets for Bridesmaids—Flower Bonnets and Brims—Designs, Etc.

Importers and stylish New-York City milliners, keeping their elegant autumn novelties in abeyance, are still making a most charming display of dainty midsummer bonnets and hats in anticipation of weeks of balmy weather yet to be enjoyed. Orders for fresh bonnets and hats of light and airy description, sent from various fashionable resorts, are constantly received in the City shops. In the newly-prepared models there seems to be a decided leaning towards greater simplicity in the manner of trimming. One pretty hat is made of black chip, upon which a slender chaplet of pink roses is set. The hat is faced with black velvet. The price of this stylish trifle is far more elaborate than the garniture upon it. A corresponding hat is made of very dark-green braid, trimmed with willowy sprays of green oats and shaded grass, with no other garniture but the moss velvet facing. Velvet, with a few loops of handsome ribbon, makes a pretty garniture, becoming to most faces, and the simplicity of such arrangement after the excess of decoration seen of late is doubly charming, and an actual relief.

One of the striking features of the moment is the almost unmitigated flatness of the backs of some of the elegant imported costumes just received from both London and Paris. "As straight as a yard and a quarter of pump water," exclaimed a modiste, upon beholding a number of typical French walking dresses just out of their packings. Skirts are decorated in magnificent style, with embroideries, borderings, passementerie and galloon, but the drapings, though marvellously deft, are very slight, even upon the most expensive evening toilets and reception gowns. Another noticeable matter is the color schemes, which are more than ever novel and unique. Orange and copper-colored trimmings are in great vogue abroad, and a great deal of handsome ribbon is used in most capricious ways. The new sash ribbons are delicious works of art. Round and belted waists remain the favor in demi-dress, notwithstanding the marked popularity of the redingote and polonaise.

Furriers say that beaver is to be one of the very fashionable furs next winter. It is a becoming fur, and very amenable as a trimming for gowns and wraps. The new fur pelerines are invariably made with a high-standing collar. Some of these have ostrich feather trimmings inside. The Duchess of Fife in her going-away dress carried with her a long travelling cloak with a band of feather trimming inside the collar. This fluffy garniture is very light and becoming around the face, being softer than either plush or fur. Some of the stylish seal coats, modelled after the fashion of the natty "theatre" jackets, have added to them, for evening uses, a wide band of pink ostrich feathers, to go around the neck inside and down each of the fronts of the coat, the lovely color just showing at the edges, simulating a feather lining.

A new and very rich material imported this autumn is a fancy velvet plaided or striped upon grounds of lustrous and very elegant corded silk or armure. This fabric appears in lovely evening tints of lilac and cameo pink, violet, and deep apricot yellow, Nile green and primrose, etc., and also in superb dark shades for dinner and carriage gowns, to be combined with plain faillie or armure silk, moss-green and gold, dahlia and amber, two distinct shades of terra cotta crossed with bronze brown, peach color and heliotrope, etc. Another handsome novelty is India broche with Chine designs in velvet upon its magnificent surface, the patterns being borrowed from ancient Oriental tissues.

The jacket of this autumn is not of any fixed variety, for there are jackets and jackets, French, Russian, Moorish, Spanish and Italian, the latter of black velvet over a vivid red shirt-waist embroidered in black silk. They are buttoned to the throat, or open all the way down, they are plain and severe in English tailor fashion, or displaying many Parisian coquetries. They are long or short, single of double-breasted, in fact, they are anything that the wearer may fancy, from a Roman red or deep-blue "Reefer," or a Polish neglige of striped pilot cloth, to a long sombre "Carmelite" of gray or black, enveloping the wearer from head to foot.

Flower bonnets and brims continue in high favor. Directoire hats of black chip are trimmed with scarfs of black tulle and sprays of pink or lilac orchids. A French hat just sent to New-York is made of Tuscan-yellow Milan, faced with moss-green velvet, and garnitured with maiden-hair fern sprays in shaded velvet, mingled with damask roses. Another hat, in Empire style, is of gold-colored satin braid, faced with black velvet and trimmed with a thorny garland of tea roses and foliage, with a cluster of scarlet lobelia blossoms intertwined. Both hats are for a brunette.

Picturesque collars and Corday and Marie Antoinette fichus are sent home with the latest autumn toilets. There are also Spanish berthas and Ursuline capes of lisse or silk muslin, folded demurely over the chest, Swiss shawl capes with ends crossed at the belt in front and carried to the back and tied, French scarfs falling straight to the skirt-hem, and other charming accessories without number. Black marquise lace of pure silk jabot over a V-shaped fichu of net is becoming, as it gives length to the waist and adds much to the effect of an otherwise plain bodice.

The greater number of the new bridal gowns and toilets for bridesmaids are tailor-made, and are extremely elegant, and rich laces are used upon these gowns, the arrangement being artistic and novel. Skilled modistes now handle the so-called tailor-gowns of every description with great dexterity, and cloth is as effectively manipulated by them as silk or velvet, and is made up with a neat perfection which would be difficult for a tailor to surpass.

The Grecian, Empire, Russian and Directoire models are four distinct types in fashionable gowns for next season, but the variations are bewildering, extending from the regal Medici gown to the straight full-skirted dress of a "housemaid on duty." Although certain rules are complied with, there is practically no limit to the creation of luxurious gowns now ready for the coming brilliant season of the year.

Had No Special Love for Jeff. Davis.

By Telegraph to the Freeman.

HIGGINSVILLE, Mo., Aug. 28.—The ex-Confederate soldiers of Missouri, had their annual reunion here yesterday. Senator Vest addressed his old comrades. Colonel J. T. Crisp also spoke. He eulogized Lincoln and Grant. Some one asked: "What's the matter with Jeff. Davis?" Colonel Crisp answered that he had no admiration for the ex-Confederate President. General Joseph Shelby, who was Colonel Crisp's superior during the war, rebuked him for speaking lightly of Davis. An animated dialogue followed, and the two former comrades were only kept from resorting to blows by their friends.

On the Trail of a Stage Robber.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

BESSEMER, Mich., Aug. 28.—Fleschborn, who was shot by the stage robber near Gogebic, died here yesterday. He has a wife and two children at Belleville, Ills. Mokorcher, who was wounded by the robber, thinks the latter must have been wounded by one of his shots. An Ashland, Wis., dispatch says Sheriff Foley and his men are hot on the trail of the robber and yesterday followed his tracks in the sand five miles. A pack of blood hounds with Indian trainers were taken to Gogebic and will be used by the officers. Fifty men have also joined in the chase.

TELEGRAPH, CABLE AND MAIL NEWS AND CHAT-BY-THE-WAY.

A Very Tall Tower Erected in Switzerland —The Terry Shooting Case—A Famine at Khartum—Report of the Commissioners of Lunacy of Great Britain—Personals, Etc.

A Paris newspaper reports the opening of a second Eiffel Tower, 100 feet high, on the Eschenberg, a small elevation in the neighborhood of Winterthur, in Switzerland. The view from the summit of this structure ranges over a vast Alpine panorama. In fine weather part of the Lake of Constance may be seen. The staircase has 146 steps. The tower is constructed of iron. "The height of the Eschenberg above the sea being 595 metres," adds the journal, "and that of the tower being 30 metres, it follows that the top of the 'Little Eiffel' really has a greater elevation than that of its big brother in Paris, which only attains to 562 metres above the level of the sea. France is therefore 63 metres behind Switzerland."

The forty-third annual report of the Commissioners on Lunacy for Great Britain contains interesting figures. On New-Year's Day last there were in the kingdom 84,340 insane persons. Various causes of insanity are set forth in a table covering 136,478 cases. Of these 9,569 persons lost their reason from domestic trouble, 8,060 from "adverse circumstances," 8,278 from overwork and worry, 3,769 from religious excitement, and 18,290 from intemperance. The influence of heredity was ascertained in 28,063 cases, and congenial defect in 5,881.

There is a man in Biddeford, Me., who has whittled so industriously and skillfully for 11 years as to bring himself into notice. Among the products of his jack-knife are a violin-case made of 2,937 pieces of wood of 106 different kinds; a yoke of oxen and a cart, put together in a glass jar with a small neck, and a great number of really well-made animals that would sell readily as toys. But this Maine genius will not part with any of his creations for love or money, and as he does nothing but whittle he is getting together a large and interesting collection.

In the latter part of July the wife of Ong Wo, a rich Chinaman, of Los Angeles, was abducted. Her husband offered $400 for the capture of her abductor, and the town supervisors offered $200 for the capture of each accomplice. Eighteen days afterward the woman was found in an old well 10 miles from the town. It was covered with boards and brush, and in it with the woman was a man, and another man was keeping watch outside. She said that she had been kept in the well ever since her abduction.

A sharp shock of earthquake occurred at Los Angeles, Cal., at 6 o'clock last evening. It began with a slight tremor, which lasted a few seconds; then the vibrations grew stronger and ended with two heavy shakes. The entire duration of the disturbance was about 10 seconds. Clocks stopped and the ceilings cracked. So fas as known no other damage was done. The shock was the most severe experienced in many years.

During the last "cereal year" there were loaded and cleared from San Francisco 281 sailing vessels with flour and grain, 93 more than last year. Most of these were laden with wheat for Europe. Three cargoes of barley came to New-York; four of wheat went to Rio Janeiro, three to Callao, and one to Valparaiso; six of wheat, one of barley, and one of wheat, barley and oats went to Australia; and one cargo of flour was sent to Hong Kong.

Three petty burglaries were committed at Meriden on Monday night. One of the places broken into was St. Rose's Roman Catholic Church. A window pane was cut out and entrance effected. The poor-boxes were broken open, but there was nothing in them. The thieves then broke a lot of candles and committed other acts of destruction in the church.

Captain C. T. Rogers, of Boston, the daring skipper who braved the storms of the Atlantic for 39 days in his little sloop-rigged dory Nickelodeon, says that he will renew the attempt to reach Europe next summer, when he will probably use the same boat, and expects to make the trip in 75 days.

The Silesian Gazette publishes statistics showing an uninterrupted growth of Socialism. Berlin in 1882 contained 24 Socialist societies; now it contains over 100. Bavaria in 1886 had 1,021 societies, with 68,000 members. It now has 2,200 societies, with 122,000 members.

The eighth regular session of the Supreme Council of the American Legion of Honor convened yesterday in Washington Hall, Chicago. About 63,000 members throughout the country were represented by 52 delegates from the various states and territories.

The fifth annual session of the Supreme Grand Lodge of the order of the Daughters of St. George began at Knights of Labor Hall in Pittsburg yesterday. About 40 delegates, representing the different lodges from all the states in the Union, are in attendance.

The National Convention of the Daughters of Liberty began at Pittsburg yesterday with 50 delegates in attendance from all parts of the country. National Counsellor W. M. Simons, of Meriden, Conn., presided.

HOW TO MANAGE FAIRLY WELL.

Some Useful Rules for Heads of Departments to Follow.

[From Engineering and Building Record.]

Colonel George Findlay, General Manager of the London and Northwestern Railway and Lieutenant Colonel in the Engineer and Railway Staff Corps, has written a book on "The Working and Management of an English Railway," in which, among other things, he gives, from the results of his own experience, some rules as to the way in which the head of a department should transact his business. Their sound, practical sense will commend itself to every intelligent reader who has had experience in such a position, and those in authority who have the wisdom and "grit," for it takes both, to adopt such rules and stick to them will be well repaid. Rule 3 is especially important, and to secure its full benefit no duty should ever be put off beyond the time when it should be performed, for a duty postponed always weighs on the mind and prevents undivided attention being given to anything else.

The rules are:

First—Choose your subordinates carefully and well, and let them be men you can thoroughly rely on. Do not concern yourself too much with points of detail, with which you must be fully conversant, but with which they are just as well able to deal as you are, and reserve yourself for such matters of moment as they are not competent to decide without your authority and experience.

Second—Before any question is submitted to you for decision insist upon having all the details filled in and all the facts before you, so that you may not have to apply your mind to it a second time, but may decide it once and for all, with a full knowledge of all its bearings.

Third—Always decline steadily to attempt to do two things at once. If you are giving an audience to one person, be it a head of a department or any other, let your door be rigidly closed to every one else for the time being. Let "one at a time" be always your maxim, and act upon it strictly. The man in authority who is seen continually surrounded by a throng of subordinates and striving to meet all their demands at once, is the man who, by reason of wear and tear, is most likely to break down in mid-career, and fail either in health or intellect; but the man who steadily concentrates his brain power upon one thing at a time, never wasting a moment, but never flurried or hurried, is the man who gets through with the greatest amount of work with the least toil and harassment to himself and in the shortest possible time.

Fourth.—Always make a point of refusing [except, of course, in special circumstances] to see chance callers, who will otherwise occupy the best part of your time with trivial matters which could just as well be attended to by your subordinates. It is a good plan to make it a rule to see no one without an appointment made beforehand, either in writing or through your Secretary, or else without previously knowing their name and the nature of their business. It is very amusing, at times, to see the pertinacious attempts which are made to break through this rule, and it can only be maintained inviolate by the agency of a wily and imperturbable Secretary, and an office which can only be approached through his.

In the Theatrical World.

Henry Irving cables to a friend in New-York City an emphatic denial of the report that he has ever complained of unfair treatment by the American press. He says: "I feel almost ashamed to contradict it, feeling that there is little need of my doing so, but would not like a shadow of doubt in the minds of my friends."

Joseph Haworth will open his third season in "Paul Kauvar" at the Grand Opera House, New-York City, on September 16. Almost all the time of the company is booked for this season and next.

"King Cole II." has been given in Chicago for some time to large audiences at the Columbia Theatre. Richard Stahl, composer of "Said Pasha," is musical director.

Arrangements for a London, England, visit of E. H. Sothern in "Lord Chumley" were completed last week by Franklin H. Sargent on behalf of Daniel Frohman.

Catherine Putnam's Australian tour will close September 28, and she will at once sail for San Francisco, where she is to play early in November.

Henrietta Crosman is said to have secured a release from her engagement with F. B. Warde, and signed with Augustin Daly for three years.

Marie Wainwright's season began on Tuesday night at McVicker's Theatre, Chicago, with "Twelfth Night."

In the World of Art.

The Scottish Art Review, of Glasgow, Scotland, which has reached its first volume, has some slashing criticism from Professor Caird, in which he denies the vital spirit of art to much of the work of Messrs. Luke Fildes and Hubert Herkomer, calls that of Poynter and Linton "learned inability," accuses Faed and Philip Morris of cheap sentimentality, Brett of hideously unreal realism, and MacWhirter and Murray of meretricious prettiness. Professor Caird had better make up his mind to stay in Scotland, though even there he has said enough to have a feud sworn against him.

The grave of a rich Goth has been found at Apahida, in Transylvania, the ancient Dacia. His name appears to have been Ombaras, as that is found on a large gold seal ring bearing a head surmounted by a cross. Supposing the cross Christian, the date is probably between A. D. 245 and 325. Four vases in silver, with dancing fawns in relief, a gold cross, a massive gold armlet, golden clasps and pins were found with the bones. There were traces of a wooden coffin.

The Australian correspondent of a Boston weekly devoted to architecture says there is a building boom at Sydney just now, but complains of the monotony of color occasioned by the use of cement. "Cemented fronts lend a depressing grayness to our streets, and cemented whitewashed houses spread like a white leprosy over City and suburbs and struggle far on into the country."

Rumblings From the Rails.

The following is a statement of the operation of the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad for the month of July, 1889, compared with the same month of 1888: Gross receipts, July, 1889, $1,804,311.10; 1888, $1,743,552.87; increase, $60,758.23; Gross expenses, excluding rent and interest, July, 1889, $902,984.37; 1888, $880,989.80; increase, $21,994.57. Profit in operating, July, 1889, $901,326.73; 1888, $862,563.07; increase, $38,763.66. Profit from December 1 to date, $4,563,368.67; same period last year, $5,158,664.71; decrease, $595,296.04.

The statement of the New-York, Lake Erie & Western Railroad for July shows net earnings of $5,832,185.06, against $5,584,792.51 in July of last year, a decrease of $247,392.55.

Some Fish Notes.

According to the report of the United States Fish Commission 100,000 yearling fish of the indigenous species of the Mississippi Valley consisting of catfish, buffalo, crappie, white and black bass, sunfish, pickerel, white perch, pike and native carp, have been distributed during the last fiscal year in the Illinois rivers, Missouri waters, in Geneva Lake, Wis., and in the waters of Nebraska.

A plant of 12,000 one-year-old brook trout was made in the waters of Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio and Michigan.

SOME FASHION NOTES.

WHAT TO WEAR AND HOW TO WEAR IT STYLISHLY.

Features of Imported Costumes—Beaver To be the Fashionable Fur—Bridal Gowns And Toilets for Bridesmaids—Flower Bonnets and Brims—Designs, Etc.

Importers and stylish New-York City milliners, keeping their elegant autumn novelties in abeyance, are still making a most charming display of dainty midsummer bonnets and hats in anticipation of weeks of balmy weather yet to be enjoyed. Orders for fresh bonnets and hats of light and airy description, sent from various fashionable resorts, are constantly received in the City shops. In the newly-prepared models there seems to be a decided leaning towards greater simplicity in the manner of trimming. One pretty hat is made of black chip, upon which a slender chaplet of pink roses is set. The hat is faced with black velvet. The price of this stylish trifle is far more elaborate than the garniture upon it. A corresponding hat is made of very dark-green braid, trimmed with willowy sprays of green oats and shaded grass, with no other garniture but the moss velvet facing. Velvet, with a few loops of handsome ribbon, makes a pretty garniture, becoming to most faces, and the simplicity of such arrangement after the excess of decoration seen of late is doubly charming, and an actual relief.

One of the striking features of the moment is the almost unmitigated flatness of the backs of some of the elegant imported costumes just received from both London and Paris. "As straight as a yard and a quarter of pump water," exclaimed a modiste, upon beholding a number of typical French walking dresses just out of their packings. Skirts are decorated in magnificent style, with embroideries, borderings, passementerie and galloon, but the drapings, though marvellously deft, are very slight, even upon the most expensive evening toilets and reception gowns. Another noticeable matter is the color schemes, which are more than ever novel and unique. Orange and copper-colored trimmings are in great vogue abroad, and a great deal of handsome ribbon is used in most capricious ways. The new sash ribbons are delicious works of art. Round and belted waists remain the favor in demi-dress, notwithstanding the marked popularity of the redingote and polonaise.

Furriers say that beaver is to be one of the very fashionable furs next winter. It is a becoming fur, and very amenable as a trimming for gowns and wraps. The new fur pelerines are invariably made with a high-standing collar. Some of these have ostrich feather trimmings inside. The Duchess of Fife in her going-away dress carried with her a long travelling cloak with a band of feather trimming inside the collar. This fluffy garniture is very light and becoming around the face, being softer than either plush or fur. Some of the stylish seal coats, modelled after the fashion of the natty "theatre" jackets, have added to them, for evening uses, a wide band of pink ostrich feathers, to go around the neck inside and down each of the fronts of the coat, the lovely color just showing at the edges, simulating a feather lining.

A new and very rich material imported this autumn is a fancy velvet plaided or striped upon grounds of lustrous and very elegant corded silk or armure. This fabric appears in lovely evening tints of lilac and cameo pink, violet, and deep apricot yellow, Nile green and primrose, etc., and also in superb dark shades for dinner and carriage gowns, to be combined with plain faillie or armure silk, moss-green and gold, dahlia and amber, two distinct shades of terra cotta crossed with bronze brown, peach color and heliotrope, etc. Another handsome novelty is India broche with Chine designs in velvet upon its magnificent surface, the patterns being borrowed from ancient Oriental tissues.

The jacket of this autumn is not of any fixed variety, for there are jackets and jackets, French, Russian, Moorish, Spanish and Italian, the latter of black velvet over a vivid red shirt-waist embroidered in black silk. They are buttoned to the throat, or open all the way down, they are plain and severe in English tailor fashion, or displaying many Parisian coquetries. They are long or short, single of double-breasted, in fact, they are anything that the wearer may fancy, from a Roman red or deep-blue "Reefer," or a Polish neglige of striped pilot cloth, to a long sombre "Carmelite" of gray or black, enveloping the wearer from head to foot.

Flower bonnets and brims continue in high favor. Directoire hats of black chip are trimmed with scarfs of black tulle and sprays of pink or lilac orchids. A French hat just sent to New-York is made of Tuscan-yellow Milan, faced with moss-green velvet, and garnitured with maiden-hair fern sprays in shaded velvet, mingled with damask roses. Another hat, in Empire style, is of gold colored satin braid, faced with black velvet and trimmed with a thorny garland of tea roses and foliage, with a cluster of scarlet lobelia blossoms intertwined. Both hats are for a brunette.

Picturesque collars and Corday and Marie Antoinette fichus are sent home with the latest autumn toilets. There are also Spanish berthas and Ursuline capes of lisse or silk muslin, folded demurely over the chest, Swiss shawl capes with ends crossed at the belt in front and carried to the back and tied, French scarfs falling straight to the skirt-hem, and other charming accessories without number. Black marquise lace of pure silk jabot over a V-shaped fichu of net is becoming, as it gives length to the waist and adds much to the effect of an otherwise plain bodice.

The greater number of the new bridal gowns and toilets for bridesmaids are tailor-made, and are extremely elegant, and rich laces are used upon these gowns, the arrangement being artistic and novel. Skilled modistes now handle the so called tailor-gowns of every description with great dexterity, and cloth is as effectively manipulated by them as silk or velvet, and is made up with a neat perfection which would be difficult for a tailor to surpass.

The Grecian, Empire, Russian and Directoire models are four distinct types in fashionable gowns for next season, but the variations are bewildering, extending from the regal Medici gown to the straight full-skirted dress of a "housemaid on duty." Although certain rules are complied with, there is practically no limit to the creation of luxurious gowns now ready for the coming brilliant season of the year.

Had No Special Love for Jeff. Davis.

By Telegraph to the Freeman.

HIGGINSVILLE, Mo., Aug. 28.—The ex-Confederate soldiers of Missouri, had their annual reunion here yesterday. Senator Vest addressed his old comrades. Colonel J. T. Crisp also spoke. He eulogized Lincoln and Grant. Some one asked: "What's the matter with Jeff. Davis?" Colonel Crisp answered that he had no admiration for the ex-Confederate President. General Joseph Shelby, who was Colonel Crisp's superior during the war, rebuked him for speaking lightly of Davis. An animated dialogue followed, and the two former comrades were only kept from resorting to blows by their friends.

On the Trail of a Stage Robber.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

BESSEMER, Mich., Aug. 28.—Fleschhorn, who was shot by the stage robber near Gogebic, died here yesterday. He has a wife and two children at Belleville, Ills. Mokorcher, who was wounded by the robber, thinks the latter must have been wounded by one of his shots. An Ashland, Wis., dispatch says Sheriff Foley and his men are hot on the trail of the robber and yesterday followed his tracks in the sand five miles. A pack of blood hounds with Indian trainers were taken to Gogebic and will be used by the officers. Fifty men have also joined in the chase.

TELEGRAPH, CABLE AND MAIL NEWS AND CHAT-BY-THE-WAY.

A Very Tall Tower Erected in Switzerland—The Terry Shooting Case—A Famine at Khartum—Report of the Commissioners of Lunacy of Great Britain—Personals, Etc.

A Paris newspaper reports the opening of a second Eiffel Tower, 100 feet high, on the Eschenberg, a small elevation in the neighborhood of Winterthur, in Switzerland. The view from the summit of this structure ranges over a vast Alpine panorama. In fine weather part of the Lake of Constance may be seen. The staircase has 146 steps. The tower is constructed of iron. "The height of the Eschenberg above the sea being 595 metres," adds the journal, "and that of the tower being 30 metres, it follows that the top of the 'Little Eiffel' really has a greater elevation than that of its big brother in Paris, which only attains to 562 metres above the level of the sea. France is therefore 63 metres behind Switzerland."

The forty-third annual report of the Commissioners on Lunacy for Great Britain contains interesting figures. On New-Year's Day last there were in the kingdom 84,340 insane persons. Various causes of insanity are set forth in a table covering 136,478 cases. Of these 9,569 persons lost their reason from domestic trouble, 8,060 from "adverse circumstances," 8,278 from overwork and worry, 3,769 from religious excitement, and 18,290 from intemperance. The influence of heredity was ascertained in 28,063 cases, and congenial defect in 5,881.

There is a man in Biddeford, Me., who has whittled so industriously and skillfully for 11 years as to bring himself into notice. Among the products of his jack-knife are a violin-case made of 2,937 pieces of wood of 106 different kinds; a yoke of oxen and a cart, put together in a glass jar with a small neck, and a great number of really well-made animals that would sell readily as toys. But this Maine genius will not part with any of his creations for love or money, and as he does nothing but whittle he is getting together a large and interesting collection.

In the latter part of July the wife of Ong Wo, a rich Chinaman, of Los Angeles, was abducted. Her husband offered $400 for the capture of her abductor, and the town supervisors offered $200 for the capture of each accomplice. Eighteen days afterward the woman was found in an old well 10 miles from the town. It was covered with boards and brush, and in it with the woman was a man, and another man was keeping watch outside. She said that she had been kept in the well ever since her abduction.

A sharp shock of earthquake occurred at Los Angeles, Cal., at 6 o'clock last evening. It began with a slight tremor, which lasted a few seconds; then the vibrations grew stronger and ended with two heavy shakes. The entire duration of the disturbance was about 10 seconds. Clocks stopped and the ceilings cracked. So far as known no other damage was done. The shock was the most severe experienced in many years.

During the last "cereal year" there were loaded and cleared from San Francisco 281 sailing vessels with flour and grain, 93 more than last year. Most of these were laden with wheat for Europe. Three cargoes of barley came to New-York; four of wheat went to Rio Janeiro, three to Callao, and one to Valparaiso; six of wheat, one of barley, and one of wheat, barley and oats went to Australia; and one cargo of flour was sent to Hong Kong.

Three petty burglaries were committed at Meriden on Monday night. One of the places broken into was St. Rose's Roman Catholic Church. A window pane was cut out and entrance effected. The poor-boxes were broken open, but there was nothing in them. The thieves then broke a lot of candles and committed other acts of destruction in the church.

Captain C. T. Rogers, of Boston, the daring skipper who braved the storms of the Atlantic for 39 days in his little sloop-rigged dory Nickleodeon, says that he will renew the attempt to reach Europe next summer, when he will probably use the same boat, and expects to make the trip in 75 days.

The Silesian Gazette publishes statistics showing an uninterrupted growth of Socialism. Berlin in 1882 contained 24 Socialist societies; now it contains over 100. Bavaria in 1886 had 1,021 societies, with 68,000 members. It now has 2,200 societies, with 122,000 members.

HOW TO MANAGE FAIRLY WELL.

Some Useful Rules for Heads of Departments to Follow.

[From Engineering and Building Record.]

Colonel George Findlay, General Manager of the London and Northwestern Railway and Lieutenant Colonel in the Engineer and Railway Staff Corps, has written a book on "The Working and Management of an English Railway," in which, among other things, he gives, from the results of his own experience, some rules as to the way in which the head of a department should transact his business. Their sound, practical sense will commend itself to every intelligent reader who has had experience in such a position, and those in authority who have the wisdom and "grit," for it takes both, to adopt such rules and stick to them will be well repaid. Rule 3 is especially important, and to secure its full benefit no duty should ever be put off beyond the time when it should be performed, for a duty postponed always weighs on the mind and prevents undivided attention being given to anything else.

The rules are:

First—Choose your subordinates carefully and well, and let them be men you can thoroughly rely on. Do not concern yourself too much with points of detail, with which you must be fully conversant, but with which they are just as well able to deal as you are, and reserve yourself for such matters of moment as they are not competent to decide without your authority and experience.

Second—Before any question is submitted to you for decision insist upon having all the details filled in and all the facts before you, so that you may not have to apply your mind to it a second time, but may decide it once and for all, with a full knowledge of all its bearings.

Third—Always decline steadily to attempt to do two things at once. If you are giving an audience to one person, be it a head of a department or any other, let your door be rigidly closed to every one else for the time being. Let "one at a time" be always your maxim, and act upon it strictly. The man in authority who is seen continually surrounded by a throng of subordinates and striving to meet all their demands at once, is the man who, by reason of wear and tear, is most likely to break down in mid-career, and fail either in health or intellect; but the man who steadily concentrates his brain power upon one thing at a time, never wasting a moment, but never flurried or hurried, is the man who gets through with the greatest amount of work with the least toil and harassment to himself and in the shortest possible time.

Fourth.—Always make a point of refusing [except, of course, in special circumstances] to see chance callers, who will otherwise occupy the best part of your time with trivial matters which could just as well be attended to by your subordinates. It is a good plan to make it a rule to see no one without an appointment made beforehand, either in writing or through your Secretary, or else without previously knowing their name and the nature of their business. It is very amusing, at times, to see the pertinacious attempts which are made to break through this rule, and it can only be maintained inviolate by the agency of a wily and imperturbable Secretary, and an office which can only be approached through his.

In the Theatrical World.

Henry Irving cables to a friend in New-York City an emphatic denial of the report that he has ever complained of unfair treatment by the American press. He says: "I feel almost ashamed to contradict it, feeling that there is little need of my doing so, but would not like a shadow of doubt in the minds of my friends."

Joseph Haworth will open his third season in "Paul Kauvar" at the Grand Opera House, New-York City, on September 16. Almost all the time of the company is booked for this season and next.

"King Cole II." has been given in Chicago for some time to large audiences at the Columbia Theatre. Richard Stahl, composer of "Said Pasha," is musical director.

Arrangements for a London, England, visit of E. H. Sothern in "Lord Chumley" were completed last week by Franklin H. Sargent on behalf of Daniel Frohman.

Catherine Putnam's Australian tour will close September 28, and she will at once sail for San Francisco, where she is to play early in November.

Henrietta Crosman is said to have secured a release from her engagement with F. B. Warde, and signed with Augustin Daly for three years.

Marie Wainwright's season began on Tuesday night at McVicker's Theatre, Chicago, with "Twelfth Night."

In the World of Art.

The Scottish Art Review, of Glasgow, Scotland, which has reached its first volume, has some slashing criticism from Professor Caird, in which he denies the vital spirit of art to much of the work of Messrs. Luke Fildes and Hubert Herkomer, calls that of Poynter and Linton "learned inability," accuses Faed and Philip Morris of cheap sentimentality, Brett of hideously unreal realism, and MacWhirter and Murray of meretricious prettiness. Professor Caird had better make up his mind to stay in Scotland, though even there he has said enough to have a feud sworn against him.

The grave of a rich Goth has been found at Apahida, in Transylvania, the ancient Dacia. His name appears to have been Ombarus, as that is found on a large gold seal ring bearing a head surmounted by a cross. Supposing the cross Christian, the date is probably between A. D. 245 and 325. Four vases in silver, with dancing fawns in relief, a gold cross, a massive gold armlet, golden clasps and pins were found with the bones. There were traces of a wooden coffin.

The Australian correspondent of a Boston weekly devoted to architecture says there is a building boom at Sydney just now, but complains of the monotony of color occasioned by the use of cement. "Cemented fronts lend a depressing grayness to our streets, and cemented whitewashed houses spread like a white leprosy over City and suburbs and struggle far on into the country."

Rumblings From the Rails.

The following is a statement of the operation of the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad for the month of July, 1889, compared with the same month of 1888: Gross receipts, July, 1889, $1,804,311.10; 1888, $1,743,552.87; increase, $60,758.23; Gross expenses, excluding rent and interest, July, 1889, $902,984.37; 1888, $880,989.80; increase, $21,994.57. Profit in operating, July, 1889, $901,326.73; 1888, $862,563.07; increase, $38,763.66. Profit from December 1 to date, $4,563,368.67; same period last year, $5,158,664.71; decrease, $595,296.04.

The statement of the New-York, Lake Erie & Western Railroad for July shows net earnings of $5,832,185.06, against $5,584,792.51 in July of last year, a decrease of $247,392.55.

Some Fish Notes.

According to the report of the United States Fish Commission 100,000 yearling fish of the indigenous species of the Mississippi Valley consisting of catfish, buffalo, crappie, white and black bass, sunfish, pickerel, white perch, pike and native carp, have been distributed during the last fiscal year in the Illinois rivers, Missouri waters, in Geneva Lake, Wis., and in the waters of Nebraska.

A plant of 12,000 one-year-old brook trout was made in the waters of Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio and Michigan.

SOME FASHION NOTES.

WHAT TO WEAR AND HOW TO WEAR IT STYLISHLY.

Features of Imported Costumes—Beaver To be the Fashionable Fur—Bridal Gowns And Toilets for Bridesmaids—Flower Bonnets and Brims—Designs, Etc.

Importers and stylish New-York City milliners, keeping their elegant autumn novelties in abeyance, are still making a most charming display of dainty midsummer bonnets and hats in anticipation of weeks of balmy weather yet to be enjoyed. Orders for fresh bonnets and hats of light and airy description, sent from various fashionable resorts, are constantly received in the City shops. In the newly-prepared models there seems to be a decided leaning towards greater simplicity in the manner of trimming. One pretty hat is made of black chip, upon which a slender chaplet of pink roses is set. The hat is faced with black velvet. The price of this stylish trifle is far more elaborate than the garniture upon it. A corresponding hat is made of very dark-green braid, trimmed with willowy sprays of green oats and shaded grass, with no other garniture but the moss velvet facing. Velvet, with a few loops of handsome ribbon, makes a pretty garniture, becoming to most faces, and the simplicity of such arrangement after the excess of decoration seen of late is doubly charming, and an actual relief.

One of the striking features of the moment is the almost unmitigated flatness of the backs of some of the elegant imported costumes just received from both London and Paris. "As straight as a yard and a quarter of pump water," exclaimed a modiste, upon beholding a number of typical French walking dresses just out of their packings. Skirts are decorated in magnificent style, with embroideries, borderings, passementerie and galloon, but the drapings, though marvellously deft, are very slight, even upon the most expensive evening toilets and reception gowns. Another noticeable matter is the color schemes, which are more than ever novel and unique. Orange and copper-colored trimmings are in great vogue abroad, and a great deal of handsome ribbon is used in most capricious ways. The new sash ribbons are delicious works of art. Round and belted waists remain the favor in demi-dress, notwithstanding the marked popularity of the redingote and polonaise.

Furriers say that beaver is to be one of the very fashionable furs next winter. It is a becoming fur, and very amenable as a trimming for gowns and wraps. The new fur pelerines are invariably made with a high-standing collar. Some of these have ostrich feather trimmings inside. The Duchess of Fife in her going-away dress carried with her a long travelling cloak with a band of feather trimming inside the collar. This fluffy garniture is very light and becoming around the face, being softer than either plush or fur. Some of the stylish seal coats, modelled after the fashion of the natty "theatre" jackets, have added to them, for evening uses, a wide band of pink ostrich feathers, to go around the neck inside and down each of the fronts of the coat, the lovely color just showing at the edges, simulating a feather lining.

A new and very rich material imported this autumn is a fancy velvet plaided or striped upon grounds of lustrous and very elegant corded silk or armure. This fabric appears in lovely evening tints of lilac and cameo pink, violet, and deep apricot yellow, Nile green and primrose, etc., and also in superb dark shades for dinner and carriage gowns, to be combined with plain faillie or armure silk, moss-green and gold, dahlia and amber, two distinct shades of terra cotta crossed with bronze brown, peach color and heliotrope, etc. Another handsome novelty is India broche with Chine designs in velvet upon its magnificent surface, the patterns being borrowed from ancient Oriental tissues.

The jacket of this autumn is not of any fixed variety, for there are jackets and jackets, French, Russian, Moorish, Spanish and Italian, the latter of black velvet over a vivid red shirt-waist embroidered in black silk. They are buttoned to the throat, or open all the way down, they are plain and severe in English tailor fashion, or displaying many Parisian coquetries. They are long or short, single of double-breasted, in fact, they are anything that the wearer may fancy, from a Roman red or deep-blue "Reefer," or a Polish neglige of striped pilot cloth, to a long sombre "Carmelite" of gray or black, enveloping the wearer from head to foot.

Flower bonnets and brims continue in high favor. Directoire hats of black chip are trimmed with scarfs of black tulle and sprays of pink or lilac orchids. A French hat just sent to New-York is made of Tuscan-yellow Milan, faced with moss-green velvet, and garnitured with maiden-hair fern sprays in shaded velvet, mingled with damask roses. Another hat, in Empire style, is of gold colored satin braid, faced with black velvet and trimmed with a thorny garland of tea roses and foliage, with a cluster of scarlet lobelia blossoms intertwined. Both hats are for a brunette.

Picturesque collars and Corday and Marie Antoinette fichus are sent home with the latest autumn toilets. There are also Spanish berthas and Ursuline capes of lisse or silk muslin, folded demurely over the chest, Swiss shawl capes with ends crossed at the belt in front and carried to the back and tied, French scarfs falling straight to the skirt-hem, and other charming accessories without number. Black marquise lace of pure silk jabot over a V-shaped fichu of net is becoming, as it gives length to the waist and adds much to the effect of an otherwise plain bodice.

The greater number of the new bridal gowns and toilets for bridesmaids are tailor-made, and are extremely elegant, and rich laces are used upon these gowns, the arrangement being artistic and novel. Skilled modistes now handle the so-called tailor-gowns of every description with great dexterity, and cloth is as effectively manipulated by them as silk or velvet, and is made up with a neat perfection which would be difficult for a tailor to surpass.

The Grecian, Empire, Russian and Directoire models are four distinct types in fashionable gowns for next season, but the variations are bewildering, extending from the regal Medici gown to the straight full-skirted dress of a "housemaid on duty." Although certain rules are complied with, there is practically no limit to the creation of luxurious gowns now ready for the coming brilliant season of the year.

Had No Special Love for Jeff. Davis.

By Telegraph to the Freeman.

HIGGINSVILLE, Mo., Aug. 28.—The ex-Confederate soldiers of Missouri, had their annual reunion here yesterday. Senator Vest addressed his old comrades. Colonel J. T. Crisp also spoke. He eulogized Lincoln and Grant. Some one asked: "What's the matter with Jeff. Davis?" Colonel Crisp answered that he had no admiration for the ex-Confederate President. General Joseph Shelby, who was Colonel Crisp's superior during the war, rebuked him for speaking lightly of Davis. An animated dialogue followed, and the two former comrades were only kept from resorting to blows by their friends.

On the Trail of a Stage Robber.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

BESSEMER, Mich., Aug. 28.—Fleschborn, who was shot by the stage robber near Gogebic, died here yesterday. He has a wife and two children at Belleville, Ills. Mokorcher, who was wounded by the robber, thinks the latter must have been wounded by one of his shots. An Ashland, Wis., dispatch says Sheriff Foley and his men are hot on the trail of the robber and yesterday followed his tracks in the sand five miles. A pack of blood hounds with Indian trainers were taken to Gogebic and will be used by the officers. Fifty men have also joined in the chase.

CITY HAPPENINGS AND CHAT.

MEN, MATTERS, PROJECTS, STORIES AND GOSSIP BRIEFLY PARAGRAPHED.

Concerning a Lecture Course—A Runaway—The Jewish New-Year—In Aid of the Industrial Home—A "White Frost"—Certain Streets Being Rained—Some Deductions.

One of the amusements of small boys here is using putty blowers. The modus operandi is as follows: A piece of soft putty is pushed in one end of a long tin tube. The "blower" places his mouth over the end nearest the putty and gives "a puff." The other day on Wall street a putty bullet was shot from one of these tubes with such force that it struck the nose of a merchant reading a newspaper 200 feet distant. In the tropics, natives blow from long, hollow reeds, arrows with metal points, and kill birds at a considerable distance.

There are people who believe that clerks in post-offices know or should know everything. A case in point is that of a man who entered the Uptown post-office one day recently and showed a photograph of his wife to one of the clerks. The man said that his wife had ran away, and he wanted to know if such a woman had been there after letters, and if not to keep a lookout for her, for he was sure "she would call there sooner or later."

A shabbily-dressed man on Union-street this forenoon exhibited a ring, which he said he had found. The woman addressed believed the story and purchased the ring for $3, believing it to be gold. Later on she went to a jewelry store and was told "a bushel of such rings could be bought for a few shillings." It was afterward learned that the man had a pocketful of the rings and had been going from house to house, at the same time pleading poverty.

Whether or not the Downtown Young Men's Christian Association will have a lecture course the coming fall will depend upon the report soon to be made by the Canvassing Committee. If enough tickets are sold to guarantee expenses, then the following entertainments will be given: Leland T. Powers, impersonator; Imperial Quartette, vocal and instrumental, of Boston; Mundell Sisters, vocal quartette; William Cumback, lecture.

The other day an employe on a scow by brickyard saw floating on the Hudson River what appeared to be a brick. He deemed it odd that a brick should float. He secured the object, and saw sure enough, that it was a brick, but it was hollow, which accounted for its buoyancy. It was shaped like a miniature coffin.

Asphalt pavement is growing in favor in cities in this State. It is said to wear well, and is not noisy, like granite. It has been largely used at Buffalo and for certain kinds of traffic is claimed to be better than any other material. There are a few "pieces" of asphalt pavement here.

A man is going about the country soliciting orders to clean gravestones that have become discolored with dirt or mildew. He does the work easily with diluted acid, but the result is the polished surface of the marble is ruined. He may come here.

On Friday evening the Rev. A. K. Fuller will be tendered a farewell reception by the people of the Wurts-Street Baptist Church. Mr. Fuller and family will start for their new home at Sioux Falls, South Dakota, on Tuesday.

An Ulster County farmer who was in town to-day said in certain localities farmers are experiencing difficulty in ploughing. "Too much rain has hardened the ground and earth is turned up in hard cakes."

Adam Conway, aged 14, found a cartridge near the West Shore Railroad on Sunday. He placed it on the track and hit it with a stone. The cartridge exploded and made a bad wound in the boy's left hand.

In Justice Dubois' court yesterday an action was brought against Michael McGee by Patrick Poland for the amount of a bill for board. A judgment of $28 was recovered by the plaintiff.

An Olive man came to town yesterday and traded horses. While "trotting the boys" the horse ran away. The wagon was smashed. The man says he is "out all around" on the deal.

A number of little girls, residing "On-the-Hill," are holding a fair on the lawn in front of the house of Charles M. Preston this afternoon, in aid of the Industrial Home.

Sheriff Dill received information to-day that a horse, carriage and harness had been stolen from East Jewett and a horse and road cart stolen from Poughkeepsie.

Rapid Hose Company's carriage is in the hands of a decorator, who will have it in fine trim for the organization's trip to Newburgh on October 16.

A fish dealer this morning, on being asked to scale a number of small fish said: "I sell scale fish, but do not scale them except when I weigh them."

There were 365 hours of cloudiness during the month of July and only 182 hours of bright sunshine. The rainfall was 9.09 inches.

John McCausland sold to-day the Artemas Allen property in Ponckhockie to John R. Stebbins. Price not made public.

The Trustees of School District No. 2 have issued a call for a special meeting of tax-payers on Friday afternoon.

Pipe for the main of the First Ward sewers was laid across North Front-street to-day. The trench is 16 feet in depth.

C. P. Carter states that there are spots on the sun to-day. One is nearer the pole of the sun than any he has before seen.

RECALLING INDIAN SLAYER QUICK.

A Monument Unveiled at Milford this Afternoon—The Services, Etc.

The event in the celebration of Milford's Centennial to-day was the unveiling of a monument to the memory of Thomas Quick, Senior, who was the first settler in that old Pennsylvania borough. Mr. Quick was killed by the Indians, and his son, another Thomas, whose memory the monument is also intended to perpetuate, avenged his father's death by putting to death 100 Red Skins. The exercises were opened by the Rev. Dr. Mills, of Port-Jervis, President of the Minisink Valley Historical Society. Short addresses were made by the Hon. D. M. VanAuken, J. H. Van Etten, John A. Kipp, the Rev. A. S. Gardiner, Judge Allerton and others. Mrs. John T. Quick, who is 92 years of age, unveiled the monument, and the ceremony was most impressive. The old lady brought with her an ancient Flemish Bible with brass clasps and hinges that the Quick family have had in their possession for many decades. Numerous of "Tom" Quick's encounters with the Indians took place in Sullivan and Ulster counties and many of his descendants and those of his father reside in the south western part of Ulster County at the present time.

THE VICINITY MORTUARY RECORD.

Demise of Principal State Normal School—Other Deaths Noted.

Edward P. Waterbury, LL. D., of Albany, died this morning of a complication of diseases after a short illness, aged 68. He had been Principal of the State Normal School there since 1882, succeeding Dr. Alden. He graduated from the State Normal School in 1849, and held positions in Fredonia Academy and Public School No. 2, Hudson. From 1856 to 1858 he was Professor of English language and literature in the Albany Academy. For 14 years he was a stockholder in and Albany Agent and New York State Attorney for the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company. He received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from the Regents and Doctor of Laws from Union University. He studied law with Judge Theodore Miller. The deceased was a son of the Rev. Daniel Waterbury, and was born in Franklin, N. Y. His father was the founder of the Delaware Literary Institute.

Nicholas H. Schram, once editor of the Newburgh Telegraph, and for many years a leading Free Mason in Newburgh died this morning, aged 54 years.

Frank Mulhare, who lived in the Sawkill neighborhood, died on Tuesday, aged 58 years.

In Recorder's Court.

The number of convictions in Recorder's Court for the month of August up to date is 30, classified as follows: Eight for intoxication, three for petit larceny, three for assault and battery, 12 for disorderly conduct, four for stealing rides on railroads.

The case of one Cornelius Lynch, who was charged with selling a horse, harness, etc., on which there was a mortgage held by the Police Justice of Catskill, has been dismissed. Conrad Hull, the complainant, appeared before the Recorder this forenoon and said the matter had been satisfactorily adjusted.

On complaint of Mrs. Albert Burr, John Ahrens was fined $10 for assault. Paid.

Friendly Society Notes.

A regular conclave of Rondout Commandery, No. 52, K. T., will be held this evening. The order of the Red Cross will be conferred.

Members of Aretas Lodge, I. O. O. F., will hold a meeting this evening.

Deaths from Diphtheria.

A child of John Barnhart, a Delaware & Hudson Canal boatman, died of diphtheria last night on its father's boat near the upper "Island Dock." Another child of Barnhart's died of the disease on the trip from Honesdale. There are several other children on the boat. The Health Inspector, Coroner Carr and Dr. C. W. Crispell made an inspection this forenoon.

A child of Henry Stork, who lives on Union-street, died last night of diphtheria.

Last night a child of John Winter, of Wilbur, died of diphtheria.

"Little Lord Fauntleroy."

At Kingston Opera House on Saturday afternoon and evening "Little Lord Fauntleroy" will be presented. Many people of gentle heart and simple taste will wish to see "Little Lord Fauntleroy" and they will enjoy it. Every mother will like the pretty play. The children will not be satisfied until taken to see it and no father will object to it.

Along the Docks Here.

The whistle of the steamer "City of Kingston" was blown at the mouth of the Rondout Creek at 10:04 o'clock last night.

There arrived at tidewater at Eddyville yesterday 27 Delaware & Hudson Canal boats, laden with 3,600 tons of coal.

The "Portal of Heaven."

A newspaper published at Poughkeepsie, in describing "a wonderful mirage" recently, said "Rondout and Rhinebeck, with the Morton residence in the foreground, looked like the portals of heaven and the Morton residence like the gate of heaven."

Sheep Killed by a Bear.

Many sheep have been killed by a bear near Huntley Hollow, Sullivan County, recently. It was at first supposed that the sheep were killed by dogs.

In the Church Porch.

On account of continued ill-health the Rev. A. W. McGibbon has been obliged to resign the Pastorate of the Wappingers Falls Presbyterian Church.

Fog this Morning.

There was a fog on the Hudson River and Rondout Creek this morning, but it was not so dense that it interfered with navigation.

NEAR-BY SPORTING MATTERS NOTED.

Races on Kingston Driving Park—Tidings of Wheels and Wheelmen.

At the races on Kingston Driving Park on Tuesday afternoon the track was heavy. There were two events. In the trotting race, three-minute class, there were five entries: "Nellie Bly," entered by James Leonard; "Whalebone," by William Ackerman; "Rowdy Boy," by Henry A. Rinsland; "Colonel," by Charles Relyea; "Maud," by H. S. DuBois. Five heats were trotted. The first and second heats were won by "Rowdy Boy." In the third heat "Rowdy Boy" broke at the critical moment near the lower turn. "Maud" took the pole and kept it, winning the heat. "Maud" also won the fourth and fifth heats. Time 2:51, 2:50, 2:50, 2:51, 2:50. The starters in the pacing race were "Jo," entered by Abram Lasher, and "Black Prince," entered by H. S. DuBois. In the first heat "Jo" broke and lost ground. Coming up the home stretch—the second half-mile—there was a struggle between the horses. They came toward the wire for some distance side by side. Just before the Judge's stand was reached "Prince" broke and "Jo" won the heat. In the second heat "Prince" passed "Jo" on the first turn, and was not headed during the heat. The third heat was something of a surprise, for "Prince" was overhauled by "Jo" and beaten. "Jo" thereby winning the race. Time 2:55, 2:50, 2:49½. The races were continued this afternoon.

"One of the best jumpers I ever saw in this City was Depew Davis, who is now in Manitoba," said an old time sporting man to-day. "Another good jumper, who will tackle the best of them to-day is William Rafferty. He is a little fellow, but the springiest one I ever saw. It is a pleasure to see him jump. A young man named Larkin, who considered himself the champion jumper hereabout came down one day to tackle Rafferty. The latter jumped three times, and said, 'Where you beat that I will jump you for money.' Larkin measured the jump, shook his head and walked away."

B. M. Levy, of the Nonpareil Rowing Club, of New-York City, who is rowing from the Metropolis to Albany in a shell-boat, stopped in this City over night. He left town this morning on his trip up the Hudson River.

Horsemen of this City "made money" buying pools on a Michigan horse that trotted at Poughkeepsie recently. The horse is as blind as a bat. It sold for $5 in a pool of $965.

The race track at Rhinebeck is being overhauled. For some time past it has been in poor condition.

WHEELS AND WHEELMEN HEREABOUT.

Three bicyclers recently rode to Marbletown and return. They went up Washington-avenue, crossed the wire bridge into the town of Ulster, took the dirt track along the stone tramway to the "Keator place," turning short to the left, crossed the railroad bridge and followed the mountain road to Marbletown. Upon the return trip they ran through the village of Hurley, thence following the path along the stage road through Mapletown, and so into this City via Hurley and Washington-avenues. They found the track a fair one for a country road until they reached the toll-gate near the Keator farm. Then for a short distance it was somewhat stony and rough. The ridge which rises abruptly from the path along the mountain road is covered with trees and shrubs, over which vines grow in tangled masses and is alive with birds and squirrels. The bicyclers made about eight miles an hour easily.

An old bicycler said to-day that the reason wheelmen are credited with traveling faster on country roads than horses, is that bicyclers ascend an ordinary hill at a good rate of speed, while horses very rarely do other than walk. Bicyclers, as a rule, go rapidly down a hill, while a horse is seldom driven off a walk. Sometimes the road is filled with ruts and mud, which makes slow wagon traveling. In such places a bicycler will look for a dry and smooth path on either side of the road.

Four members of the Riverside Club, of New-York City, will start on Saturday afternoon to ride to this City. They expect to arrive here on Sunday night. Wheelmen from this place will run down to Poughkeepsie and meet the Riverside men.

Literary Notices.

The leading articles in Harper's for September are: "The Religious Movement in Germany," in the August Number. M. Elmood de Pressense throws light upon "The Religious Movement in France." James Lane Allen gives a study in institutional history, entitled "Kentucky Fairs," with illustrations; John Lillie, pictures of a curious phase of English life in "London Mock Parliaments," illustrated by Harry Furniss; and the Rev. John F. Hurst, D.D., an account of "The Oldest and Smallest Sect in the World," visited by him in their home. Theodore Child and T. de Thulstrup, writer and artist, continue their Russian series with impressions of life in "Holy Moscow." A new English poet, Nina F. Layard, contributes "A Legend of the Sky-Watchers," a poem touched with the modern spirit; and Alfred Parsons furnishes two illustrations of Wordsworth's sonnet, "To the Cuckoo." Of the two American serial stories "A Little Journey in the World," by Charles Dudley Warner, is continued, and "Jupiter Lights," by Constance Fenimore Woolson, is concluded.

Scribner's Magazine for September contains the opening chapters of a new serial—an exciting and patriotic romance of Colonial days, by Harold Frederic, the London correspondent of the New-York Times; the last regular article in the successful railway series of 12 papers, which, after thorough revision, are soon to be published in a handsome volume; another of the fishing articles, this time describing the picturesque Nepigon region of Canada; an out-of-door paper by W. Hamilton Gibson, with the author's own illustrations; an end paper by the famous Irish leader, historian and novelist, Justin McCarthy; and other striking papers on literary, educational and military topics by eminent writers, with short stories and poems.

Journalistic.

The Poughkeepsie News-Press copies the following paragraph from a Newburgh exchange:

Miss M. Noonan and Miss May Doherty, of Elmira, are visiting her sister, Miss Doherty, the forelady of Whitehill & Cleveland's, and while here will visit relatives in New-York and Jersey City.

Then the News-Press adds this:

While not wishing to be hypercritical, we want simply to call attention to the fact that to say Miss Mamie Noonan and Miss Mary Doherty are visiting her sister is a most bloody and felonious attack upon the Queen's English. There is no such word as "forelady" nor is "foregentleman" current—unless it may be among Newburgh's 400. Even "washerlady," while it may appeal to the tender sensibilities of some of our most worthy citizens, is not an altogether desirable combination of letters.

After crediting to a Fishkill newspaper the News-Press story of the old clock that hung for a quarter of a century in the coach-house at Ellerslie, a Kingston newspaper says that the clock was made by Godfrey Rahmer.—Poughkeepsie News-Press.

The "Kingston newspaper" referred to is THE FREEMAN. The Fishkill journal printed the story as its own. It originally appeared in the News-Press. THE FREEMAN says let the News-Press have the credit.

Editor Charles A. Dana, of the New-York Sun, is soon to sail to spend a month in Spain.

The Baptists of Southern Ulster.

There is a rumor afloat that an attempt will be made in the near future to organize a Baptist Church in Southern Ulster. In several towns, particularly in Gardiner, Plattekill and Shawangunk, there are many families of the Baptist faith. These people are deprived of attending a church of their own denomination, there being no Baptist Church in that section.

One Voter to a Family.

[From the Massachusetts Official Statistics.]

In Massachusetts at large one voter represents, numerically, 4.39 persons. The average size of the family in Massachusetts in 1885 was 4.58 persons. Numerically, therefore, there is about one voter to a family.

In Favor of Dutchess County.

While Ulster County roads are thick with dust, Dutchess County roads are comparatively free from it.

SUBURBAN HAPPENINGS.

THE NEWS IN 'LONG SHORE AND INLAND COUNTIES.

The Cadets at West Point—A Large Chestnut Crop Looked for—Incendiaries at Hudson and Sneak Thieves at Poughkeepsie—Accidents in Near-by Villages.

A would-be suicide called at a drug store in Hillsdale, Columbia County, one day recently and asked for arsenic. As he made inquiries as to how much would be required to kill a person he received a mixture of cayenne pepper and chalk. The dose diverted his thoughts from suicide.

Mrs. S. E. Way, of the Clove, has the largest sunflower ever seen in Dutchess County. She is striving for a prize of $25 offered by the man from whom she obtained the seed.

The Mayor of Hudson has vetoed a resolution of the Common Council of that City to purchase a farm costing $30,000 for burial purposes.

The cadet camp at West Point will be broken to-morrow forenoon. Regular studies will be resumed on Monday.

Edward Rich, a prominent Odd Fellow of Albany, shot himself five times this morning. He will probably die.

Three "brickvarders" have been arrested at Fishkill Landing for attempted highway robbery.

The first coal train has passed over the Poughkeepsie bridge and has been "photographed."

A petition is being circulated and signed in Catskill to "prevent the paving of Main-street."

A large chestnut crop is expected along the Hudson River this fall.

Sneak thieves are at work in Poughkeepsie.

Incendiaries are again at work in Hudson.

ULSTER COUNTY NOTES.

One of the most notable events in the history of the Sunday Schools of the town of Rochester was the picnic of the Town Association, held on August 21, in a grove near the Reformed Church. The members of 12 schools were present, the entire assemblage being 2,000 persons. The members of the Kripplebush Sunday School headed by the High Falls Cornet Band led the procession of schools from the Rochester Church to the grove. The American flag was carried at the head of the procession by Daniel D. Smith, a war veteran. After refreshments were served, the Rev. Messrs. J. B. Church, W. Scomp and J. Van Kirk made addresses and County Secretary William Smith gave a historical sketch of the Rochester Sunday School which was organized in 1824.

New-Salem is one of the few places of its size in which liquor and beer is not sold.

Stamford.

Sylvester Brinley and John L. Davies, of Brooklyn, were thrown from a wagon on Friday. Mr. Davies sustained internal injuries and a severe cut on his head. Mr. Brinley was badly bruised.

The net proceeds of the bazar held for the benefit of Grace Chapel were $876.

Pack peddlers are numerous.

Mombaccus.

Deputy Schoonmaker met with a serious accident in the Mill Hook grove on Wednesday by the upsetting of his wagon.

SHERIFF'S SALE.—IN PURSUANCE AND BY virtue of executions issued out of the Supreme Court of the State of New-York and to me directed and delivered, against the goods and chattels of John B. Schreiber in my bailiwick, I will sell at public auction, as the law directs, at the Court House, in the City of Kingston, County of Ulster, on Saturday, the 12th day of October, at 12 o'clock noon, of that day, all the right, title and interest of the said John H. Schreiber, and whereof he was seized or possessed on the 6th day of April, 1886, or at any time thereafter, in whose hands soever the same may be of in and to:

All that certain piece or parcel of land situated in Rondout [now City of Kingston,] on the corner of Maple and Stuyvesant-streets, being lot No. 130 as per map of lands of E. B. Newkirk in Rondout, and is bounded as follows: Northerly by lot No. 129 of said Newkirk; easterly by Maple-street; southerly by Stuyvesant-street, and westerly by lot No. 89; said lot being thirty [30] feet front on Maple-street and runs back along Stuyvesant-street, same width one hundred [100] feet to said lot No. 89, being same premises conveyed to John H. Schreiber by Edgar B. Newkirk and wife by deed bearing date November 10, 1873, and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's office December 1, 1873, in Book No. 184 of deeds on page 544. Also also all that certain lot of land situate in Rondout [now City of Kingston], Ulster County, N. Y., in the southerly side of Stuyvesant-street, being lot Number seventy-one and one-half [71½] on a map of lands of Edgar B. Newkirk in Rondout aforesaid, and is bounded as follows: Easterly by lot Number seventy-two, sold to Garret Barry, and lot Number Forty-four and one-half [44½], southerly by lot Number Forty-seven, sold to A. Richenwalt, westerly by lot of William Hayden, and northerly by said Stuyvesant-street, said lot being thirty feet wide, front and rear, and one hundred and forty feet deep; being the same premises which were conveyed by said John H. Schreiber by Jane Larkin and Matthew Larkin, Jr., by deed bearing date May 20, 1882, and recorded in the office of the Clerk of the County of Ulster in Book No. 273 of Deeds at page 288.

Dated August 3, 1889.

Dickens' Works are the most widely read of any novels printed in any language. The popularity of Dickens is ever increasing and every person should own a full set of his works.

Charles Dickens is eminently the novelist of the people. His books teem with shafts of sparkling wit, touches of pathos, thrusts of satire; his characters are original and real as well as quaint and grotesque; he unmasks vice in all its forms. The lights and shadows of life are delineated in a thrilling and dramatic style. To own a complete set of his incomparable books is to be possessed of an inexhaustible store of interesting literature. No person is well read who has not perused them.

The entire 15 volumes will be sent free of express or delivery charges, for only $1.00 to all paid-up subscribers to Daily or Weekly Freeman.

Concerning a Lecture Course—A Runaway—The Jewish New-Year—In Aid of the Industrial Home—A "White Frost"—Certain Streets Being Ruined—Some Deductions.

One of the amusements of small boys here is using putty blowers. The modus operandi is as follows: A piece of soft putty is pushed in one end of a long tin tube. The "blower" places his mouth over the end nearest the putty and gives "a puff." The other day on Wall street a putty bullet was shot from one of these tubes with such force that it struck the nose of a merchant reading a newspaper 200 feet distant. In the tropics, natives blow from long, hollow reeds, arrows with metal points, and kill birds at a considerable distance.

There are people who believe that clerks in post-offices know or should know everything. A case in point is that of a man who entered the Uptown post-office one day recently and showed a photograph of his wife to one of the clerks. The man said that his wife had run away, and he wanted to know if such a woman had been there after letters, and if not to keep a lookout for her, for he was sure "she would call there sooner or later."

A shabbily-dressed man on Union-street this forenoon exhibited a ring, which he said he had found. The woman addressed believed the story and purchased the ring for $3, believing it to be gold. Later on she went to a jewelry store and was told "a bushel of such rings could be bought for a few shillings." It was afterward learned that the man had a pocketful of the rings and had been going from house to house, at the same time pleading poverty.

Whether or not the Downtown Young Men's Christian Association will have a lecture course the coming fall will depend upon the report soon to be made by the Canvassing Committee. If enough tickets are sold to guarantee expenses, then the following entertainments will be given: Leland T. Powers, impersonator; Imperial Quartette, vocal and instrumental, of Boston; Mundell Sisters, vocal quartette; William Cumback, lecture.

The other day an employe on a boat by brickyard saw floating on the Hudson River what appeared to be a brick. He deemed it odd that a brick should float. He secured the object, and saw sure enough, that it was a brick, but it was hollow, which accounted for its buoyancy. It was shaped like a miniature coffin.

Asphalt pavement is growing in favor in cities in this State. It is said to wear well, and is not noisy like granite. It has been largely used at Buffalo and for certain kinds of traffic is claimed to be better than any other material. There are a few "pieces" of asphalt pavement here.

A man is going about the country soliciting orders to clean grave-stones that have become discolored with dirt or mildew. He does the work easily with dilute acid, but the result is the polished surface of the marble is ruined. He may come here.

On Friday evening the Rev. A. K. Fuller will be tendered a farewell reception by the people of the Wurts-street Baptist Church. Mr. Fuller and family will start for their new home at Sioux Falls, South Dakota, on Tuesday.

An Ulster County farmer who was in town to-day said in certain localities farmers are experiencing difficulty in ploughing. "Too much rain has hardened the ground and earth is turned up in hard cakes."

Adam Conway, aged 14, found a cartridge near the West Shore Railroad on Sunday. He placed it on the track and hit it with a stone. The cartridge exploded and made a bad wound in the boy's left hand.

In Justice Dubois' court yesterday an action was brought against Michael McGee by Patrick Poland for the amount of a bill for board. A judgment of $28 was recovered by the plaintiff.

An Olive man came to town yesterday and traded horses. While "resting the boys" the horse ran away. The wagon was smashed. The man says he is "out all around" on the deal.

A number of little girls, residing "On the Hill," are holding a fair on the lawn in front of the house of Charles M. Preston this afternoon, in aid of the Industrial Home.

Sheriff Dill received information to-day that a horse, carriage and harness had been stolen from East Jewett and a horse and road cart stolen from Poughkeepsie.

Rapid Hose Company's carriage is in the hands of a decorator, who will have it in fine trim for the organization's trip to Newburgh on October 16.

A fish dealer this morning on being asked to scale a number of small fish said: "I will scale fish, but do not scale them except when I weigh them."

There were 265 hours of cloudiness during the month of July and only 142 hours of bright sunshine. The rainfall was 9.09 inches.

John McCausland sold to-day the Attemas Allen property in Ponckhockie to John R. Stebbins. Price not made public.

The Trustees of School District No. 3 have issued a call for a special meeting of tax-payers on Friday afternoon.

Pipe for the main of the First Ward sewers was laid across North Front-street to-day. The trench is 16 feet in depth.

C. P. Carter states that there are spots on the sun to-day. One is nearer the pole of the sun than any he has before seen.

The managers of the Dutchess and Ulster Farmers' Club are arranging for a meeting to be held in this City in October.

The State Charities Aid Association will meet at Supreme Court Chambers on September 6.

Judge Stephen L. Maynam will preside over the next Circuit Court to be held in this City.

RECALLING INDIAN SLAYER QUICK.

A Monument Unveiled at Milford this Afternoon—The Services, Etc.

The event in the celebration of Milford's Centennial to-day was the unveiling of a monument to the memory of Thomas Quick, Senior, who was the first settler in that old Pennsylvania borough. Mr. Quick was killed by the Indians, and his son, another Thomas, whose memory the monument is also intended to perpetuate, avenged his father's death by putting to death 100 Red Skins. The exercises were opened by the Rev. Dr. Mills, of Port Jervis, President of the Minisink Valley Historical Society. Short addresses were made by the Hon. D. M. VanAuken, J. H. Van Etten, John A. Kipp, the Rev. A. S. Gardiner, Judge Alfred Allen and others. Mrs. John T. Quick, who is 92 years of age, unveiled the monument, and the ceremony was most impressive. The old lady brought with her an ancient Flemish Bible with iron clasps and hinges that the Quick family have had in their possession for many decades. Numerous of "Tom" Quick's encounters with the Indians took place in Sullivan and Ulster counties and many of his descendants and those of his father reside in the south western part of Ulster County at the present time.

THE VICINITY MORTUARY RECORD.

Demise of Principal State Normal School—Other Deaths Noted.

Edward P. Waterbury, LL. D., of Albany, died this morning of a complication of diseases after a short illness, aged 68. He had been Principal of the State Normal School there since 1862, succeeding Dr. Allen. He graduated from the State Normal School in 1849, and held positions in Fernandoville Academy and Public School No. 3, Hudson. From 1856 to 1858 he was Professor of English language and literature in the Albany Academy. For 14 years he was a stockholder in and Albany Agent and New York State Attorney for the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company. He received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from the Regents and Doctor of Laws from Union University. He studied law with Judge Theodore Miller. The deceased was a son of the Rev. Daniel Waterbury, and was born in Franklin, N. Y. His father was the founder of the Delaware Literary Institute.

Nicholas H. Schram, once editor of the Newburgh Telegraph, and for many years a leading Free Mason in Newburgh died this morning, aged 54 years.

Frank Mulhare, who lived in the Sawkill neighborhood, died on Tuesday, aged 88 years.

In Recorder's Court.

The number of convictions in Recorder's Court for the month of August up to date is 30, classified as follows: Eight for intoxication, three for petit larceny, three for assault and battery, 12 for disorderly conduct, four for stealing rides on railroads.

The case of one Cornelius Lynch, who was charged with selling a horse, harness, etc., on which there was a mortgage held by the Police Justice of Catskill has been dismissed. Conrad Hull, the complainant, appeared before the Recorder this forenoon and said the matter had been satisfactorily adjusted.

On complaint of Mrs. Albert Burr, John Ahrens was fined $10 for assault. Paid.

Friendly Society Notes.

A regular conclave of Rondout Commandery, No. 52, K. T., will be held this evening. The order of the Red Cross will be conferred.

Members of Aretas Lodge I. O. O. F., will hold a meeting this evening.

Deaths from Diphtheria.

A child of John Barnhart, a Delaware & Hudson Canal boatman, died of diphtheria last night on its father's boat near the upper "Island Dock." Another child of Barnhart's died of the disease on the trip from Honesdale. There are several other children on the boat. The Health Inspector, Coroner Carr and Dr. C. W. Crispell made an inspection this forenoon.

A child of Henry Stork, who lives on Union-street, died last night of diphtheria.

Last night a child of John Winter, of Wilbur, died of diphtheria.

"Little Lord Fauntleroy."

At Kingston Opera House on Saturday afternoon and evening "Little Lord Fauntleroy" will be presented. Many people of gentle heart and simple taste will wish to see "Little Lord Fauntleroy" and they will enjoy it. Every mother will like the pretty play. The children will not be satisfied until taken to see it and no father will object to it.

Along the Docks Here.

The whistle of the steamer "City of Kingston" was blown at the mouth of the Rondout Creek at 10:04 o'clock last night.

There arrived at tidewater at Eddyville yesterday 27 Delaware & Hudson Canal boats, laden with 3,600 tons of coal.

The "Portal of Heaven."

A newspaper published at Poughkeepsie, in describing "a wonderful mirage" recently, said "Rondout and Rhinebeck, with the Morton residence in the foreground, looked like the portals of heaven and the Morton residence like the gate of heaven."

Sheep Killed by a Bear.

Many sheep have been killed by a bear near Huntley Hollow, Sullivan County, recently. It was at first supposed that the sheep were killed by dogs.

In the Church Porch.

On account of continued ill-health the Rev. A. W. McGibbon has been obliged to resign the Pastorate of the Wappingers Falls Presbyterian Church.

Fog this Morning.

There was a fog on the Hudson River and Rondout Creek this morning, but it was not so dense that it interfered with navigation.

NEAR-BY SPORTING MATTERS NOTED.

Races on Kingston Driving Park—Tidings of Wheels and Wheelmen.

At the races on Kingston Driving Park on Tuesday afternoon the track was heavy. There were two events. In the trotting race, three-minute class, there were five entries: "Nellie Bly," entered by James Leonard; "Whalebone," by William Ackerman; "Rowdy Boy," by Henry A. Rinsland; "Colonel," by Charles Relyea; "Maud," by H. S. DuBois. Five heats were trotted. The first and second heats were won by "Rowdy Boy." In the third heat "Rowdy Boy" broke at the critical moment near the lower turn. "Maud" took the pole and kept it, winning the heat. "Maud" also won the fourth and fifth heats. Time 2:51, 2:50, 2:50, 2:51, 2:50. The starters in the pacing race were "Jo," entered by Abram Lasher, and "Black Prince," entered by H. S. DuBois. In the first heat "Jo" broke and lost ground. Coming up the home-stretch—the second half-mile—there was a struggle between the horses. They came toward the wire for some distance side by side. Just before the Judge's stand was reached "Prince" broke and "Jo" won the heat. In the second heat "Prince" passed "Jo" on the first turn, and was not headed during the heat. The third heat was something of a surprise, for "Prince" was overhauled by "Jo" and beaten, "Jo" thereby winning the race. Time 2:55, 2:50, 2:49½. The races were continued this afternoon.

"One of the best jumpers I ever saw in this City was Depew Davis, who is now in Manitoba," said an old time sporting man to-day. "Another good jumper, who will tackle the best of them to-day is William Rafferty. He is a little fellow, but the springiest one I ever saw. It is a pleasure to see him jump. A young man named Larkin, who considered himself the champion jumper hereabout came down one day to tackle Rafferty. The latter jumped three times, and said, 'When you beat that I will jump you for money.' Larkin measured the jump, shook his head and walked away."

B. M. Levy, of the Nonpareil Rowing Club, of New-York City, who is rowing from the Metropolis to Albany in a shell-boat, stopped in this City over night. He left town this morning on his trip up the Hudson River.

Horsemen of this City "made money" buying pools on a Michigan horse that trotted at Poughkeepsie recently. The horse is so blind as a bat. It sold for $5 in a pool of $265.

The race track at Rhinebeck is being overhauled. For some time past it has been in poor condition.

WHEELS AND WHEELMEN HEREABOUT.

Three bicyclers recently rode to Marbletown and return. They went up Washington-avenue, crossed the wire bridge into the town of Ulster, took the dirt track along the stone tramway to the "Kenoir place," turning short to the left, crossed the railroad bridge and followed the mountain road to Marbletown. Upon the return trip they ran through the village of Hurley, thence following the path along the stage road through Mapleton, and so into this City via Hurley and Washington-avenues. They found the track a fair one for a country road until they reached the toll-gate near the Kenoir farm. Then for a short distance it was somewhat stony and rough. The ridge which rises abruptly from the path along the mountain road is covered with trees and shrubs, over which vines grow in tangled masses and is alive with birds and squirrels. The bicyclers made about eight miles an hour easily.

An old bicycler said to-day that the reason wheelmen are credited with travelling faster on country roads than horses, is that bicyclers ascend an ordinary hill at a good rate of speed, while horses very rarely do other than walk. Bicyclers, as a rule, go rapidly down a hill, while a horse is seldom driven off a walk. Sometimes the road is filled with ruts and mud, which makes slow wagon traveling. In such places a bicycler will look for a dry and smooth path on either side of the road.

Four members of the Riverside Club, of New-York City, will start on Saturday afternoon to ride to this City. They expect to arrive here on Sunday night. Wheelmen from this place will run down to Poughkeepsie and meet the Riverside men.

Literary Notices.

The leading articles in Harper's for September are: "The Religious Movement in Germany," in the August Number, M. Edmond de Pressense throws light upon "The Religious Movement in France." James Lane Allen gives a study in institutional history, entitled "Kentucky Fairs," with illustrations; John Lillie, pictures of a curious phase of English life in "London Mock Parliaments," illustrated by Harry Furniss; and the Rev. John F. Hurst, D.D., an account of "The Oldest and Smallest Sect in the World," visited by him in their home. Theodore Child and T. de Thulstrup, writer and artist, continue their Russian series with impressions of life in "Holy Moscow." A new English poet, Nina F. Layard, contributes "A Legend of the Sky-Watchers," a poem touched with the modern spirit; and Alfred Parsons furnishes two illustrations of Wordsworth's sonnet, "To the Cuckoo." Of the two American serial stories "A Little Journey in the World," by Charles Dudley Warner, is continued, and "Jupiter Lights," by Constance Fenimore Woolson, is concluded.

Scribner's Magazine for September contains the opening chapters of a new serial—an exciting and patriotic romance of Colonial days, by Harold Frederic, the London correspondent of the New-York Times; the last regular article in the successful railway series of 12 papers, which, after thorough revision, are soon to be published in a handsome volume; another of the fishing articles, this time describing the picturesque Nepigon region of Canada; an out-of-door paper by W. Hamilton Gibson, with the author's own illustrations; an end paper by the famous Irish leader, historian and novelist, Justin McCarthy; and other striking papers on literary, educational and military topics by eminent writers, with short stories and poems.

Journalistic.

The Poughkeepsie News-Press copies the following paragraph from a Newburgh exchange:

Miss M. Noonan and Miss May Doherty, of Elmira, are visiting her sister, Miss Doherty, the foreLady of Whitehill & Cleveland's, and while here will visit relatives in New-York and Jersey City.

Then the News-Press adds this:

While not wishing to be hypercritical, we want simply to call attention to the fact that to say Miss Mamie Noonan and Miss Mary Doherty are visiting her sister is a most bloody and felonious attack upon the Queen's English. There is no such word as "foreLady" nor is "foregentleman" current—unless it may be among Newburgh's 400. Even "washerlady," while it may appeal to the tender sensibilities of some of our most worthy citizens, is not an altogether desirable combination of letters.

After crediting to a Fishkill newspaper the News-Press story of the old clock that hung for a quarter of a century in the wash house at Edgevale, a Kingston newspaper says that the clock was made by Godfrey Rahmer.—Poughkeepsie News-Press.

The "Kingston newspaper" referred to is THE FREEMAN. The Fishkill journal printed the story as its own. It originally appeared in the News-Press. THE FREEMAN says let the News-Press have the credit.

Editor Charles A. Dana, of the New-York Sun, is soon to sail to spend a month in Spain.

The Baptists of Southern Ulster.

There is a rumor afloat that an attempt will be made in the near future to organize a Baptist Church in Southern Ulster. In several towns, particularly in Gardiner, Plattekill and Shawangunk, there are many families of the Baptist faith. These people are deprived of attending a church of their own denomination, there being no Baptist Church in that section.

One Voter to a Family.

[From the Massachusetts Official Statistics.]

In Massachusetts at large one voter represents, numerically, 4.39 persons. The average size of the family in Massachusetts in 1885 was 4.58 persons. Numerically, therefore, there is about one voter to a family.

In Favor of Dutchess County.

While Ulster County roads are thick with dust, Dutchess County roads are comparatively free from it.

SUBURBAN HAPPENINGS.

THE NEWS IN 'LONG SHORE AND INLAND COUNTIES.

The Cadets at West Point—A Large Chestnut Crop Looked for—Incendiaries at Hudson and Sneak Thieves at Poughkeepsie—Accidents in Near-by Villages.

A would-be suicide called at a drug store in Hillsdale, Columbia County, one day recently and asked for arsenic. As he made inquiries as to how much would be required to kill a person he received a mixture of cayenne pepper and chalk. The dose diverted his thoughts from suicide.

Mrs. S. E. Way, of the Clove, has the largest sunflower ever seen in Dutchess County. She is striving for a prize of $25 offered by the man from whom she obtained the seed.

The Mayor of Hudson has vetoed a resolution of the Common Council of that City to purchase a farm costing $30,000 for burial purposes.

The cadet camp at West Point will be broken to-morrow forenoon. Regular studies will be resumed on Monday.

Edward Rich, a prominent Odd Fellow of Albany, shot himself five times this morning. He will probably die.

Three "brickyarders" have been arrested at Fishkill Landing for attempted highway robbery.

The first coal train has passed over the Poughkeepsie bridge and has been "photographed."

A petition is being circulated and signed in Catskill to "prevent the paving of Main-street."

A large chestnut crop is expected along the Hudson River this fall.

Sneak thieves are at work in Poughkeepsie.

Incendiaries are again at work in Hudson.

ULSTER COUNTY NOTES.

One of the most notable events in the history of the Sunday Schools of the town of Rochester was the picnic of the Town Association, held on August 21, in a grove near the Reformed Church. The members of 12 schools were present, the entire assemblage being 2,000 persons. The members of the Kripplebush Sunday School headed by the High Falls Cornet Band led the procession of schools from the Rochester Church to the grove. The American flag was carried at the head of the procession by Daniel D. Smith, a war veteran. After refreshments were served, the Rev. Messrs. J. B. Church, W. Scomp and J. Van Kirk made addresses and County Secretary William Smith gave a historical sketch of the Rochester Sunday School which was organized in 1824.

New-Salem is one of the few places of its size in which liquor and beer is not sold.

Stamford.

Sylvester Brinley and John L. Davies, of Brooklyn, were thrown from a wagon on Friday. Mr. Davies sustained internal injuries and a severe cut on his head. Mr. Brinley was badly bruised.

The net proceeds of the bazar held for the benefit of Grace Chapel were $876.

Pack peddlers are numerous.

Mombaccus.

Deputy Schoonmaker met with a serious accident in the Mill Hook grove on Wednesday by the upsetting of his wagon.

Concerning a Lecture Course—A Runaway—The Jewish New Year—In Aid of the Industrial Home—A "White Frost"—Certain Streets Being Ruined—Some Deductions.

One of the amusements of small boys here is using putty blowers. The modus operandi is as follows: A piece of soft putty is pushed in one end of a long tin tube. The "blower" places his mouth over the end nearest the putty and gives "a puff." The other day on Wall street a putty bullet was shot from one of these tubes with such force that it struck the nose of a merchant reading a newspaper 200 feet distant. In the tropics, natives blow from long, hollow reeds, arrows with metal points, and kill birds at a considerable distance.

There are people who believe that clerks in post-offices know or should know everything. A case in point is that of a man who entered the Uptown post-office one day recently and showed a photograph of his wife to one of the clerks. The man said that his wife had ran away, and he wanted to know if such a woman had been there after letters, and if not to keep a lookout for her, for he was sure "she would call there sooner or later."

A shabbily-dressed man on Union-street this forenoon exhibited a ring, which he said he had found. The woman addressed believed the story and purchased the ring for $3, believing it to be gold. Later on she went to a jewelry store and was told "a bushel of such rings could be bought for a few shillings." It was afterward learned that the man had a pocketful of the rings and had been going from house to house, at the same time pleading poverty.

Whether or not the Downtown Young Men's Christian Association will have a lecture course the coming fall will depend upon the report soon to be made by the Canvassing Committee. If enough tickets are sold to guarantee expenses, then the following entertainments will be given: Leland T. Powers, impersonator; Imperial Quartette, vocal and instrumental, of Boston; Mundell Sisters, vocal quartette; William Cumback, lecture.

The other day an employe on a near-by brickyard saw floating on the Hudson River what appeared to be a brick. He deemed it odd that a brick should float. He secured the object, and saw sure enough that it was a brick, but it was hollow, which accounted for its buoyancy. It was shaped like a miniature coffin.

Asphalt pavement is growing in favor in cities in this State. It is said to wear well, and is not noisy like granite. It has been largely used at Buffalo and for certain kinds of traffic is claimed to be better than any other material. There are a few "pieces" of asphalt pavement here.

A man is going about the country soliciting orders to clean grave-stones that have become discolored with dirt or mildew. He does the work easily with diluted acid, but the result is the polished surface of the marble is ruined. He may come here.

On Friday evening the Rev. A. K. Fuller will be tendered a farewell reception by the people of the Wurts Street Baptist Church. Mr. Fuller and family will start for their new home at Sioux Falls, South Dakota, on Tuesday.

An Ulster County farmer who was in town to-day said in certain localities farmers are experiencing difficulty in ploughing. "Too much rain has hardened the ground and earth is turned up in hard cakes."

Adam Conway, aged 14, found a cartridge near the West Shore Railroad on Sunday. He placed it on the track and hit it with a stone. The cartridge exploded and made a bad wound in the boy's left hand.

In Justice Dubois' court yesterday an action was brought against Michael McGee by Patrick Poland for the amount of a bill for board. A judgment of $28 was recovered by the plaintiff.

An Olive man came to town yesterday and traded horses. While "trestling the boys" the horse ran away. The wagon was smashed. The man says he is "out all around" on the deal.

A number of little girls, residing "On-the-Hill," are holding a fair on the lawn in front of the house of Charles M. Preston this afternoon, in aid of the Industrial Home.

Sheriff Dill received information to-day that a horse, carriage and harness had been stolen from East Jewett and a horse and road cart stolen from Poughkeepsie.

Rapid Hose Company's carriage is in the hands of a decorator, who will have it in fine trim for the organization's trip to Newburgh on October 16.

A fish dealer this morning on being asked to scale a number of small fish said: "I sell scale fish, but do not scale them except when I weigh them."

There were 265 hours of cloudiness during the month of July and only 182 hours of bright sunshine. The rainfall was 9.09 inches.

John McCausland sold to-day the Artemas Allen property in Pouckhockie to John R. Stebbins. Price not made public.

The Trustees of School District No. 3 have issued a call for a special meeting of tax-payers on Friday afternoon.

Pipe for the main of the First Ward sewers was laid across North Front-street to-day. The trench is 16 feet in depth.

C. P. Carter states that there are spots on the sun to-day. One is nearer the pole of the sun than any he has before seen.

The managers of the Dutchess and Ulster Farmers' Club are arranging for a meeting to be held in this City in October.

The State Charities Aid Association will meet at Supreme Court Chambers on September 6.

Judge Stephen L. Mayham will preside over the next Circuit Court to be held in this City.

RECALLING INDIAN SLAYER QUICK.

A Monument Unveiled at Milford this Afternoon—The Services, Etc.

The event in the celebration of Milford's Centennial to-day was the unveiling of a monument to the memory of Thomas Quick, Senior, who was the first settler in that old Pennsylvania borough. Mr. Quick was killed by the Indians, and his son, another Thomas, whose memory the monument is also intended to perpetuate, avenged his father's death by putting to death 100 Red Skins. The exercises were opened by the Rev. Dr. Mills, of Port-Jervis, President of the Minisink Valley Historical Society. Short addresses were made by the Hon. D. M. VanAuken, J. H. Van Etten, John A. Kipp, the Rev. A. S. Gardiner, Judge Allerton and others. Mrs. John T. Quick, who is 92 years of age, unveiled the monument, and the ceremony was most impressive. The old lady brought with her an ancient Flemish Bible with iron clasps and hinges that the Quick family have had in their possession for many decades. Numerous of "Tom" Quick's encounters with the Indians took place in Sullivan and Ulster counties and many of his descendants and those of his father reside in the south western part of Ulster County at the present time.

THE VICINITY MORTUARY RECORD.

Demise of Principal State Normal School—Other Deaths Noted.

Edward P. Waterbury, LL. D., of Albany, died this morning of a complication of diseases, after a short illness, aged 68. He had been Principal of the State Normal School there since 1882, succeeding Dr. Alden. He graduated from the State Normal School in 1849, and held positions in Fergusonville Academy and Public School No. 3, Hudson. From 1856 to 1858 he was Professor of English language and literature in the Albany Academy. For 14 years he was a stockholder in and Albany Agent and New York State Attorney for the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company. He received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from the Regents and Doctor of Laws from Union University. He studied law with Judge Theodore Miller. The deceased was a son of the Rev. Daniel Waterbury, and was born in Franklin, N. Y. His father was the founder of the Delaware Literary Institute.

Nicholas H. Schram, once editor of the Newburgh Telegraph, and for many years a leading Free Mason in Newburgh died this morning, aged 54 years.

Frank Mulhare, who lived in the Sawkill neighborhood, died on Tuesday, aged 88 years.

In Recorder's Court.

The number of convictions in Recorder's Court for the month of August up to date is 30, classified as follows: Eight for intoxication, three for petit larceny, three for assault and battery, 12 for disorderly conduct, four for stealing rides on railroads.

The case of one Cornelius Lynch, who was charged with selling a horse, harness, etc., on which there was a mortgage held by the Police Justice of Catskill, has been dismissed. Conrad Hull, the complainant, appeared before the Recorder this forenoon and said the matter had been satisfactorily adjusted.

On complaint of Mrs. Albert Burr, John Abrens was fined $10 for assault. Paid.

Friendly Society Notes.

The Grand Lodge of Good Templars of the State of New-York is in session at Cortland. Delegate present from Rondout Lodge, No. 730, G. R. Adams; Ulster County Lodge, P. A. Schryver, of Port-Ewen.

This evening the members of Ulster Lodge of Odd Fellows of Saugerties will make a fraternal visit to United German Lodge, of this City.

A regular conclave of Rondout Commandery, No. 52, K. T., will be held this evening. The order of the Red Cross will be conferred.

Members of Aretas Lodge, I. O. O. F., will hold a meeting this evening.

Deaths from Diphtheria.

A child of John Barnhart, a Delaware & Hudson Canal boatman, died of diphtheria last night on its father's boat near the upper "Island Dock." Another child of Barnhart's died of the disease on the trip from Honesdale. There are several other children on the boat. The Health Inspector, Coroner Carr and Dr. C. W. Crispell made an inspection this forenoon.

A child of Henry Stork, who lives on Union-street, died last night of diphtheria.

Last night a child of John Winter, of Wilbur, died of diphtheria.

"Little Lord Fauntleroy."

At Kingston Opera House on Saturday afternoon and evening "Little Lord Fauntleroy" will be presented. Many people of gentle heart and simple taste will wish to see "Little Lord Fauntleroy" and they will enjoy it. Every mother will like the pretty play. The children will not be satisfied until taken to see it and no father will object to it.

Along the Docks Here.

The whistle of the steamer "City of Kingston" was blown at the mouth of the Rondout Creek at 10:04 o'clock last night.

There arrived at tidewater at Eddyville yesterday 27 Delaware & Hudson Canal boats, laden with 3,600 tons of coal.

The "Portal of Heaven."

A newspaper published at Poughkeepsie, in describing "a wonderful mirage" recently, said "Rondout and Rhinebeck, with the Morton residence in the foreground, looked like the portals of heaven and the Morton residence like the gate of heaven."

Sheep Killed by a Bear.

Many sheep have been killed by a bear near Huntley Hollow, Sullivan County, recently. It was at first supposed that the sheep were killed by dogs.

In the Church Porch.

On account of continued ill-health the Rev. A. W. McGibbon has been obliged to resign the Pastorate of the Wappingers Falls Presbyterian Church.

Fog this Morning.

There was a fog on the Hudson River and Rondout Creek this morning, but it was not so dense that it interfered with navigation.

NEAR-BY SPORTING MATTERS NOTED.

Races on Kingston Driving Park—Tidings of Wheels and Wheelmen.

At the races on Kingston Driving Park on Tuesday afternoon the track was heavy. There were two events. In the trotting race, three-minute class, there were five entries: "Nellie Bly," entered by James Leonard; "Whalebone," by William Ackerman; "Rowdy Boy," by Henry A. Rinsland; "Colonel," by Charles Relyea; "Maud," by H. S. DuBois. Five heats were trotted. The first and second heats were won by "Rowdy Boy." In the third heat "Rowdy Boy" broke at the critical moment near the lower turn. "Maud" took the pole and kept it, winning the heat. "Maud" also won the fourth and fifth heats. Time 2:51, 2:50, 2:50, 2:51, 2:50. The starters in the pacing race were "Jo," entered by Abram Lasher, and "Black Prince," entered by H. S. DuBois. In the first heat "Jo" broke and lost ground. Coming up the home-stretch—the second half-mile—there was a struggle between the horses. They came toward the wire for some distance side by side. Just before the Judge's stand was reached "Prince" broke and "Jo" won the heat. In the second heat "Prince" passed "Jo" on the first turn, and was not headed during the heat. The third heat was something of a surprise, for "Prince" was overhauled by "Jo" and beaten, "Jo" thereby winning the race. Time 2:35, 2:30, 2:42½. The races were continued this afternoon.

"One of the best jumpers I ever saw in this City was Depew Davis, who is now in Manitoba," said an old time sporting man to-day. "Another good jumper, who will tackle the best of them to-day is William Rafferty. He is a little fellow, but the springiest one I ever saw. It is a pleasure to see him jump. A young man named Larkin, who considered himself the champion jumper hereabout came down one day to tackle Rafferty. The latter jumped three times, and said, 'When you beat that I will jump you for money.' Larkin measured the jump, shook his head and walked away."

B. M. Levy, of the Nonpareil Rowing Club, of New-York City, who is rowing from the Metropolis to Albany in a shell-boat, stopped in this City over night. He left town this morning on his trip up the Hudson River.

Horsemen of this City "made money" buying pools on a Michigan horse that trotted at Poughkeepsie recently. The horse is as blind as a bat. It sold for $5 in a pool of $265.

The race track at Rhinebeck is being overhauled. For some time past it has been in poor condition.

WHEELS AND WHEELMEN HEREABOUT.

Three bicyclers recently rode to Marbletown and return. They went up Washington-avenue, crossed the wire bridge into the town of Ulster, took the dirt track along the stone tramway to the "Kenoe place," turning short to the left, crossed the railroad bridge and followed the mountain road to Marbletown. Upon the return trip they ran through the village of Hurley, thence following the path along the stage road through Mapleton, and so into this City via Hurley and Washington-avenues. They found the track a fair one for a country road until they reached the toll-gate near the Keator farm. Then for a short distance it was somewhat stony and rough. The ridge which rises abruptly from the path along the mountain road is covered with trees and shrubs, over which vines grow in tangled masses and is alive with birds and squirrels. The bicyclers made about eight miles an hour easily.

An old bicycler said to-day that the reason wheelmen are credited with traveling faster on country roads than horses, is that bicyclers ascend an ordinary hill at a good rate of speed, while horses very rarely do other than walk. Bicyclers, as a rule, go rapidly down a hill, while a horse is seldom driven off a walk, sometimes the road is filled with ruts and mud, which makes slow wagon traveling. In such places a bicycler will look for a dry and smooth path on either side of the road.

Four members of the Riverside Club, of New-York City, will start on Saturday afternoon to ride to this City. They expect to arrive here on Sunday night. Wheelmen from this place will run down to Poughkeepsie and meet the Riverside men.

Literary Notices.

The leading articles in Harper's for September are: "The Religious Movement in Germany," in the August Number, M. Edmond de Pressense throws light upon "The Religious Movement in France." James Lane Allen gives a study in institutional history, entitled "Kentucky Fairs," with illustrations; John Lillie, pictures of a curious phase of English life in "London Mock Parliaments," illustrated by Harry Furniss; and the Rev. John F. Hurst, D.D., an account of "The Oldest and Smallest Sect in the World," visited by him in their home. Theodore Child and T. de Thulstrup, writer and artist, continue their Russian series with impressions of life in "Holy Moscow." A new English poet, Nina F. Layard, contributes "A Legend of the Sky-Watchers," a poem touched with the modern spirit; and Alfred Parsons furnishes two illustrations of Wordsworth's sonnet, "To the Cuckoo." Of the two American serial stories "A Little Journey in the World," by Charles Dudley Warner, is continued, and "Jupiter Lights," by Constance Fenimore Woolson, is concluded.

Scribner's Magazine for September contains the opening chapters of a new serial—an exciting and patriotic romance of Colonial days, by Harold Frederic, the London correspondent of the New-York Times; the last regular article in the successful railway series of 12 papers, which, after thorough revision, are soon to be published in a handsome volume; another of the fishing articles, this time describing the picturesque Nepigon region of Canada; an out-of-door paper by W. Hamilton Gibson, with the author's own illustrations; an end paper by the famous Irish leader, historian and novelist, Justin McCarthy; and other striking papers on literary, educational and military topics by eminent writers, with short stories and poems.

Journalistic.

The Poughkeepsie News-Press copies the following paragraph from a Newburgh exchange:

Miss M. Noonan and Miss May Doherty, of Elmira, are visiting her sister, Miss Doherty, the forelady of Whitehill & Cleveland's, and while here will visit relatives in New-York and Jersey City.

Then the News-Press adds this:

While not wishing to be hypercritical, we want simply to call attention to the fact that to say Miss Mamie Noonan and Miss Mary Doherty are visiting her sister is a most bloody and felonious attack upon the Queen's English. There is no such word as "foreladyess" nor is "foregentleman" current—unless it may be among Newburgh's 400. Even "washeriady," while it may appeal to the tender sensibilities of some of our most worthy citizens, is not an altogether desirable combination of letters.

After crediting to a Fishkill newspaper the News-Press story of the old clock that hung for a quarter of a century in the coach-house at Edgerly, a Kingston newspaper says that the clock was made by Godfrey Rahmer.—Poughkeepsie News-Press.

The "Kingston newspaper" referred to is THE FREEMAN. The Fishkill journal printed the story as its own. It originally appeared in the News-Press. THE FREEMAN says let the News Press have the credit.

Editor Charles A. Dana, of the New-York Sun, is soon to sail to spend a month in Spain.

The Baptists of Southern Ulster.

There is a rumor afloat that an attempt will be made in the near future to organize a Baptist Church in Southern Ulster. In several towns, particularly in Gardiner, Plattekill and Shawangunk, there are many families of the Baptist faith. These people are deprived of attending a church of their own denomination, there being no Baptist Church in that section.

One Voter to a Family.

[From the Massachusetts Official Statistics.]

In Massachusetts at large one voter represents, numerically, 4.39 persons. The average size of the family in Massachusetts in 1885 was 4.58 persons. Numerically, therefore, there is about one voter to a family.

The Cadets at West Point—A Large Chestnut Crop Looked for—Incendiaries at Hudson and Sneak Thieves at Poughkeepsie—Accidents in Near-by Villages.

A would-be suicide called at a drug store in Hillsdale, Columbia County, one day recently and asked for arsenic. As he made inquiries as to how much would be required to kill a person he received a mixture of cayenne pepper and chalk. The dose diverted his thoughts from suicide.

Mrs. S. E. Way, of the Clove, has the largest sunflower ever seen in Dutchess County. She is striving for a prize of $25 offered by the man from whom she obtained the seed.

The Mayor of Hudson has vetoed a resolution of the Common Council of that City to purchase a farm costing $30,000 for burial purposes.

The cadet camp at West Point will be broken to-morrow forenoon. Regular studies will be resumed on Monday.

Edward Rich, a prominent Odd Fellow of Albany, shot himself five times this morning. He will probably die.

Three "brickyarders" have been arrested at Fishkill Landing for attempted highway robbery.

The first coal train has passed over the Poughkeepsie bridge and has been "photographed."

A petition is being circulated and signed in Catskill to "prevent the paving of Main-street."

A large chestnut crop is expected along the Hudson River this fall.

Sneak thieves are at work in Poughkeepsie.

Incendiaries are again at work in Hudson.

ULSTER COUNTY NOTES.

One of the most notable events in the history of the Sunday Schools of the town of Rochester was the picnic of the Town Association, held on August 21, in a grove near the Reformed Church. The members of 12 schools were present, the entire assemblage being 2,000 persons. The members of the Kripplebush Sunday School headed by the High Falls Cornet Band led the procession of schools from the Rochester Church to the grove. The American flag was carried at the head of the procession by Daniel D. Smith, a war veteran. After refreshments were served, the Rev. Messrs. J. B. Church, W. Stoomp and J. Van Kirk made addresses and County Secretary William Smith gave a historical sketch of the Rochester Sunday School which was organized in 1824.

New-Salem is one of the few places of its size in which liquor and beer is not sold.

Stamford.

Sylvester Brinley and John L. Davies, of Brooklyn, were thrown from a wagon on Friday. Mr. Davies sustained internal injuries and a severe cut on his head. Mr. Brinley was badly bruised.

The net proceeds of the bazar held for the benefit of Grace Chapel were $876.

Dickens' Works are the most widely read of any novels printed in any language. The popularity of Dickens is ever increasing and every person should own a full set of his works.

Charles Dickens is eminently the novelist of the people. His books teem with sheafs of sparkling wit, touches of pathos, thrusts of satire; his characters are original and real as well as quaint and grotesque; he unmasks vice in all its forms. The lights and shadows of life are delineated in a thrilling and dramatic style. To own a complete set of his incomparable books is to be possessed of an inexhaustible mine of interesting literature. No person is well read who has not perused them.

The entire 15 volumes will be sent free of express or delivery charges, for only $1.00 to all paid-up subscribers to Daily or Weekly Freeman.
